When Hamilton County voters approved a half-cent tax increase on March 19, 1996, the first step was taken to ensure that the Cincinnati Reds would have a new ballpark to call home in the near future. After approving the "wedge" site - the spot between Cinergy Field and U.S. Bank Arena - as the ballpark's home on July 1, 1998, the Reds and the county continued working towards finalizing an agreement on the terms of the ballpark lease.

After a series of negotiations, the Reds and the county signed a 30-year lease on May 21, 1999. The county agreed to pay $280 million towards the building of the ballpark, while the Reds agreed to contribute $30 million directly to ballpark costs. In addition, the Reds will pay $2.5 million per year in rent for the first nine years and $1 million each year for the final 21 years of the lease. The Reds also reached an agreement in July 2000 with Great American Insurance to purchase the naming rights for the ballpark, a deal paying $75 million over 30 years and giving birth to the name Great American Ball Park.

Even though ballpark projects have consistently been over budget in recent times, the Reds were committed to keeping the ballpark construction in line with their agreement and took measures to contain costs throughout the process. In addition, the Reds agreed to be responsible for any costs above the $280 million contribution by the county, whereas many other local governments have been left to pay overrun costs on other stadium projects throughout the country.

Despite the cost of the new ballpark, and its responsibility for budget overruns, the Reds have made sure that these monetary issues will not affect ticket prices for fans in Cincinnati, where ticket prices have always been among the most fan-friendly in all of Major League Baseball. The Reds decided to price 90 percent of tickets at $30 or less, in most cases keeping prices the same as they were for comparable seats at Cinergy. The popular "Top Six" Red Level seats at Cinergy Field were a bargain at $5, and Great American Ball Park's Outer View Level seats will carry an identical price tag.

As for the ballpark itself, the Reds combined a sense of history with updated amenities and features.

The outfield measurements, particularly, take on a special significance for longtime fans. The left-field fence stands at 328 feet from home plate with a 12-foot wall - the exact measurements that were found at Crosley Field. In center field, the distance measures 404 feet with an 8-foot wall - the traditional measurement in straight-away center at Riverfront/Cinergy Field prior to its modifications for the 2001 season. Left-handed hitters will enjoy a shorter porch in right field, where the distance is 325 feet with an 8-foot wall - the shortest distance allowed by Major League Baseball without raising the wall.

In addition to the playing-field dimensions, other aspects of Great American Ball Park will incorporate the Reds past to give the ballpark a historic feel and appearance. Crosley Terrace will serve as the main entrance to the ballpark with landscaped grass areas similar to those found at Crosley Field, as well as bronze statues of Crosley-era greats Ted Kluszewski, Joe Nuxhall, Ernie Lombardi and Frank Robinson. Also near the ballpark's main entrance will be a Rose Garden with a special marker in the center noting the spot where Pete Rose's record-breaking hit 4,192 landed.

The light towers installed at Great American Ball Park are called "Toothbrush Light Towers" because their obvious shape. Longtime fans will notice the resemblance to the towers that stood at Crosley Field.

Also, Hussey Seating's notoriously comfortable and durable "Legend" model seats, designed to look like those in Crosley, will be featured in 95 percent of the ballpark. The club seats at Great American Ball Park will also be upholstered with a 2-inch padding. Behind home plate, scout seats will be fully upholstered, much like seats in a movie theater.

Other nods to the past can be found throughout the ballpark, including a replica of the famous Longines Clock from Crosley Field on the scoreboard, sun/moon deck seating in right field and several large pieces of artwork located throughout the facility to honor America's pastime and its place in Cincinnati's history. The most prominent piece of art is a 50-foot-by-20-foot "Spirit of Baseball" limestone relief located along the west side of the Reds administration building. It portrays a young boy in baseball gear along with three ballplayers, with the Cincinnati skyline in the background.

Great American Ball Park is the to feature natural grass grown within a synthetic carpet. The sod was custom grown in Brookville, Ind., where it was patented, stabilized and grown on plastic micromesh, which produces a more durable, heavy grass matting.

The Reds also give credit to their fans for contributing to the creation of the ballpark. Making up part of the Crosley Terrace walkway are more than 7,000 brick pavers measuring 4"x8" and 8"x8" that were purchased by the public and inscribed with their own personal messages. Fans also voted on the four Crosley statues by casting ballots at Cinergy Field and via the Internet.

The Reds new ballpark will undoubtedly become a jewel of the riverfront and an anchor of the Cincinnati skyline, thanks to the support of the Greater Cincinnati community and baseball's greatest fans.

Cincinnati Nicknames Over the Years

The Cincinnati franchise began play in 1869 as the Red Stockings due, not surprisingly, to the color of their game hosiery. The club has undergone a few name changes over the years, first shortening the name to Reds, then briefly during the 1950s, being known as the Redlegs.

Opinions vary as to exactly when "Red Stockings" became shortened to just "Reds," but team histories refer to the club as Reds when the National League was founded in 1876, and by 1882 the more formal Red Stockings name was no longer in favor. In fact, instead of "Red Stockings," fans of that era might have been more likely to refer to the Cincinnati team as the "Porkopolitans," a reference to the city's (and the club hierarchy's) interest in the meat-packing industry.

During the 1950s, the era of Joseph McCarthy and the Red scare, the term "Red" was seen in a very different light. Thus during the seasons of 1953-58, the Cincinnati ballclub was called the Redlegs, so as not to give any appearance of an affiliation with Communism.

Carl H. Lindner

chief executive officer

Relationship between Prince Hall Affiliation and the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction.

The Hebrew Union College awarded Mr. Lindner the Jewish Institute of Religion Interfaith Award in Carl H. Lindner initially became a partner in the Reds in 1981 and was appointed chief executive officer on Oct. 1, 1999.

Mr. Lindner's family founded United Dairy Farmers in 1940 as a single storefront selling dairy products. The family's first day's sales amounted to $8.28.

Today, Mr. Lindner is chairman of the board, chief executive officer, founder and principal shareholder of American Financial Group Inc.

American Financial is a diversified financial holding company principally engaged in property, casualty and life insurance. Mr. Lindner also has a major interest and is the largest shareholder of Provident Financial Group.

The combined assets of the two companies total $35 billion.

Mr. Lindner's activities include memberships in the Alfalfa Club of Washington D.C., the board of advisors to the College of Business Administration of the University of Cincinnati, the Commercial Club of Cincinnati, the board of trustees of the Cincinnati Fine Arts Institute, the board of overseers of the Cincinnati Symphony and the Citizens for a Better Cincinnati. He also has served for a number of years as finance chairman of the Kenwood Baptist Church and as a member of the board of directors of the Drake Planetarium.

Mr. Lindner served on the founding board of directors for the Kennedy Center and has long been a supporter of the Ford Theatre.

Mr. Lindner was awarded the Golden Plate Award by the American Academy of Achievement in 1978. He is a 33rd-degree mason and a recipient of the Van Rensselaer Medal, only the 14th person ever to have been awarded this prestigious honor. In 1998 Mr. Lindner was the recipient of the Gourgass Medal, the most distinguished honor conferred by the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite awarded "in recognition of notably distinguished service in the cause of Freemasonry, country or humanity." In May 1999 Mr. Lindner received the Good of the Rite Award for services rendered in inter-fraternal Masonic October 1989, and in May 1995 he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters. In April 1995 the Jewish National Fund presented Mr. Lindner with the International Peace Award, the highest international honor and award given by the Jewish National Fund. He was named Man of the Year of the United Jewish Appeal in 1978 and was an honoree in 1984, and he was recognized by the National Jewish Hospital in 1980. Mr. Lindner is the country's largest non-Jewish contributor to Jewish causes.

In 1985 the Friars Club presented Mr. Lindner with its Centennial Award. In 1992, in cooperation with the Cincinnati Historical Society, Mr. Lindner was inducted into the Greater Cincinnati Business Hall of Fame by the Junior Achievement of Greater presented the Silver Beaver Award to him. In 1997 Mr. Lindner was presented the Heritage Award by the Urban League of Greater Cincinnati and was named a "Beacon of Light Humanitarian" by Lighthouse Youth Services.

In May 1999 the degree of doctor of humane laws was conferred upon Mr. Lindner by the Moscow Theological Seminary and Northern Baptist Theological Seminary. Mr. Lindner also received an honorary doctorate from Judson College in 1983 and the honorary degree of doctor of humanities from Xavier University in May 1991.

The College of Business Administration at the University of Cincinnati is housed in Carl H. Lindner Hall, and in 1985 the school established the Carl H. Lindner Annual Medal for Outstanding Business Achievement. In the fall of 1997, the UC College of Business Administration announced the naming of its new honors program the Carl H. Lindner Honors-Plus Program.

In 1991 Xavier University dedicated the Carl H. Lindner Family Physics Building, which completed its Science Center. Mr. Lindner was the recipient of the Lincoln Award in April 1993, presented by Northern Kentucky University. Carl and his wife, Edyth, also are the major benefactors of Cincinnati Hills Christian Academy and the Otto Armleder Memorial Education Center, schools founded by their sons.

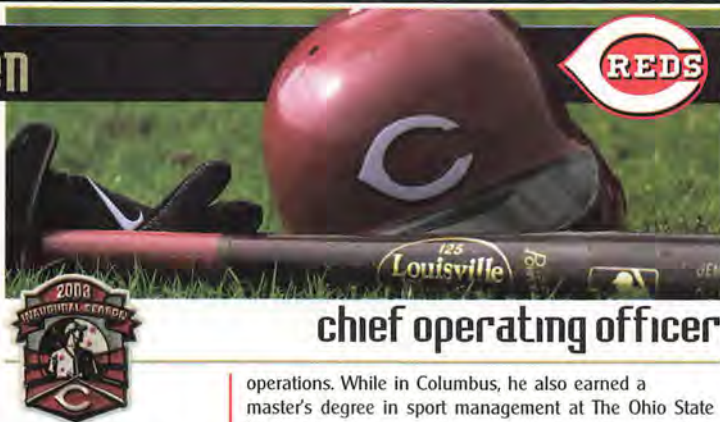

The Cincinnati Zoo is proud of its Carl H. Lindner Jr. Family Center for Reproduction of Endangered Wildlife, as is the Museum Center with its Carl and Edyth Lindner Ice Age Exhibit, The Health Alliance of Cincinnati with the Carl & Edyth Lindner Center for Clinical Cardiovascular Research Center, the Scottish Rite with the Carl & Edyth Lindner Learning Center, Sawyer Point with its Carl H. Lindner Family Tennis Pavilion and the city of Norwood with Lindner Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindner have three sons who work together daily as partners in their various business interests. Mr. Lindner is a member of the Baptist Church.

John L. Allen

chief operating officer

John L. Allen was named chief operating officer on Oct. 1, 1999, following the purchase of a majority of the Reds shares by a group of limited partners led by Carl H. Lindner.

On June 12, 1996, Mr. Allen was named "interim" managing executive when Reds president and CEO Marge Schott relinquished her day-to-day control of the team, per an agreement with Major League Baseball. He was named managing executive on Aug. 9, 1996. Mr. Allen originally joined the organization in May 1995 as controller.

In January 1997, John spearheaded an effort to create Redsfest, a fan festival at the Convention Center downtown that has given fans in the Cincinnati community an opportunity to enjoy close interaction with the Reds organization. Redsfest quickly became a Cincinnati winter tradition. More than 60,000 fans have enjoyed the event, which includes autograph and photograph opportunities with former and present Reds players, question and answer panels, clinics and the chance to view Reds memorabilia.

Mr. Allen has "put the focus back onto the playing field" rather than on the Reds front office or on the business side of baseball. His agenda has included such fan-friendly activities as increased player contact for fans, the annual winter caravan, season-ticket-holder luncheons and ticket discounts, "Stand By Your Red" and "Run the Bases."

John has been involved in all aspects of the development of Great American Ball Park. This includes the sales tax issue in the fall of 1995, lease negotiations, Issue 11 for the location of the ballpark and countless hours of design and construction meetings.

Under Mr. Allen's tutelage, special efforts have been made to recognize the organization's rich history. Replicas of the retired jerseys of Fred Hutchinson and Johnny Bench were displayed for the first time in a special ceremony on Sept. 1, 1996. During the 1998 season, the organization retired the jerseys of Joe Morgan, Frank Robinson, and Ted Kluszewski. In 2000, the uniform No. 24 of Tony Perez joined that group. Last season Don Gullett and Bid McPhee were enshrined in the Reds Hall of Fame.

John began his baseball career in 1990 as an intern with the Columbus Clippers, the Class-AAA Minor League affiliate of the New York Yankees, and was subsequently named the club's director of business operations. While with the Clippers, he performed a wide variety of duties in addition to overseeing business operations. While in Columbus, he also earned a master's degree in sport management at The Ohio State University.

John was born in Norton, Kan., and graduated from Norton Community High School, where he participated in baseball, football, basketball and track. He served in Vietnam, where he was wounded in action and decorated for his efforts. Following active duty, he attended college on the G.I. Bill and in 1974 earned his undergraduate degree at Kansas State University. John currently serves on the Finance Advisory Board at Kansas State.

Before he entered the baseball industry, Mr. Allen worked with the accounting firm of Arthur Andersen in Kansas City, Mo., and also with GRA, Inc. of Merriam, Kan., where he was a partner and senior vice president.

Mr. Allen has been honored with the Certificate of Friendship from the Cincinnati Human Relations Commission and the Community Service Award from the Talbert House. Cincinnati Magazine also has honored him in its annual "Best of Cincinnati" issue.

He is a lifetime member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans organizations. He also serves on the board of directors of the Cincinnati Reds Community Fund, Advisory Board to Northern Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, Greater Cincinnati Convention and Visitors Bureau, the Dan Beard Council of the Boy Scouts of America, MLB Enterprises, Inc. and serves on the Kid Glove Committee. In 2000, John was the honorary game chairman for the Kid Glove Game at Cinergy Field. He also serves on the advisory board for the Cincinnati chapter of Operation Smile.

John and his wife, Anna, reside in Park Hills, Ky. John has a son, Christopher, and a daughter, Sarah.

Jim Bowden

general manager

The 2003 season is Jim Bowden's 11th as general manager of the Reds, the second-longest active tenure of any GM in Major League Baseball.

Bowden (pronounced "BOE-den") made history on Oct. 16, 1992, when, at age 31, he became the youngest GM of a Major League Baseball franchise. During this time, Bowden has amassed 783 victories, trailing only John Schuerholz (952 with the Braves) and John Hart (866 with the Rangers and Indians).

Considered one of the brightest and most innovative minds in the game today, Bowden has been able to build a consistently strong Major League club. Under his guidance, the Reds have won two National League Central Division titles (1994, 1995) and appeared in the National League Championship Series in 1995.

Following the 1999 season, in which the Reds finished 96-67, their highest season victory total since 1976, Bowden was named Executive of the Year by Baseball America, as well as the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writer's Association of America, Mike Mittleman of Stats, Inc., and the Touchdown Club of Columbus. He was also named the National League's Executive of the Year by national baseball writer Jon Heyman of Newsday. His accomplishments during the 1999 season prompted USA Today Baseball Weekly's Bob Nightengale to write, "Jim Bowden is the best wheeler-dealer in the business."

Bowden has overseen the strengthening of the team's scouting and player development departments, which are among the best in baseball. Prior to the 2001 season, the Reds Minor League system was ranked by Baseball America as the third best in baseball. Outfielders Adam Dunn and Austin Kearns, now considered cornerstones of the Reds future, are products of that system.

One of Bowden's greatest strengths as a general manager is his willingness to give opportunities to players that have been overlooked by other teams. Ron Gant (1995), Eric Davis (1996) and Jose Rijo (2002) all were named Comeback Player of the Year, and Pete Harnisch was a finalist in 1998.

In 1996 Bowden signed Jeff Brantley, who had been released, and was rewarded as Brantley went on to win the NL Rolaids Relief Man Award. Remarkably, the feat was duplicated a year later; Jeff Shaw, who had been signed to a Minor League contract in 1996, replaced Brantley and also went on to win the NL's Rolaids Relief Man Award. Besides spotting unseen talent, Bowden is recognized for his daring approach to player procurement. In 1995 key trades for Mark Portugal and David Wells helped propel the Reds to the postseason, but perhaps the best example of his approach is the improbable blockbuster trade that brought Ken Griffey Jr. to Cincinnati.

As the Reds begin a new era at Great American Ball Park, they will do so with a solid core of young talent that Bowden has assembled, a core that includes Dunn, Kearns, Aaron Boone, Felipe Lopez and Wily Mo Pena, as well as Griffey and pitchers Danny Graves and Scott Williamson.

Bowden began his baseball career as an intern with the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1984. He was the club's assistant director of player development and scouting from 1985-'88, then moved to the Yankees in 1989, where he spent one year as assistant to the senior vice president for baseball operations. In 1990 he joined the Reds as an administrative assistant for scouting and player development, before being promoted to director of player development in August 1991. After he was named general manager in 1992, he temporarily assumed the duties of team president and CEO during managing partner Marge Schott's absence from the club.

A native of Weston, Mass., and Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Bowden was born May 18, 1961. He is a 1979 graduate of Weston (Mass.) High School, and received a bachelor's degree in business administration/communication from Rollins College in 1983. In 1993 he received Rollins' Young Alumnus Special Achievement Award. In 1999 he was inducted into the Rollins College Sports Hall of Fame and was the 17th recipient of the school's Athletic Achievement Award.

Bowden has five sons, J.B. (3/10/87), Tyler (7/7/91), Chad (2/17/94), and identical twins Trey and Chase (10/20/98).

Bowden's 11 consecutive seasons with the Reds represent the second-longest active tenure of any General Manager in the Major Leagues.

Brad Kullman

assistant general manager

One of the most enterprising young executives in the game today, Brad Kullman has quickly built a reputation as an innovator who gets things done with a commitment to excellence.

He assists the general manager in all areas of Major League operations, including the day-to-day operations of the big-league club, player trades, free-agent acquisitions, contract negotiations, arbitration preparation and rules interpretation.

He also is in charge of supervising and monitoring the flow of information throughout baseball operations, ensuring smooth communication between scouting, player development and the Major League departments.

Kullman, 36, was promoted to assistant general manager/baseball operations in March 2002 and to his current position following the 2002 season.

Never afraid to look at things from a different angle, or to think "outside of the box," he supervises the organization's scientific study of all player performance and training programs and the exploration of all possible innovative enhancements while overseeing the Reds research and development efforts.

Under Brad's guidance and encouragement, the Reds have ventured into new territory in the areas of statistical research, brain function and its relation to motor skills and injury "prehab" and prevention, among others.

Entering his 14th year in baseball in 2003 and ninth with the Reds, Kullman has been responsible for implementing one of the most comprehensive scouting and player development computer systems in baseball. Prior to the 1998 season, he oversaw the conversion of the Reds paper-based scouting information system to a computer-based operation in which all scouts were able to utilize laptop computers to input their reports and transmit them to the office.

Kullman followed that up in the winter preceding the '99 season by designing and composing similar computer-based systems for player development and the medical program, which now enables the organization to track every player's development progress throughout each season and throughout his career, in addition to each player's individual medical history at the virtual touch of a button.

During the 2002 season, Kullman commissioned a study on pitching usage and effectiveness that examined 30 years of developmental history in the Reds organization in an effort to gain a better understanding of pitcher injuries and to determine if the organization might better balance the workloads and stress placed on young pitching prospects.

Kullman served three years as director of baseball administration following three years as assistant/baseball operations. He came to the Reds in 1995, following five years with the Class-AAA Columbus Clippers. A 1989 graduate of Miami University (Oxford, Ohio), where he earned a bachelor's degree in accounting, Kullman earned a master's degree in sports management from The Ohio State University in 1990.

Brad's wife, Pam, has been in baseball virtually all her life, growing up as the daughter of 1970 American League Cy Young Award winner Jim Perry and the niece of Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry.

Brad and Pam have three children, Austin (7), Sophie (4) and Audrey (1) and live in Anderson Township with their labrador retriever, Molson.

Leland Maddox

assistant general manager / director of scouting

Leland Maddox was promoted to assistant general manager/director of scouting in February of 2002, after serving as director of player personnel since the 2000 season.

Now in his 14th year of professional baseball, and fifth with the Reds, Maddox assists the general manager in all areas of player evaluation, contract negotiations, personnel decisions and arbitration cases. He also oversees the Reds' amateur, professional and international scouting departments. During his tenure in Cincinnati, Leland has had an active role in drafting and developing a number of the Reds top prospects. He has also worked to help the Reds establish footholds in countries such as Brazil, Panama, Haiti, Korea and Japan.

Recently described by Boston Red Sox President Larry Lucchino as "an up-and-coming baseball executive, a potential rising star in the front-office firmament," Maddox is respected throughout the baseball industry for his hard work, energy and vision, as well as his ability to recognize young, undiscovered talent and his ability to build strong and productive relationships with the people he works with. He prides himself in being open-minded and in taking a "nonstop learning" approach to scouting, where he has worked to combine traditional scouting methods with advanced statistical analysis, personality profiling, and intensive use of video to help evaluate players more effectively.

Prior to working for the Reds, Maddox spent nine years with the Pittsburgh Pirates. He began his front-office career as a scouting supervisor (1990-'93), before rising through the organization to assistant to the general manager (1993-'96) and scouting director (1996-'98). While working for the Pirates, he had the opportunity to work with and to learn from renowned baseball professionals Bart Braun and Jim Guinn, as well as Willie Stargell, who was influential in helping Maddox realize the importance of dedication, perseverance and accountability. Among the players Maddox drafted, signed or helped develop with the Pirates are Tony Womack, Aramis Ramirez, Jason Kendall and Kris Benson.

Drafted out of high school by the Cardinals, Maddox's parents insisted that he go to college, rather than sign a professional contract. He attended the University of California at Berkeley, where he lettered in baseball and football. One of his greatest achievements is being named captain of the baseball team, as voted by his teammates, while at Cal. After his senior year, he played in the Oakland Athletics organization.

As a collegian, Maddox played against Randy Johnson, Barry Bonds, Mark McGwire and other future big leaguers. Getting to see young, great talent helped him to appreciate the attributes it takes to succeed at the highest level, an experience that ultimately led to a successful career in scouting.

Leland and his wife, Lisa, reside in Charlotte, N.C., with their son, Xander, (9) and daughter, Skye, (7).

Declan Mullin

senior director of ball park operations

Declan Mullin, a native of Northern Ireland, is a 26-year veteran in public-assembly management. He worked in England at such facilities as the Oval Sports

Center in Merseyside, which became the training site for the English Olympic Committee for track and field, tennis, gymnastics, swimming, diving, soccer and rugby. It was also the location for the movie "Chariots of Fire."

He returned to college in 1981 and graduated summa cum laude in 1985 with a degree in recreation and business management from the University of St. Helen's in England.

Declan came to the U.S. in 1988, working for Spectator Management Group, and has had operational review responsibilities for the Louisiana Superdome, the Memphis Cook Convention Center, the Atlantic City Convention Center, the Pittsburgh Civic Center, Tampa Bay Ice Palace and Jacksonville Stadium.

Declan was awarded the Spectator Management Group "Operations Excellence Award" in 1995. He returned to Cincinnati in 1996 to take a position as the director of facilities and operations in the recently merged Cincinnati Museum Center at Union Terminal. While there he oversaw many restorative projects, as well as construction of the new Children's Museum. Mullin became a U.S. citizen in 1992.

Mullin was hired by the Cincinnati Reds in 2000 to manage facility and game-day operations at Cinergy Field during the last two seasons at the team's home of 30 years. Mullin was also called on to provide oversight of the construction of the Reds' new home, Great American Ball Park, as well as manage the team's transition from Cinergy Field to its new home.

Mullin's employment also provided the professional management skills necessary for the team to undertake self-management of Great American Ball Park, rather than seek an outside company to perform these functions. Declan is a member of the I.A.A.M. (International Association of Assembly Managers), and a member of the International Facility Managers Association. He currently serves on two Major League Baseball committees.

The first is actively involved in developing a "Crowd Management Initiative," or CMI, and training program that will be rolled out this year to be implemented by all Major League Baseball teams. This Crowd Management Initiative will develop standards for managing large crowds and will deal with behavioral styling of guests and procedures that address these different styles. This committee will also eventually be responsible for the development of a "Universal Code of Conduct" for all Major League Baseball facilities.

The second committee is the Commissioners Advisory Committee that advises the commissioner's office on operational issues at all MLB ballparks.

Mullin has also been a member of Major League Baseball's Security and Facility Task Force, working the 2000 World Series and 2001 League Championship Series.

Anthony Ward

senior director of finance and administration/controller

Anthony V. Ward, a native Cincinnatian, graduated from Aiken Senior High School in 1983 and enlisted in the Army. After serving three years in the military, stationed in Colorado Springs, Col., he returned home to enroll in Xavier University. In 1987 he joined the Army National Guard and became a military officer (2nd lieutenant). He attended Xavier University and graduated in May of 1990 with a bachelor's degree in accounting. After graduation he accepted a position as an auditor for U.S. Shoe Corporation. In 1993, he was promoted to senior corporate accountant at U.S. Shoe, and in 1995 he received his master's in finance from Xavier University. After five years he took a position as an accounting supervisor at International Thomson Publishing Company (ITP), where he worked for approximately two years before accepting the position of controller for the Cincinnati Reds organization in 1996.

In November of 2002, he was promoted to senior director of finance and administration/controller for the Reds. Anthony's responsibilities include accounting, payroll, communications, community relations, human resources, system administration and merchandise.

Currently, Anthony serves as a Children's Dental Care Foundation Board of Trustees member and serves as treasurer for the Cincinnati Reds Community Fund.

In addition he enters his fourth year of teaching a graduate level sports finance course at Xavier University.

Anthony has two children (Tyler and Ashleigh) and resides in Mount Healthy, Ohio.

Reds Directors

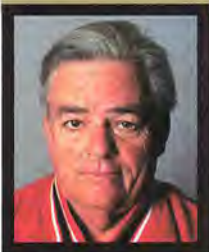

Johnny B. Almaraz - Special Asst. to the GM and Sr. Advisor, Player Devel.

Johnny B. Almaraz received his promotion to special assistant to the general manager/senior advisor player development after the 2002 amateur draft. Almaraz served as assistant director of scouting during the 2001 and 2002 seasons. Johnny Almaraz has been instrumental in the signing of several current Major League players and is also responsible for the development of the Latin American academies in both Venezuela and the Dominican Republic. Almaraz will take his efforts to the Major League club in assisting Jim Bowden with acquisitions, special assignments and overseeing the Red's Minor League system. Almaraz is in his 14th year with the Reds. Almaraz was drafted in the 14th round by the Reds and played parts of two seasons before a shoulder injury ended his pitching career. A graduate of Southwest Texas State University, Johnny earned his bachelor's degree in health administration. Johnny and his wife, Tonya, and their daughter, Cameron Marie, reside in Spring Branch, Texas.

Larry Barton Jr. - Special Assistant to the General Manager

Larry Barton Jr. was named to his current position on Nov. 1, 1993. He is in his 38th year in pro ball and 35th with the Reds. He has worked as an area scout and national cross checker, signing many notable Reds players, such as Tracy Jones, who currently hosts a talk show on 700 WLW. Larry also managed the Billings club in 1984. He resides in Leona Valley, Calif. His son, Jeff, is a Major League scout for the Reds. His father, Larry Sr., also scouted for the Reds following a successful Minor League playing career.

Gene Bennett - Special Assistant to the General Manager

Gene Bennett was promoted to his present position in October 1992. He is in his 51st year with the Reds. After signing as a player in 1952, he began scouting in 1958 and was promoted to scouting supervisor in 1975. Gene received the TOPPS Scout of the Month Award 12 times, and in 1988 received the TOPPS All-Star Scout Award. In 1996, he was elected to the Middle Atlantic Major League Baseball Scouts Hall of Fame. Gene and his wife, Loretta, have a son, David, a daughter, Cathy, and four grandchildren: Caitlin and Tyler Bennett, and Kristie and Erik Jennings.

Brad Blettner - Director of Corporate Marketing

Brad Blettner was named to his current position in July 2001 and is responsible for selling sponsorships, promotions and advertising, as well as servicing the Reds marketing partners. He joined the Reds marketing department after serving as the Reds director of ticket sales since October 1999. He had worked in the Reds season and group sales department since joining the organization in 1998. Prior to the Reds, Brad worked in sales for the Florida Marlins and sales and event management for Chris Evert/IMG. Brad graduated from the University of Kentucky with a bachelor's in management in 1994 and marketing in 1995. He then earned a master's in sports administration in 1997 from St Thomas University in Miami, Fla. Brad resides in Covington, Ky.

Stephanie handles all facets of the human resources department, which include recruiting, benefits and employee relations to name a few. She also heads up the Reds Diverse Business Partners' program, which promotes club spending with minority and women-owned businesses. A native of Cincinnati, Stephanie graduated from the University of Cincinnati with a degree in human resource management. Stephanie is a proud mother of two: Michael and Sydney.

Doug Gallant - Head Groundskeeper

Doug Gallant was named to his current position on Jan. 12, 2001, and oversees all aspects of the daily playing field maintenance. Gallant, a native of the Columbus suburb of Worthington, graduated from Worthington High School in 1989. He attended Wilmington College where he played baseball for two seasons for former Reds star Brooks Lawrence. He later transferred to The Ohio State University and graduated in 1994 with a degree in turfgrass management. Doug previously worked for Cincinnati-based The Motz Group where, as a project foreman, he helped supervise Cinergy Field's conversion from artificial turf to natural grass following the 2000 season. He also was a project foreman for projects at Pro Player Stadium in Miami, Turner Field in Atlanta, Dodger Stadium in Los Angeles and Ohio Stadium in Columbus. He also was a member of the sod crew for SuperBowl XXXIII and Super Bowl XXXV. Doug resides in Georgetown, Ohio, with his wife, Lisa, and daughter, Erica. They are expecting their second child in March of 2003.

Jenny Gardner - Director of Sales

Jenny Gardner joined the Reds in October 1999 as director of new ball park development, overseeing premium seating and suite sales for Great American Ball Park. She successfully ran the campaign to sell luxury suites, diamond, scout and club seats for 2003. She was named director of sales in October 2002 and oversees sales of season, group and premium areas. Previously, she worked as the assistant director of premium seat sales for the Cincinnati Bengals where she marketed and sold luxury suites for Paul Brown Stadium. She also worked as the corporate sales manager for the Newport Aquarium, assisting in the coordination of the grand opening in 1999. Jenny received a bachelor's degree in public relations and broadcasting from the University of Dayton in 1993, and received her master's in 1994 in speech communication from Miami University (Oxford, Ohio). Jenny and her husband, Brian, and their daughter, Micki, reside in the Kenwood area.

Al Goldis - Special Assistant to the General Manager

Al Goldis joined the Reds on Oct. 18, 1996, after spending four years as vice president of scouting and player development, as well as special assistant to the general manager, for the Chicago Cubs. Al signed with the Reds in 1963. He spent four years in the club's Minor League system before a shoulder injury ended his playing career. Al began his scouting career with the California Angels where he was the east coast scouting supervisor and Minor League hitting consultant. Al helped find, develop or sign players such as Frank Thomas, Jack McDowell, Alex Fernandez, Robin Ventura, Dante Bichette, Devon White, Kirk McCaskill, Bob Wickman and Kerry Wood. In 1986, he was named director of scouting and player development for the White Sox. Under his direction the 1990 White Sox draft was voted the best of the decade by Baseball America. Al and his wife, Jo, reside in Sarasota, Fla. He has two sons: Joshua and Eric.

Cal Levy - Director of Marketing

Cal Levy was named to his current position in June 1997 and is responsible for overseeing all aspects of Reds marketing and broadcasting. Levy has spent the past 30 years in sports and entertainment promotion. A graduate of Penn State University, Cal and his wife, Robin, live in Loveland, Ohio.

Pat McCaffrey - Director of Season and Group Operations

Pat McCaffrey was named director of season sales in August 1986 and added the responsibilities of the group sales department in October 1999. He has also been involved in special projects with the Reds, including new ballpark design/development, retired jerseys and team uniform design. An employee of the Reds since 1979, Pat's experience includes season and group sales, marketing, promotions, customer relations and stadium operations. A native of Hamilton, Ohio, Pat is a graduate of Xavier University with a degree in marketing. He and his wife, Cathy, reside in Cincinnati.

Tim Naehring - Director of Player Development

Tim Naehring was named to his current position in October 2000. In 1985, he graduated from LaSalle High School in Cincinnati and from 1985-'88 attended Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. He was Mid-American Conference Player of the Year in 1988, and in June of that year was selected by the Boston Red Sox in the eighth round of the Free Agent Draft. In his eight-year Major League career, all with Boston, Naehring hit .282 with 49 home runs and 250 RBI in 547 games. He made his ML debut in 1990 after just two seasons in the minors, and in 1991 became the first Red Sox rookie to start at shortstop on Opening Day since Rico Petrocelli in 1965. His ML career ended on June 24, 1997, when he had surgery to repair a torn ligament in his right elbow. Tim is the founder of the Athletes Reaching Out Program (ARO), which raises money and builds athletic facilities in an attempt to unify parents, children, teachers and coaches and to ensure the all-around development of youngsters. ARO's first project was Little Fenway Park, located on the west side of Cincinnati.

John O'Brien - Director of Ticket Operations

John O'Brien is entering his 26th season in the Reds ticket operations department. He began working in the department as the ticket office accountant in 1978. Reds in the Community

The Cincinnati Reds Community Fund (CRCF) is the official nonprofit organization of the Cincinnati Reds. As a designated 501(c)(3) company, CRCF was created to help promote the physical, social and educational development of youth through sports and other activities. For additional information, please visit our Web site at www.cincinnati-reds.com and navigate to the "Community" section, or call (513) 765-7000 and ask to speak to community relations.

In 2002, CRCF's first major fundraiser, the "RedLegs Run for Home" 5k run/walk, was an enormous success - thanks to the support of the community. Approximately 2,200 walkers/runners participated in the event, which started and finished at Cinergy Field. The second annual "RedLegs Run for Home" will take place

More than 2,200 runners/walkers participated in the "RedLegs Run for Home" 5k race last September. CRCF will host its second annual race Saturday, Sept. 6, 2003.

Sept. 6, 2003, at Great American Ball Park - stay tuned for registration details!

A few other innovative fundraisers are also planned for 2003, such as "Picnic in the Park," Tri-Health/CRCF auction dates (every home Saturday game) and "Jersey Off Their Back" dates. Visit our Web site to get the most up-to-date information regarding these exciting events.

Danny Graves Field: Thanks in part to a donation by Reds pitcher Danny Graves and the Cincinnati Reds Community Fund, "Danny Graves Field" is now a part of the Cleves Community Park Field Expansion Project, which will help support more than 500 youths in both the Cleves and Greater Cincinnati areas. The Danny Graves Field is expected to be ready for the 2003 spring baseball season.

Kid Glove Games: The Cincinnati Reds organization will enter into its 54th year sponsoring four Kid Glove game dates this season at Great American Ball Park. The Reds donate game vouchers to The Kid Glove Way, sponsored by the Powel Crosley, Jr. Amateur Baseball Fund (amateur/knothole baseball and girls softball). In turn, the participants sell the vouchers in their communities with all proceeds going towards the purchasing of game equipment, as well as co-sponsoring "Adapted Baseball," a program that benefits children with physical handicaps. The 2002 season-voucher program provided approximately $265,000 in financial support to The Kid Glove Way. For more information about Kid Glove, please contact Paul Kramer, executive secretary, at (859) 384-6195.

Straight "A" Ticket: Reinforcing the efforts of educators, the Cincinnati Reds, The Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky Post and the Dayton Daily News sponsor the Straight "A" Ticket Program. This incentive program targets students in grades 7-12 who achieve A, A- averages over a designated period. In the 2001-'02 school year, 394 schools from the Greater Cincinnati, northern Kentucky and Dayton area participated in the program; more than 10,500 deserving students were awarded over 42,000 complimentary game tickets.

Clubhouse Staff

Bernie Stowe

Mark Stowe

Rick Stowe

For the past 55 years, the Reds have been well represented by a local family whose name has now become synonymous with the goings-on in the Reds' clubhouse. Bernie Stowe began his career with the Reds in 1947 as a clubhouse boy and worked his way up through the organization to earn a position as the Reds' equipment manager in 1968. Bernie was selected as the National League's All-Star batboy in 1953 and has been the NL All-Star equipment manager four times (1970, '71, '73, '88) during his illustrious career.

Bernie, in his 56th year with the club, in 2001 was honored by the Baseball Equipment Managers Association for his years of service and is currently the game's longest-serving equipment manager. Bernie and his wife, Priscilla, reside in Cincinnati and have four children: Mark, Kimberly, Jeff and Rick.

In 1975, Mark Stowe became the first of Bernie's sons to join the Reds and, like his father, started out as a bat boy. Mark continued to work for his father in the Reds' clubhouse before he was named visiting clubhouse manager in the winter of 1997. Not only is Mark responsible for running the visiting team's clubhouse during the season, but he also assists in the Reds' clubhouse during spring training. Mark and his wife, Ann, reside in Cincinnati with their children: Emily, Adam and Molly.

The second of Bernie's sons to join the organization was Rick Stowe. Like his father and older brother, Rick began his career as a batboy and performed those duties from 1981 until 1983, when he became an assistant to his father. In the winter of 1997, he was promoted to his current position. Rick is responsible for the day-to-day operation of the Reds' clubhouse, including the ordering of supplies and equipment and the upkeep of all equipment. In November 2001, Rick was named to the board of directors of the Cincinnati Reds Community Fund, where he will serve as chairman of the player relations committee. Rick and his wife, Marsha, reside in Cincinnati with their children: Luke, Erica, Noah and Gabriel.

In 2002, Bernie, Mark and Rick served as honorary chairmen of the Kid Glove Program.

Bernie Stowe enters his 56th year with the Reds in 2003.

Medical Staff

Dr. Timothy Kremchek - Medical Director

Dr. Timothy Kremchek is in his seventh season as the Reds medical director and chief orthopaedic surgeon. He will serve in that capacity through the 2004 season after signing a 5-year contract extension on Aug. 16, 2000. Dr. Kremchek is a native of Cincinnati and a 1986 graduate of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine. He completed his orthopaedic surgery residency at Tufts University in Boston, MA. In 1993, Dr. Kremchek began private practice in orthopaedic surgery and sports medicine following a 1-year orthopaedic sports medicine fellowship at the Alabama Sports Medicine Institute in Birmingham, AL, under the direction of Dr. James Andrews and Dr. Lawrence Lemak. He also serves as the medical director for the International Hockey League, medical director and team orthopaedic surgeon for the Cincinnati Cyclones professional hockey club, co-medical director of Xavier University's sports teams and was the medical director for the International Basketball League's Cincinnati Stuff. Dr. Kremchek serves as the director of sports medicine for the TriHealth system of Good Samaritan and Bethesda hospitals as well as the medical director for Cincinnati's U.S. Bank Arena. He is the orthopaedist for Cincinnati's Archbishop Moeller High School and Wittenberg University in Springfield, OH, and is a member of the U.S. Sports Evaluations Committee. His professional interests range from advanced arthroscopic repair of shoulder and knee injuries to total joint reconstructions and joint replacements. He has taken an active role in teaching orthopaedics and sports medicine, which has enabled him to be published in professional journals regarding orthopaedics and sports medicine. Dr. Kremchek and his wife, Hilary, have five children: Katie, Christie, Alissa, Teddy and Jennifer.

Mark Mann - Head Trainer, A.T.C.

Mark Mann is in his first season as the Reds' head athletic trainer. He was named to that position on October 1, 2002. Mark first joined the Reds' training staff in 1992. He spent the 1992 and 1993 seasons at Billings in the Rookie League, then in 1994 he worked for the Pirates' Class A affiliate in Welland, Ontario, Canada. He returned to the Reds' organization in January 1995 as assistant trainer, a position he held for 8 seasons until he was promoted following last season. A pitcher, he was selected by the Reds in the 29th round of the June 1990 free agent draft. After a shoulder injury ended his playing career, Mark began his studies in athletic training at Northern Kentucky University. Mark and his wife, Michele, reside in Cincinnati.

Lonnie Soloff - Assistant Trainer, M.P.T., A.T.C.

Lonnie Soloff is in his first season as an assistant trainer. He was named to that position on October 1, 2002, following 5 seasons as the club's physical therapist. Lonnie joined the club in 1998 while working as a staff physical therapist at TriHealth. While attending St. Louis University, he received a master's degree in physical therapy and a bachelor's degree in exercise science and became a certified athletic trainer. His responsibilities include guiding the rehabilitation programs for the club and assisting in the day-to-day training regimens. Lonnie began his career in baseball with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1996 as part of the PBATS internship program. He resides in downtown Cincinnati.

Nick Kenney - Assistant Trainer, C.S.C.S., A.T.C.

Nick Kenney is in his first season as assistant athletic trainer. He was named to that position in November 2002 after spending the last 2 years as program manager of sports medicine for TriHealth, the official medical provider for the Reds. While with TriHealth, Kenney was involved extensively with health care coordination and rehabilitation, including programs used by Reds major and minor league players. Prior to his position with TriHealth, he served for 7 seasons as head trainer for the Cincinnati Cyclones professional hockey club, an affiliate of the National Hockey League's Florida Panthers and Carolina Hurricanes. A graduate of Clinton-Massie High School and Wilmington College, Kenney is a certified strength and conditioning specialist as well as a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the Ohio Athletic Trainers Association. He and his wife, Patty, reside in Wilmington with their children,

Paige, Colin, Nathan and Madison.

Carlo Alvarez - Strength and Conditioning Coach

Carlo Alvarez is in his second season as the Reds' strength and conditioning coach. He was named to that position on January 10, 2002. Prior to joining the Reds, Alvarez had been the assistant strength and conditioning coordinator for the Cleveland Indians since December 1999. He was the head strength and conditioning coach at Cincinnati's St. Xavier High School from March 1996 until he joined the University of Notre Dame as a strength and conditioning assistant in August 1998. He worked for the Irish from August 1998 until he was hired by the Indians in December 1999. Alvarez graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1998 with a bachelor's degree in science in education while majoring in health and exercise science. He is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association and the Professional Baseball Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society. He attended high school at Florida Air Academy in Melbourne, Fla., and graduated from there in 1990.

Dr. James Andrews - Senior Consultant, Orthopaedics

Dr. James Andrews is one of the founding members of the Alabama Sports Medicine and Orthopaedic Center (ASMOC) and the American Sports Medicine Institute (ASMI) in Birmingham, AL. He serves as chairman and medical director of ASMI. Dr. Andrews is internationally known and recognized throughout the world for his scientific and clinic research contributions in knee, shoulder and elbow injuries, in addition his skill as an orthopaedic surgeon. Dr. Andrews completed medical school at LSU in 1967 and his orthopaedic residency at Tulane Medical School in 1972.

Bill Harrison is internationally known for his pioneering work in sports science as the co-founder of the Center for Top Performance. Bill was educated at the University of California at Berkeley, receiving a bachelor of science and doctorate in optometry from the School of Optometry. His prolific and successful work with amateur and professional athletes throughout the world has placed him in the forefront of his profession. He has spent the past 26 years studying, analyzing and refining the basic qualities that create gold medal winners, PGA and LPGA champions, World Series and Super Bowl winners, and Emmy and Oscar winning writers, producers, actors and actresses.

right foot in an accident at home on 9/11...did not go on the DL with the toe injuries but did not pitch again the rest of the season...ranked second in the Major Leagues with a club-record 21 wild pitches (SD's Matt Clement, 23wp) and contributed to the pitching staff's Major League-record 96 wild pitches...he broke the club's wild pitch record previously set by Jim Maloney in 1963 (19wp, 250.1ip) and then tied by Maloney in 1965 (19wp, 255.1ip)...Williamson set the record in his first 100ip...made his first 38 apps in relief (2-5-6, 3.65) and his last 10 apps as a starter (3-3, 2.93)...when he went to the bullpen led all National League relievers in innings pitched (56.2ip) and held that lead until teammates Scott Sullivan and Danny Graves both passed him on 7/18...began his career with 100 consecutive relief apps until he made his first Major League start on 7/9 vs Cle, when he suffered the 5-3 loss despite establishing career highs with 7 strikeouts in 5.2ip...earned his first victory as a starter in his second start, a 7-4 win at Col on 7/15...twice was the victim of blown saves...converted 6-8 save opps, his last save in a 4-2 win on 5/30 vs Mtl and his last blown save in a 6-4 loss on 6/21 vs Col...from 8/12-8/23 threw a career-high 7.0ip in 3 consecutive starts...started a pair of shutouts...on 7/31 at Mets threw 6.0 scoreless innings in the 6-0 victory...left that game with a left hamstring spasm suffered while running the bases in the top of the seventh, but prior to that injury threw his 18th and 19th wild pitches of the season to tie Maloney's club record...on 8/12 at Cubs threw 7.0 scoreless innings to earn the 3-0 victory...as a reliever retired the first batter 26-38 times (68%)...stranded 13-22 inherited baserunners (59%)...the Reds went 25-23 when he pitched...went 0-6, 4.37 in 26g at Cinergy Field and 5-2, 2.06 in 22g on the road...at the plate began his career 0-for-14 until he singled off Fla's Chuck Smith on 8/6...ranked T2nd on the club with 4 sac bunts...1999: Established franchise rookie records for relief victories (12) and relief losses (7), both marks previously held by Wayne Granger (9-6, 1969)...his 12 wins were the most by a Reds rookie righthander since 1976, when starter Pat Zachary won 14 games...led all Major League relievers in victories...his 2.41 ERA led all NL pitchers who accumulated at least 17 decisions...most of the season led all NL relievers in ERA and finished seventh in that category...ranked T5th in IP among all NL relievers...led all NL rookie pitchers in victories, saves, relief ERA, relief strikeouts and winning percentage...held LH batters to a .171 BA, third-best among all National League pitchers...opponents hit .156 with RISP, fifth-best among NL relievers...opponents hit just .101 with 2 strikes, third-best mark for all ML pitchers, and .118 when behind in the count, fourth-best in the majors...his 5-game winning streak from 4/28-6/5 was the second-longest this season by an NL rookie and at that time was the longest by a Reds pitcher since John Smiley won 6 straight from 6/21-8/4, 1995...most of the season led the club in both wins and saves, but finished second in both categories...would have been the first Reds pitcher to lead the club outright in both wins and saves since LHP Lee Grissom in 1937 (12w, 6sv) and the first righthander to do it since Paul Derringer in 1934 (15w, 4sv)...was named to the All-Star team to replace injured Robb Nen...at 23 years, 146 days old was the youngest Reds player to make the All-Star team since RHP Mike LaCoss in 1979 (23.048)...was the 14th rookie pitcher selected to the All-Star team but the first since Tyler Green, Hideo Nomo and Carlos Perez were honored in 1995...was the second Reds rookie All-Star pitcher (Blackwell 1946) and the fifth Reds rookie All-Star (Blackwell 1946, FRobinson 1956, Bench 1968, Sabo 1988)...in September was bothered by tendinitis in his right shoulder and a cut on the middle finger of his right hand and made just 8 apps beginning 9/1 (6.55era, 11ip, 11h, 8er, 12bb, 14k)...on 4/25 vs Hou, in his eighth career appearance, earned his first career save in the 7-6 victory...on 4/28 at Phi earned his first career victory, a 12-8 win...in 24 apps from 5/3-7/4 posted a 0.64 ERA (42.1ip, 3er, 18h), including a 0.00 ERA in May (11g, 18.1ip, 0r)...from 4/30-6/11 threw 23.2 consecutive scoreless innings, the longest scoreless streak in the NL in 1999...from 6/20-7/1 retired 21 consecutive batters...on 7/20 vs StL saved the 1-0 victory by striking out Ray Lankford, Mark McGwire and Fernando Tatis to strand the tying run...on 9/15 vs Cubs left the game with a small cut on the middle finger of his right hand...converted 19-26 save opps...retired the first batter 46-62 times...stranded 18-27 inherited baserunners...while on the mound, opposing baserunners stole 13 bases in 13 attempts...1998: Combined to go 4-5, 3.73 in 23 apps, all starts, at Chattanooga and Indianapolis...at Chattanooga averaged 9.45 strikeouts per 9 innings, third-best ratio among Southern League starters...began the season at Chattanooga and made 18 starts there before he was promoted to Indy on 7/29...made his Class AA debut on 4/2 vs Greenville (6ip, 1er, 8k) by opposing rehab starter John Smoltz...in April/May was on Chattanooga's disabled list after a line drive grazed his forehead...at Indy, left his 8/24 start vs Columbus with a strained tendon in his right middle finger and did not pitch again the rest of the season...made 1 start for Maryvale in the Arizona Fall League but didn't pitch again because of stiffness in his right shoulder...1997: Signed his first professional contract on 6/11, then made 13 starts for Billings...led the league with 101 strikeouts and tied for the league lead with 8 victories and 1 shutout...averaged 10.57 strikeouts per 9 innings, best ratio in the league...ranked second in the league with a 1.78 ERA and 86.0 IP and tied for second with 2 complete games...led the Mustangs to the league championship...opponents hit just .209...PERSONAL: SCOTT RYAN WILLIAMSON...married (11/1/02), wife's name is Lisa (McWilliams)...in 1994 graduated from Friendswood (TX) High School, where in his senior season he recorded a school-record 138 strikeouts in just 84.0 innings...attended Tulane University for 2 seasons, then transferred to Oklahoma State University...in 3 collegiate seasons never had an ERA lower than 4.31, then in his first professional season dominated the Pioneer League with a 1.78era...is involved in Children's Hospital, Harbor Playhouse, Catholic Festival and the Jose Rijo Foundation Award...is an honorary chief in the Cincinnati Police Department.

2002 All-Star Game

73rd Annual MLB All-Star Game

Tuesday, July 9, 2002

Milwaukee, WI (Miller Park)

Series Record: 40-31-2 (NL leads)

Streak: AL has won five straight

REDS' ALL-STAR

Cincinnati's Adam Dunn made his first All-Star appearance in 2002. The slugging outfielder, who was the lone Reds' representative at this past season's festivities, reached the All-Star Game in just his first full big-league season. At 22 years and 7 months of age, Dunn was the youngest player on either All-Star roster. Dunn was also the youngest Red to become an All-Star since Wayne Simpson in 1970. At the All-Star break, Dunn was reaching base at a .452 clip, while slugging a hefty .544. He also batted .300 while amassing 154 total bases in the first half of 2002. Showing remarkable plate discipline, Dunn drew 78 walks before the break. His outstanding first half made him an easy selection for the Mid-Summer Classic. Dunn held his own during the game, drawing a walk and hitting a fly ball just shy of the warning track. Most scouts and coaches who watch Dunn play believe that he will make many more All-Star appearances with his devastating combination of power and plate discipline.

ALL-STAR MVP

The 2002 All-Star Game, hosted by the Milwaukee Brewers at Miller Park, ended in a 7-7 tie after 11 innings, thus, no one was recognized as the Most Valuable Player. This was the first All-Star Game without an MVP since the honor's introduction in 1962, when Leon Wagner and Maury Wills shared the award. Candidates for MVP included Barry Bonds and Alfonso Soriano, who both homered; Paul Konerko and Damian Miller, who each hit two doubles; Lance Berkman, who joined Konerko in knocking in two runs; and Curt Schilling, Vicente Padilla, and Freddy Garcia, who each threw two scoreless innings. Despite all of these standout performances, the MVP award might have been given to whichever player broke the extra-inning tie.

GAME RECAP

2002's All-Star Game will long be remembered for the way it ended: deadlocked. After 11 innings of play, AL Manager Joe Torre and NL Manager Bob Brenly had both used all 30 players on their rosters. In the middle of the 11th inning, Torre and Brenly met with Commissioner Bud Selig to discuss what they would do if the National League didn't score a run in the bottom of the inning. Neither manager felt comfortable letting their pitcher go any further, and they decided that the 11th would be the last frame, even if that meant calling it a draw. Freddy Garcia and Vicente Padilla were the pitchers in the game at the time, having been kept in reserve in case the game went into extra innings. Each pitched two scoreless frames, with Garcia throwing 31 pitches and Padilla 25. Many players agreed with the decision to end the game after 11 innings, although some fans were upset that they would not see a winner. Chants of "Let them play" rang through Miller Park following the end of the 11th inning, and some fans threw bottles on the field to voice their displeasure. But the 2002 All-Star Game was not the first to end in a tie. The 1961 All-Star Game was called a draw after rain delayed the game. Although the 2002 game will be known as the All-Star tie, fans saw 11 innings of baseball's best before they went home.

Torii Hunter got everyone's attention in the bottom of the first inning when he reached above the centerfield fence to bring Barry Bonds' long fly ball back into the ballpark. In the second inning, the National League drew first blood against AL starting pitcher Derek Lowe, as Vladimir Guerrero scored a run on Mike Piazza's groundout. Curt Schilling held the AL scoreless in the first two frames, striking out three in the process. In the 3rd inning, the NL laced on more, as Todd Helton knocked in Jimmy Rollins for the game's second run, and Bonds made it 4-0 when he brought in Helton with a two-run homer. The AL got on the board in the 4th, when Manny Ramirez singled home Jason Giambi, and Alfonso Soriano cut the lead to 4-2 in the fifth with a solo shot. In the bottom of the frame, Damian

Miller's double let Rollins score his second run of the night. Down 5-2, the AL mounted a comeback in the 7th inning. Johnny Damon came across on Garret Anderson's groundout, and Tony Batista singled home Randy Winn to make it 5-4. Paul Konerko delivered the big blow, putting the AL out in front 6-5 with a double that plated Batista and Miguel Tejada. Down 6-5 in the bottom of the seventh, Lance Berkman looked like he might be the hero after bringing home Miller and Mike Lowell with a 2-run single to put the NL back on top. Omar Vizquel came through for the AL in the 8th inning though, tripling in Robert Fick to tie the game at seven. That remained the score through the rest of the eighth and ninth. Bob Brenly brought in Vicente Padilla, whom he had saved for extra innings, to pitch the 10th, and Joe Torre did likewise with Freddy Garcia. Padilla and Garcia each pitched a scoreless 10th and 11th, but as Torre explained after the game, "The last thing I want to do is get a pitcher hurt," so the managers did not ask them to come back out for a 12th inning, and the game finished, 7-7.

Mets)...became the 22nd Reds player to hit 3hr in a game, accomplished for the 26th time overall and for the second time in 2002...teammate Russell Branyan previously had tied the club record with 3hr at SD on 8/4.

COMPLETE GAMES: Reds pitchers threw 2 complete games, tying the club record for fewest CG in a season established in 2001...Chris Reitsma threw a 5-hitter in the Reds' 2-0 victory on 7/15 at Mil, and Ryan Dempster threw a 6-hitter in the 8-2 win on 9/25 at Chi...prior to this year, the Reds shared the National League record for fewest complete games in a season (2cg, 2001)...the Rockies threw just 1cg this season to establish a new NL record and tie the Major League record (2001 Devil Rays).

INJURY-PLAGUED: This season 19 Reds players made 26 apps on the disabled list...in the last 3 seasons, 31 Reds players have made 51 trips to the DL, including Aaron Boone 4 times, John Riedling 4 times, Barry Larkin 3 times, Ken Griffey Jr. 3 times, Sean Casey 3 times and Jose Silva, Seth Etherton, Scott Williamson, Kelly Stinnett, Joey Hamilton, Pete Hamisch, Brandon Larson and Gabe White twice each.

FREE FALL: On 8/11 the second-place Reds were 61-55 and 2.0g behind first-place StL...they lost 29 of their last 46g and finished a season-high 19.0g back.

BULLIES: The Reds went 24-51 (.320) against teams at or over .500 and 54-33 (.621) against teams under .500...LA (92-70) is the only team over .500 against which the Reds had a winning record (4-2).

RISPY BUSINESS: Reds batters ranked last in the Major Leagues with a .231 average with runners in scoring position.

IRON MAN: Aaron Boone became the first Reds player to appear in all 162g since Dave Parker in 1986...with 25 homers and 32 stolen bases he became just the seventh player in Reds history with at least 25hr and 25sb in a season (Larkin, RSanders, Sabo, EDavis, Daniels, Morgan).

YOUNG & PATIENT: Adam Dunn's 128 walks, 4 shy of Joe Morgan's club record (132bb, 1975), were the most ever by any Major League player under the age of 23...the previous record was held by 21-year-old Rickey Henderson (Oak, 117bb, 1980).

STRIKING: Barry Larkin last struck out on 9/8 at Mil (Nick Neugebauer), a span of 56 plate apps without a strikeout...it was the longest season-ending streak in the Major Leagues...Larkin's career high for consecutive plate apps without a strikeout is 89 in 1988 (courtesy Elias).

ROLE PLAYING: On 9/10 vs Pit, Danny Graves made his first career start after 363 relief apps...on 9/22 vs Phi, Brian Moehler made his first career relief appearance after 139 starts...Shawn Estes, who finished the season in the bullpen following his 9/12 start, has made all 189 career apps as a starter.

WALL BALL: The Reds played 2 seasons in refurbished Cinergy Field, which included a 40-foot batter's eye in center field...only 4 players homered over that wall, including Cin's Russell Branyan (9/10/02 vs Pit off Kip Wells), NYM's Mike Piazza (7/19/02 off Jared Fernandez), Hou's Lance Berkman (4/16/02 off Jose Acevedo) and StL's Albert Pujols (8/20/01 off Chris Reitsma)...23 balls were hit off the black wall, including 22 doubles and 1 triple by Robin Jennings (8/31/01 vs Pit).

MAJOR LEAGUE DEBUTS: In 2002, OF Austin Kearns, RHP Luke Hudson and Wily Mo Pena were the only Reds players to make their Major League debuts...Kearns and Pena skipped Class AAA on their ways to the majors...11 Reds players made their big league debuts in 2001, including 4 players who skipped Class AAA (RHP Chris Reitsma, RHP Brian Reith, RHP Jose Acevedo, RHP Chris Piersoll).

JULY - (12-14) - .286 Batting Average - 4.27 ERA

The Reds began July in second place, .001 percentage point behind the Cardinals, and finished the month in second place, 5.0g behind StL. Adam Dunn was the club's only representative at the All-Star Game in Milwaukee...at 22 years, 8 months old he was the youngest player on either roster...Cin's 46-41 record at the All-Star break was 13g better than the previous season (33-54), the best improvement in the Major Leagues...Jimmy Haynes (10-6) became the first Reds pitcher with 10 victories at the All-Star break since Tom Browning in 1991 (10-5) and the first righthander since Jack Armstrong in 1990 (11-3)...on 7/11 acquired RHP Ryan Dempster from the Marlins in exchange for OF Raul Gonzalez, IF Wilton Guerrero and LHP Ryan Snare...on 7/23 acquired RHP Brian Moehler, IF Matt Boone and cash from the Tigers in exchange for IF David Espinosa and 2 players to be named later...the paid attendance of 32,233 attending the Reds' 7-5 win vs Hou on 7/1 included a walkup of 8,600...on 7/2 at Cinergy Field, Hou's Lance Berkman produced 5rbi against the Reds, and teammate Jeff Bagwell followed the next day with 5rbi...an opposing team produced consecutive 5-RBI individual performances for the first time since 7/26 and 7/28, 1978, when the Mets' Joel Youngblood and Greg Luzinski did it...the Reds' 5-4 loss vs Mil on the Fourth of July was their third consecutive loss on that holiday, including 14-3 defeats in both 2000 (at StL) and 2001 (vs Pit)...on 7/5 vs Mil, Barry Larkin recorded the 390th double of his career (off Glendon Rusch), passing Dave Concepcion into second place on the club's all-time list (Rose, 601)...in that same game, Larkin hit his 100th career HR at Riverfront/Cinergy (off Rusch)...from 7/7-7/12 Aaron Boone homered in 3 consecutive games for the first time in his career...on 7/15 at Mil Chris Reitsma threw a 5-hitter in a 2-0 victory...the complete game was the first by any Reds pitcher since Elmer Dessens' 5-0 victory vs Fla on 7/28/01...the Reds went 150g between CG...was Reitsma's first career CG, thrown in the club's 91st game of the season...the Reds fell 1g shy of their franchise record for games to begin a season without a CG, established in 2001 when they didn't record a CG until the 92nd game...on 7/18 the Reds completed a stretch of 22 consecutive games vs NL Central rivals...went 12-10 during that stretch and lost half a game in the standings to the Cardinals (-3.0 to -3.5)...in pre-game ceremonies on 7/21, Don Gullett and Bid McPhee were inducted into the Reds Hall of Fame...on 7/20 vs Mets, a sold-out crowd of 40,168 attended Eric Davis Bobblehead Doll Night...was the second sellout of the season (Opening Day)...in the 6-5 loss vs Pit on 7/22, Ken Griffey Jr. came off the disabled list to make his first appearance since 6/23 and batted cleanup for the 18th time in his career (last, 7/5/01 vs Pit)...the Reds' 10-5 victory on 7/24 vs Pit was Bob Boone's 300th as a Major League manager (300-350, .462)...with a 3-2 loss at NYM on 7/26, the Reds fell 5.0g out of first place, their largest deficit of the season to that point...on 7/31 vs LA, Becky Krauth of Indianapolis represented the 64,000,000th paid customer at Riverfront/Cinergy.

Adam Dunn was the Reds lone representative at the 2002 All-Star Game in Milwaukee.

History of the Cincinnati Reds

Written by Greg Rhodes, author and baseball historian

Immediately following the Civil War, baseball enjoyed a nation-wide boom and several amateur teams formed in Cincinnati, including the Cincinnati Base Ball Club (CBBC), the forerunner of today's Cincinnati Reds Baseball Club. The club, originally nicknamed the "Resolutes," was formed on July 23, 1866, but did not play a regular schedule of games until the next summer.

The club hired Harry Wright - a cricket player from New York - to oversee club operations, and Wright proved to be the right choice. Wright developed new strategies and practice regimes that were soon adopted by other clubs. He also was the first to advocate the knicker-style trousers for players, and his choice of team colors created the team nickname. In 1868, the club appeared in short pants with bright red socks, and quickly became known as the "Red Stockings."

Since 1871, baseball teams have always appeared in knicker-style uniforms, and the official Cincinnati nickname has always been some variation of "Reds."

But the most radical innovation the CBBC introduced was the all-professional team in 1869. By 1868, Cincinnati had become the top club west of the Alleghenies, but it could not compete with the established clubs on the East Coast. The club needed to find better players, and club President Aaron Champion argued for an all-salaried nine. While other clubs, especially in New York and Washington, had paid some players under the table, the Red Stockings were the first to openly declare themselves a professional "nine." (The term "nine" was often used because in fact there were just nine players on a team.

Teams occasionally carried one substitute, but he would play only in an emergency.) Harry Wright recruited several excellent players from the East, including his younger brother, George - the best player in the country. Both George and Harry Wright were ultimately elected to the Hall of Fame.

In 1869, the Cincinnati Base Ball Club played the entire season with all of its players under contract. The total salary outlay was approximately $11,000, with the salary of star shortstop George Wright nearly $2,000. Thus began the era of professional baseball - and of professional team sports.

Many baseball people and the sporting press thought the decision to employ players would backfire. They did not think the public would accept the idea of paying men to play a game. But the Red Stockings played at such a high level of skill and conducted themselves in such a "gentlemanly" fashion on and off the field - inspired in part by an abstinence pledge drafted by Champion and supported by the virtuous Wright - that by the end of the '69 season, there was no doubt that the professional game would prevail.

The 1869 Red Stockings made history not only as the first professional club, but they also ran off the longest winning streak in baseball history. Although there was no league yet established, there were some 15 teams in the upper tier of clubs. The Red Stockings defeated all of these teams - many of them twice - and they also walloped a number of lesser clubs. Their final official record was 57-0. (The Red Stockings played and won many more games than this, but these games would be considered exhibition games today. Harry Wright counted only those games against other sanctioned clubs as official. Thus, some record books list a much higher number of games won by the Red Stockings.) The club retained all of its players for 1870, and the club ran its unbeaten streak to 81 games before it was defeated by the Brooklyn Atlantics, 8-7 in 11 innings, before 10,000 spectators in New York.

The team finished the 1870 season with a record of 68-6, but the club lost money and the officers elected to disband the professional nine. Although the first professional league formed in 1871 - the direct result of the success of the Red Stockings - Cincinnati was not part of this new league.

The Cincinnati club, under new management, rejoined the professional ranks in 1876 when it became a charter member of the new eight-team National League. The Reds, along with the Chicago Cubs, are the only charter members of the National League still playing in the NL.

These new Reds had none of the magic of the pioneering Red Stockings. The best finish they could muster in their first five seasons was second in 1878. During these first years in the National League, the Reds stars were outfielder Charlie Jones and pitcher Will White, who still holds the Major League record for most starts in one season - 75.

White set the club record for most wins in the same season (1879) with 43. This was the era of underhanded pitching, and White pitched nearly every game.

Despite the Reds' celebrated past as founders of professional baseball, the National League kicked Cincinnati out after the 1880 season. The reason: the club sold beer and rented its grounds to amateur teams on Sundays, both practices in violation of league rules.

Baseball's first team comprised entirely of paid players was the 1869 Cincinnati Red Stockings.

William White

In 1882, after one season on the sidelines, the Reds became one of the founding members of the American Association, the first league to successfully challenge the established National League. Although the Association was not related to the American League (which formed in 1901), the Association is considered a second major league and its records are official in the eyes of Major League Baseball. The Reds featured pitcher White and a young second baseman named Bid McPhee. McPhee led the Reds with his brilliant defensive play and solid offense and holds several 19th century records. He played 18 consecutive seasons with the Reds, a mark later broken by Dave Concepcion.

The Reds won the Association pennant in 1882, and split a brief two-game postseason exhibition series with Chicago, winners of the National League. Some consider this the first "World Series," in that it was the first time winners of two leagues met in postseason play.

Prior to the 1884 season, the Reds faced a ballpark crisis. A new and short-lived league, the Player's League, formed in the offseason, and the Cincinnati entry grabbed the lease on the Reds' ballpark, which was located on Spring Grove Avenue, near Spring Grove Cemetery. The Reds scrambled to find a new location, and wound up in an empty brickyard at the corner of Findlay Street and Western Avenue - where they would remain for the next 86 years. In just three months, the club erected a new wooden grandstand, and smoothed out a playing field, except for one spot. There was a steep incline deep in the outfield that seldom came into play and the club left it as it was. In the 20th century, as the bats became more lively and balls soared deep into the outfield, this incline, now called the "terrace," became a well-known Crosley Field landmark.

The Reds rejoined the National League in 1890, and began three decades of frustration. Over the next 29 years, the Reds never finished higher than third. Typically, interest in the Reds peaked on Opening Day. Business manager Frank Bancroft (1892-1920) took full advantage of the tradition of the Reds opening at home, and he promoted the event with parades and bands - a tradition which eventually spawned the Findlay Market parade and Cincinnati's annual Opening Day "holiday."

Bid McPhee

C 1900-1920

In the first decade of the 20th century, the Reds featured some outstanding players, including pitcher Noodles Hahn, outfielder Cy Seymour and National League stolen base champion Bob Bescher. But the Reds usually finished in the lower half of the eight-team league and the most interesting developments occurred off the field. Early in the morning of May 28, 1900, the main grandstand of League Park, the Reds' home field at Findlay and Western, burned. The club moved home plate where the right-field corner was, built temporary stands and finished the season. The charred ruins of the old stands remained in deep left field until 1902 when a fabulous new iron and concrete grandstand opened (and home plate was moved back to its "correct" location). The grandstand, nicknamed the "Palace of the Fans," was unique; a blend of Roman and Greek styling that had never been used before in a grandstand, and has never been seen since.

Christy Mathewson

The 3,000-seat grandstand featured 19 "fashion boxes" along the front railing that could hold 15 or more well-heeled fans. Beneath the grandstand, at field level, was standing room for 640 more spectators in a rowdy section known as "Rooter's Row." On Opening Day, 1902, some 10,000 spectators crowded into the park and watched the Reds lose to the Chicago Cubs, 6-1.

During the 1902 season, owner John T. Brush, an Indianapolis businessman who had owned the Reds for over a decade, sold the club for $150,000 to a local group headed by city official Garry Hermann. Hermann's high-profile job as manager of the water works, his magnetic personality and his fondness for a big party, made him a well-known and well-liked character. But the fun-loving Hermann proved to be a wise and thoughtful steward of the club. His fellow owners voted him to a leadership role in the National League, and he chaired baseball's governing body, the National Commission, for 16 years.

After the 1911 season, Hermann determined that the Palace of the Fans was too small for the growing interest in baseball. The stands were demolished and all new stands constructed in time for the 1912 opener. This was an era of new ballparks - Forbes Field, Comiskey Park, Ebbets Field and Wrigley Field all opened about the same time. Most were named after the club's owner, but Hermann declined the honor, opting for "Redland Field," a nickname that had often been applied to the old park. The new brick stands, with the bleachers beyond the right-field fence, and a steep terrace in left field, seated 20,000 spectators. When Powel Crosley bought the Reds in 1934, he renamed the park "Crosley Field."

The new ballpark did not inspire the Reds; the team finished fourth in 1912 and sunk all the way to last in 1914. But in 1916, Herrmann found a new manager who helped turn the Reds around - Hall of Fame pitcher Christy Mathewson.

August "Garry" Hermann was the Reds' president from 1902-1927.

Joe Jackson

Mathewson's Reds climbed to third by 1918, but when Mathewson was injured in World War I, the Reds hired Pat Moran. Moran added several new players to a lineup that already included Hall of Famer Edd Roush and Heinie Groh, and the Reds beat the favored Giants to win the 1919 pennant. Their winning percentage was .686 - the equivalent of 111 wins in a 162-game schedule - the best in club history.

Despite their regular-season success, the Reds were underdogs to the Chicago White Sox, led by "Shoeless" Joe Jackson. But on the eve of the Series, the betting odds suddenly shifted in favor of the Reds. Rumors swirled around the opening game in Cincinnati that a fix was in. But the games were played without obvious incident, or so it seemed.

The Reds beat the White Sox, but a year later eight Chicago players admitted to participating in a plot to fix the Series. Several Reds, including Edd Roush, claimed that they never saw any suspicious behavior; in Roush's words, "One thing that's always overlooked in this whole mess is that we could have beaten them no matter what the circumstances. The 1919 Cincinnati Reds were better!"

C 1920s

The Reds featured two Hall of Famers in their lineup for much of the 1920s, center fielder Edd Roush and pitcher Eppa Rixey. The Reds finished second in 1922, 1923 and 1926, but could not repeat the success of 1919. Two tragedies marred the 1924 season. Manager Pat Moran died suddenly from liver failure during Spring Training, and the popular captain and first baseman of the Reds, Jake Daubert, passed away at the close of the season. Daubert had been beamed in May and suffered from insomnia. His condition weakened the rest of the season. He died in October after an emergency appendectomy.

As the 1920s drew to a close, owner Garry Herrmann put the club up for sale. Sidney Weil, a Cincinnati businessman, eventually bought control of the club, but he lost much of his money in the stock market crash of 1929. Strapped by the lack of cash, Weil's Reds soon landed in the cellar.

C 1930s

The 1930s began with the Reds in last place, but concluded with the team winning the National League pennant. Although Weil was unable to invest much in the club, he did make two outstanding trades, bringing future Hall of Famer Ernie Lombardi and pitcher Paul Derringer to the Reds in the early 1930s. Eventually, Weil was forced to sell the club, and broadcasting magnate Powel Crosley bought control in 1934. One of the first moves the entrepreneurial Crosley made was to put his name on the ballpark. "Redland Field" became "Crosley Field" on April 16, 1934.

Crosley joined forces with his energetic and visionary General Manager Larry McPhail to rescue the Reds. In the process they transformed baseball. In 1935, McPhail and Crosley persuaded the commissioner and other owners to allow the Reds to stage seven night games. The Reds had averaged only 2,700 fans a game in 1934, and McPhail thought night baseball would provide desperately needed revenue. The first game was held on May 24, 1935, with 20,422 fans marveling at the 632 bright lights on eight tall towers. The Reds beat the Phillies, 2-1. The players found the illumination satisfactory, although there were some dark shadows in the outfield. But McPhail's experiment worked - the Reds averaged 18,000 fans in their seven night games, while averaging just 4,600 in their day games.

Bill McKechnie

Two other dramatic events highlighted the 1930s. In January 1937, the worst flood in Cincinnati history inundated Crosley Field when water flowed over the outfield walls. In the most famous stunt in Reds history, pitchers Gene Schott and Lee Grissom rowed a boat down Western Avenue and over the wall. In 1938, Johnny Vander Meer set a Major League record when he pitched consecutive no-hitters; the second one coming against Brooklyn in the first night game ever played at Ebbets Field.

In 1938, the Reds hired Bill McKechnie to be their new manager. McKechnie's Reds made a dramatic leap in the standings from eighth to fourth, and led by the pitching of Derringer and Bucky Walters, and the hitting of Lombardi, Frank McCormick and Ival Goodman, the Reds won their first pennant in 20 years in 1939. The clinching game came against the second-place Cardinals on Sept. 28, a thrilling 5-3 victory that ranks among the most dramatic games ever played at Crosley Field. But the Reds collapsed in the Series, swept by the powerful Yankees. Game 4 in Cincinnati featured a 10th-inning collision at home plate between the Yanks Charlie Keller and Lombardi. "Lom" was knocked unconscious and lay prone at the plate while Joe DiMaggio scored the go-ahead run. Sportswriters reported on Lombardi's "snooze," an image that haunted the big catcher until his death.

The Reds won 100 games in 1940, then a franchise record, and won the pennant by 12 games over the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers. The pennant race was marred by the shocking suicide by backup catcher Willard Hershberger on Aug. 3 in a Boston hotel. Hershberger remains the only player in Major League history to commit suicide during a season.

The World Series matched the pitching and defense of the Reds against the power of the Detroit Tigers. But the Reds chances looked dim when injuries put Lombardi and second baseman Lonnie Frey on the bench. But Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer pitched four complete-game victories, and 40-year-old coach Jimmy Wilson hit .353 subbing for Lombardi. Derringer won the deciding seventh game at Crosley Field, the only time in club history the Reds have won a World Championship at home. Frank McCormick was named National League MVP, following Lombardi (1938) and Walters (1939). The Reds became the first team to have three different players win the MVP in consecutive years.

The 1941 Reds finished third, and the club remained competitive until 1944 when the impact of aging players and roster losses due to World War II enlistments took their toll. Many teams scrambled to find promising players, and the Fifteen-year-old Joe Nuxhall with Reds' Manager Bill McKechnie.

Reds even recruited a high-school pitcher, 15-year-old Joe Nuxhall. The Hamilton, Ohio, native made baseball history as the youngest player to appear in a big-league game on June 10, 1944. He pitched two-thirds of an inning against St. Louis, giving up five runs on two hits and five walks. It was Nuxhall's only appearance in 1944, but he returned to the Reds in 1952 and wound up with 130 wins, ninth on the Reds all-time list.

Willard Hershberger

1950s

There were no Cincinnati pennants won in the 1950s - in fact the team had only two winning seasons - but many who remember Crosley Field consider the '50s to be the ballpark's golden era. By the end of the decade, parking nightmares and the demolition of the surrounding neighborhood had stolen much of Crosley's charm, but the '50s hearken memories of afternoons at the ballpark, the Sun Deck bleachers and the "Goat Run" - the temporary seats installed in front of the right-field fence.

The 1950s began with the Reds mired in the second division and their only highlight - the emergence of a young first baseman named Ted Kluszewski. In 1954, "Klu" nearly won the triple crown, leading the league in home runs, RBI, and finishing fifth in batting average. Klu, who had the biceps of an ex-football player (which he was), began cutting off the sleeves of his jersey. The club eventually adopted the look, introducing a new sleeveless vest top in 1956. The Reds returned to this style in the 1990s.

The club acknowledged the emergence of the African-American ballplayer with the appearance of Chuck Harmon in 1954, seven years after Jackie Robinson had integrated the Major Leagues. The club slowly added other black players, and in 1956, Frank Robinson became the Reds first black superstar (and its first Rookie of the Year). Robinson quickly established himself as a future Hall of Famer with his consistent offense - he averaged 32 home runs and 101 RBI in his 10 seasons with the Reds. He led an offensive explosion in 1956 when the club tied the Major League home run record with 221. The Reds challenged for the NL pennant until the last week of the season, finishing third - their best finish since 1944. Manager Birdie Tebbetts deserved much of the credit for turning the club around, but even Tebbetts could not overcome the weak pitching, and by 1959 Fred Hutchinson was the new skipper.

The 1950s were also remembered for the change in the club nickname, the result of the anti-Soviet Union hysteria that equated anything red with the "Reds" of the communist world. The team officially became the "Redlegs" for several seasons but returned to the traditional name by the end of the decade.

Ted Kluszewski

The 1960s began with the sad news that long-time owner Powel Crosley had died of a heart attack. New owner Bill DeWitt took over the club in 1961 and along with Manager Fred Hutchinson, made several moves, which all proved successful. The result was a surprise pennant, the "Ragamuffin Reds" of 1961. Led by Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson and the pitching of Joey Jay and Bob Purkey, the Reds beat out the Los Angeles Dodgers for the pennant, but then lost to the Roger Maris-Mickey Mantle led Yankees, four games to one.

Powel Crosley

The Reds suffered two significant setbacks in the mid-60s with the loss in 1964 of the 45-year-old Hutchinson to cancer, and the ill-fated Frank Robinson trade in 1965. But the Reds racked up a decade-long winning percentage of .537, the best in club history to that point. The club nearly won the pennant in 1964, being eliminated on the last day of the season, and challenged for the pennant in 1965 and 1969. Much of the success could be attributed to the remarkable string of new talent, led by Rookies of the Year Pete Rose (1963), Tommy Helms (1966) and Johnny Bench (1968). Lee May, Tony Perez and Jim Maloney also debuted in the 1960s. Maloney threw three no-hitters in the 1960s and became the Reds' all-time strikeout leader.

In the mid-60s, debate intensified over a new Reds ballpark. For the first time in club history, a Reds ballpark would be built with public funding - a trend rapidly sweeping the sports world. DeWitt favored a suburban location and a baseball-only field, but when the Cincinnati Bengals were awarded a National League Football franchise in 1966, civic leaders wanted a multi-purpose stadium on the riverfront. DeWitt eventually sold the club rather than approve the lease for Riverfront Stadium. His successors, led by Cincinnati Enquirer publisher Frank Dale, signed a 40-year lease and in 1967 hired Bob Howsam to be the new president and general manager. The stage was set for the emergence of the Big Red Machine and the greatest decade in Reds history.

The new decade opened with a farewell to Crosley Field on June 24, 1970, (and a 5-4 Reds victory) and the dedication of Riverfront Stadium on June 30 (an 8-2 loss to the Braves). Two weeks later, in the first of many memorable moments at Riverfront, Pete Rose bowled over Cleveland catcher Ray Fosse to score the winning run in the 12th inning of the All-Star Game.

Bob Howsam made several key personnel moves in the 1970s to bolster the foundation of Rose, Bench and Perez that DeWitt left him. None was more important than the hiring of the then-unknown George "Sparky" Anderson to manage the team. Anderson led the Reds to a Western Division crown (the National League had been divided into East and West divisions in 1969), and a pennant in 1970, but the Reds lost the World Series to Brooks Robinson and the Baltimore Orioles.

Johnny Bench

The Reds returned to postseason play in 1972, buoyed in part by the epic trade that brought Joe Morgan, Jack Billingham, Denis Menke and Cesar Geronimo to Cincinnati and the emergence of Dave Concepcion as the starting shortstop. In Game 5 of the NLCS against Pittsburgh at Riverfront, Bench's stunning ninth-inning home run tied the game, and the Reds won the pennant moments later when George Foster scored on a wild pitch. The Reds lost a taut seven-game World Series to the Oakland A's.

In 1973, the favored Reds lost to the Mets in a bitter playoff struggle that featured a brawl between Rose and the Mets' Bud Harrelson in Game 3, and a riot at Shea Stadium at the conclusion of Game 5. Although the Reds won 98 games in 1974, they lost the division crown to the Dodgers and many wondered if the Big Red Machine would ever win a World Series.

After a slow start in 1975, Anderson made a series of brilliant lineup moves that created the fabled Big Red Machine starting lineup. He moved Rose from the outfield to third base, allowing George Foster to start in left field. He made Ken Griffey his starting right fielder and moved him to the No. 2 spot in the lineup, pushing Morgan to third. The result was what many have called the greatest starting eight in the history of the game - Rose, Griffey, Morgan, Bench, Perez, Foster, Concepcion and Geronimo. The revamped Reds set a franchise record with 108 wins in 1975. They defeated the Red Sox in one of the best World Series of all time. Game 6 featured the memorable home run by Carlton Fisk in the 12th inning; in Game 7, the Reds rallied from a 3-0 deficit on a two-run homer by Perez and a ninth-inning, game-winning single by Morgan.

Pete Rose

In 1976, the Reds again topped the century mark in wins with 102, and swept through the postseason, winning seven straight games, including a dramatic ninth-inning, come-from-behind victory over the Phillies in the NLCS, and a four-game sweep of the Yankees. The 1976 Reds led the Major Leagues in 10 offensive, defensive and pitching categories (runs scored, doubles, triples, home runs, batting average, slugging average, stolen bases, fewest errors, fielding percentage and saves), a domination that has never been matched.

The Big Red Machine also dominated the awards voting in the 1970s—the starting eight won six MVP awards, 26 Gold Gloves, and earned 63 All-Star selections. In addition, the team set attendance records,

Joe Morgan

But the Big Red Machine would never win another title. A series of unpopular moves gutted the team. Perez was traded in 1977; Anderson was fired after the 1978 season; and Rose was let go as a free agent. Although the Reds acquired Tom Seaver in 1977, and won a division crown under new Manager John McNamara in 1979, the Big Red Machine era was over. But Howsam, Anderson and the "Great Eight" left a legacy that will never be forgotten, and - in the era of high-priced free agency - may never be equaled.

C 1980s

The Reds went on a roller-coaster ride in the 1980s, both on and off the field. They had the best record in baseball in 1981, but did not appear in the postseason because of an odd split-season format necessitated by a mid-year strike. The Reds finished second in both halves of the season, and were thus ineligible for postseason play. The Reds sunk to last in 1982, losing over 100 games (101) for the first time in club history. The unpopular Dick Wagner, who had replaced Howsam in 1978, was fired and Howsam returned to run the club. He restored fan enthusiasm when he brought Pete Rose back to Cincinnati in 1984 as player/manager and signed the Reds' first significant free agent, Dave Parker.

In late 1984, Marge Schott purchased the Reds and quickly established herself as the club's No. 1 booster. She became a very visible and popular owner, signing hundreds of autographs at home games from her seat behind the Reds dugout.

Rose provided a moment for the ages at Riverfront Stadium in 1985 when he stroked "4192", breaking Ty Cobb's Major League record. Rose also proved to be an inspired choice for manager. He developed several young players, including Barry Larkin, Eric Davis and Paul O'Neill, and led the Reds to four consecutive second-place division finishes. One of his young pitchers, Tom Browning, produced one memorable night at Riverfront on Sept. 16, 1988, when he pitched the first perfect game in Reds history.

But Rose hit rock-bottom in the summer of 1989 when Major League Baseball investigated him for gambling on baseball. The commissioner's office and Rose eventually negotiated a settlement for a lifetime ban from the sport, with a provision for reinstatement after one year (although no finding was made with regard to the gambling charges).

The decade began with one of the most remarkable seasons in Reds history. New Manager Lou Piniella inherited Rose's young talent and General Manager Bob Quinn made several successful trades, adding Randy Myers, Hal Morris and Billy Hatcher. The Reds broke out of the gate with nine straight wins and never lost the lead in the NL West, making them the first club to go wire-to-wire in a 162-game season. Jose Rijo, Tom Browning and Jack Armstrong led the starters; Randy Myers combined with Rob Dibble and Norm Charlton to form the "Nasty Boys," baseball's most dominating bullpen. Eric Davis, Chris Sabo, Paul O'Neill and Barry Larkin led the offense. After edging the Pirates in a tense six-game NLCS, highlighted by the tremendous outfield defense of Cincinnati, the Reds shocked baseball by sweeping the favored Oakland A's. Led by Jose Rijo's two wins - he was named Series MVP - and the hitting of Sabo and Hatcher, the Reds pulled off one of the biggest upsets in World Series history.

But Piniella was unable to win another title, and he was replaced in 1993 by the popular Tony Perez. But after the Reds stumbled out of the gate, the new general manager, Jim Bowden, announced Perez's firing after just 44 games, and the hiring of Davey Johnson. It was a rough baptism for the young Bowden, but he quickly established himself as one of the most successful GMs in baseball. In an era of booming payrolls, the small-market Reds found it difficult to compete with their better-financed brethren. Cost-cutting moves in the 1980s had left the Reds' farm system depleted, and so Bowden turned to free agents and trades to build the team. In 1994 the Reds were in first place when the owners ended the season early in a labor dispute, and canceled the post-season.

In 1995 the National League was divided into three divisions, and the Reds won the new NL Central. The Reds swept the Dodgers in the first round of the playoffs, but were swept by the Braves in the NLCS. Shortstop Barry Larkin was named the league's MVP that season, after batting .319 with 15 homers and 51 stolen bases.

In 1996, Larkin surpassed his 1995 performance as he became the first shortstop in Major League history to hit 30 or more homers and steal 30 or more bases in a single season. After surpassing the 30 stolen-base mark, Barry made history on Sept. 22 vs. St. Louis, when he blasted his 30th homer of the season in the 5th inning.

Sean Casey

In the late 1990s, the Reds began to focus on developing younger players, and suffered through a rebuilding period. Veteran Jack McKeon was hired to guide these new-look Reds. Bowden added Sean Casey, Dmitri Young, Danny Graves, Denny Neagle, Michael Tucker, Mike Cameron and Greg Vaughn in trades and the farm system produced Pokey Reese, Aaron Boone, Brett Tomko and Scott Williamson. With the addition of free agents Pete Harnsich and Steve Parris, the Reds had assembled a team that surprised the experts by winning 96 games and competing for the Central Division title. Although the Reds lost to the Mets in a one-game playoff for a postseason berth, the young talent on the team and in the farm system has the club well-positioned for the Reds' third century of baseball.R

2000 and Beyond

For Reds fans, the new century dawned on Feb. 10, 2000, when the Reds announced the signing of Ken Griffey Jr., one of the most sought-after free agents in baseball history, to a nine-year contract. The trade for the Cincinnati native - who had frolicked on the riverfront turf as a youngster with his father, Ken Sr. - generated enormous enthusiasm on the part of Reds fans. Griffey's arrival helped stir talk of a pennant in 2000, and although Griffey had a fine year, leading the team in home runs (40) and RBI (118), the Reds failed to catch St. Louis and finished second in the NL Central. Their 85 wins ranked sixth out of the NL's 16 clubs.

Three days after the conclusion of the 2000 season, on Oct. 4, groundbreaking ceremonies for Great American Ball Park took place beyond the center-field wall of Cinergy Field. Commissioner Bud Selig was among those in attendance. The massive construction project brought about several changes for Cinergy Field, including the removal of thousands of outfield seats, the opening of the seating "bowl" in center field, a new outfield wall configuration and the installation of a natural grass field, the first in Cincinnati since the days of Crosley Field. As the framework of the new ballpark rises beyond the center-field wall, the present and future of the Reds will be on display. Cinergy Field (above) lost some 14,000 seats in the fall of 2000, as portions of left and center field were removed in preparation for the construction of Great American Ball Park.

Great American Ball Park will be ready for occupancy on Opening Day 2003. The ballpark will fit in between what was formerly Cinergy Field and the Firstar Center, with home plate facing south east towards the Ohio River.

In July of 2001, the Reds announced the formation of an internal community relations department and The Cincinnati Reds Community Fund, a nonprofit, 501 (c)(3) organization. The Cincinnati Reds Community Fund was designed for the sole purpose of extending special care and incentives through unique and exclusive programs to those citizens and organizations less fortunate within the Greater Cincinnati area. The Fund will directly support those efforts focusing on, but not limited to, youth sports, education and literacy, health and physical fitness awareness, and social and community service programs. Led by Reds Chief Operating Officer, John Allen, the Fund's initial Board of Directors included Michael Ringering (president), Reds director of communications and community relations, Lorrie Platt (secretary), Reds manager of community relations, Anthony Ward (treasurer), Reds controller, Rick Stowe, Reds clubhouse and equipment manager, Dr. Timothy Kremchek, Reds medical director, Amin Akbar, Tamara Harkavy, Robert Matteucci, James McGraw Jr., Sharon Montgomery, Kitty Strauss and Owen Wrassman.

In 2002, the Reds celebrated their final season at Riverfront Stadium/ Cinergy Field. Built in 1970, the all-purpose stadium had been home to both the Reds and the NFL's Cincinnati Bengals.

The weekend of Sept. 20-22 saw the Reds play host to the Philadelphia

Phillies in the final series in the history of the stadium. On Sunday, Sept. 22, more than 40,000 fans were in attendance for the final game to pay tribute as the Reds invited 55 current and former players, coaches, managers and front-office executives to take part tribute to Riverfront Stadium/Cinergy Field on Sunday, Dec. 29, 2002, as more than 25,000 spectators flooded into downtown Cincinnati to witness the implosion of the Reds former home. Detonation took place at 8 a.m., and in just 37 seconds, Cinergy Field collapsed into itself, sending a huge plum of dust and smoke into the early morning air. Nearly 1,400 pounds of explosives - strategically placed in 2,000 places in the stadium - ripped apart Cinergy Field's 18 supporting columns, causing a neatly choreographed collapse that was just about as close to perfect as possible. No damage was reported at neighboring Great American Ball Park, which was just a few feet away from Cinergy Field in some sections.

Crews began the clean-up process almost immediately. O'Rourke Wrecking Co. will be removing the 100,000 cubic yards of concrete, 600,000 square feet of masonry and 22,500 tons of steel through August 2003. This process will make room for the construction of a facility that will house the Reds Hall of Fame and a team store scheduled for the summer of 2004.

With the opening of Great American Ball Park slated for 2003, the club vacated its offices at Cinergy Field on Friday, Oct. 4 and reported to a new three-story, state-of-the-art complex on Monday, Oct. 7 - ushering in a new era of Reds baseball.

As Great American Ball Park entered its final construction stages, the city of Cincinnati paid its final

The City of Cincinnati

The Ohio River Valley, where Cincinnati and northern Kentucky are situated, has long been known as a land of special promise. For centuries, various American Indian tribes revered the lush valley where several smaller rivers join the Ohio River to be sacred hunting grounds. Indians from throughout the Midwest would travel to what is now Cincinnati to hunt the huge herds of bison and other game that frequented the area.

Word soon spread about this "promised land" as European immigrants began to travel west during the last half of the 18th century. Part of the Northwest Territory ceded to the United States in 1783 by England, the area where Cincinnati now exists was considered among the most fertile land on the continent.

As the only spot along the Ohio River where the steep hills did not come to the river's banks, the area that would become Cincinnati was the natural setting for a great city.

On Dec. 28, 1788, a group of hearty pioneers beached their riverboats directly across the Ohio River from the mouth of Kentucky's Licking River, and Cincinnati was born.

After the Indian threat was ended through fierce fighting in the mid-1790s, Cincinnati and northern Kentucky grew rapidly. Its dense forests and fertile river valley soil provided area settlers with ample natural resources. The superior river transportation network created by the convergence of the Ohio, Licking and Great Miami rivers also allowed local surpluses to be shipped to New Orleans for nationwide distribution.

Cincinnati's agricultural riches quickly turned this booming and boisterous river town into the nation's top hog market, earning the city the nickname "Porkopolis" by 1820. A wave of German immigrants also made Cincinnati equally famous for its tasty beer and German heritage, as it became the nation's top beer producing (and consuming) city.

During the riverboat heydays of the 19th century, Cincinnati was among the nation's largest and busiest inland water ports. A major stop for commercial and pleasure vessels traveling down the Ohio to the Mississippi River and New Orleans, Cincinnati's big-city sophistication rivaled that of almost any other city. Its sophistication and growth was so renown that shortly after the Civil War, the New York Times declared Cincinnati to possess the most metropolitan atmosphere of any city outside New York.

So rapid was the growth of Cincinnati that by 1860, it was the sixth-largest U.S. city and the unquestioned manufacturing capital of the nation. When New York Tribune editor Horace Greeley wrote his famous lines in 1850, "Go West young man, and grow up with the country," he was talking about the Midwest and in particular, Cincinnati. Greeley also predicted that, "within 50 years, Cincinnati will become the greatest city on earth."

Such fame, fortune and location prompted many influential people to advocate relocating the U.S. capital to Cincinnati as early as 1830. The movement culminated in 1870 with an actual convention in Cincinnati on moving the nation's capital, where nothing was accomplished and the movement died.

When the riverboat era faded into the railroad age in the late 19th century, Cincinnati also relinquished its title as the center of westward migration and growth. Although it remained a prosperous city, gone forever was Cincinnati's dream of becoming the world's greatest metropolis as giants such as Chicago and St. Louis mushroomed on the western frontier.

As other cities were expanding in the pioneer spirit Cincinnati long discarded, the city matured. The "Queen City of the West" (a title made popular by poet Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in 1854) embraced its dominant German culture by creating large annual cultural festivals and erecting nationally famous cultural institutions like Music Hall, Cincinnati Art Museum and the Cincinnati Art Academy in the late 1800s.

Cincinnati had slipped from sixth to ninth place in population by 1900, but it remained one of the nation's most important cities. A world manufacturing leader in numerous industries such as printing materials, shoes, leather goods, machine tools and soap, Greater Cincinnati's labor force paid one-sixth of the first national tax bill when federal income tax began in 1916.

The city gained the world's spotlight once again in the early 1930s when Cincinnati had the distinction of opening the world's largest municipal airport (Lunken Airport) and train terminal (Union Terminal). With its manufacturing clout in place, Cincinnati played a key role in the World War II effort by producing fighter plane engines and other critical materials.

Today, Greater Cincinnati finds itself a thriving, mid-sized city that continues to be a leader in many business and cultural affairs. Cincinnati is among the country's fastest growing cities, and it is attracting world attention with its rapidly expanding airport and unusually strong foreign export market.

Always a city with tremendous community pride, Cincinnati grandly observed its 200th birthday in 1988 with a year-long celebration that saw citizens volunteer more than one million hours and $69 million. As part of the celebration, an expansive city park was dedicated at the spot where the city founders landed.

In 2000, the city went "hog wild" with its display of fiberglass pigs. Described as the "Big Pig Gig," hundreds of individual and corporate sponsors anteed up to display pigs of all sizes, shapes and distinctions. The event, which raised money for charity, was a huge success and a lot of fun.

Important Dates in Reds History

- June 1, 1869 In the first game ever played by a professional baseball team (all paid players, no amateurs), the Cincinnati Red Stockings beat the Mansfield Independents, 48-14.
- Feb. 2, 1876 The National League is formed in New York City with Cincinnati as a charter member. The other cities in the league included Chicago, Boston, St. Louis, Hartford, Louisville, New York and Philadelphia.
- June 14, 1870 After 130 consecutive games without a loss, Cincinnati falls for the first time: Brooklyn Atlantics 8, Red Stockings 7 in extra innings.
- Oct. 6, 1880 Cincinnati is expelled from the National League, due in part to its selling beer in the ballpark. The club returned to NL for good in 1890.
- April 11, 1912 Redland Field (later known as Crosley Field) is officially dedicated. The Reds beat Chicago in the first game, 10-6.
- Oct. 9, 1919 Cincinnati claims its very first World Championship, winning the World Series over the Chicago White Sox, five games to three (the World Series was "best five out of nine" that year).
- Sept. 29, 1920 The Reds' 1919 title is tarnished as several members of the White Sox are suspended for allegedly "throwing" the Series. Cincinnati insists its club would have won no matter what. Chicago's team is derisively nicknamed the "Black Sox."
- Feb. 4, 1934 Radio tycoon Powel Crosley Jr. buys the Reds, thus assuring that the team, which had been hit hard by the Depression, will stay in Cincinnati.
- May 24, 1935 The first night game in Major League history is played at Cincinnati's Crosley Field. The Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1, before 20,422 fans.
- Aug. 3, 1940 Reds' catcher Willard Hershberger commits suicide in mid-season, the first big leaguer ever to take his own life during the season.
- Oct. 8, 1940 After winning their second NL pennant in a row, Cincinnati grabs the World Championship, defeating the Tigers, 4-3, in the World Series.
- Aug. 18, 1956 The Reds set a team record by blasting eight homers in one game, victimizing the Milwaukee Braves. For the season, Cincinnati clouted 221 dingers, tying the National League record.
- June 28, 1957 After Cincinnati fans stuff the ballot box and vote eight starters onto the All-Star team, the National League intervenes, pulling three Reds' players out of the starting lineup. George Crowe, Wally Post and Gus Bell are replaced as starters by Willie Mays, Henry Aaron and Stan Musial.
- Sept. 26, 1961 Under Manager Fred Hutchinson, the Reds clinch the National League pennant, their last flag at Crosley Field.
- Dec. 9, 1965 Reds' OF Frank Robinson is dealt to the Orioles for RHP Milt Pappas, OF Dick Simpson and RHP Jack Baldschun.
- Feb. 28, 1970 Pete Rose signs a contract for $105,000 to become the first player in club history to earn a six-figure salary.
- June 30, 1970 Riverfront Stadium opens.
- Nov. 29, 1971 The Reds deal 1B Lee May, 2B Tommy Helms and INF Jim Stewart to Houston in exchange for 2B Joe Morgan, RHP Jack Billingham, INF Denis Menke and OFs Cesar Geronimo and Ed Armbrister.
- June, 1972 The city of Cincinnati says goodbye to Crosley Field as demolition workers dismantle the fabled ballpark. The corner of Findlay and Western Avenue would never be the same.
- Oct. 21, 1975 In one of the most memorable World Series games ever, Game 6 of the '75 Classic goes to the Red Sox after Boston's Bernie Carbo and Carlton Fisk connect for late-inning homers. The Reds bounce back and win the World Series the following day.
- Oct. 21, 1976 Cincinnati's Big Red Machine wins its second straight World Series title. Under Manager Sparky Anderson, the Reds sweep both the Phillies (three straight) and New York (four straight) in postseason play.
- Dec. 16, 1976 In a move which signals the beginning of the end for the "Big Red Machine" era, Tony Perez is dealt to Montreal (along with Will McEnaney) for pitchers Woodie Fryman and Dale Murray.
- Oct. 4, 1981 The Reds finish with the best record in the Major Leagues, but don't make the playoffs. Due to an unusual "split-season" format, the Reds do not qualify for post-season play.
- Dec. 21, 1984 Mrs. Marge Schott becomes the general partner of the Reds' ownership group.
- July 8, 1985 Mrs. Marge Schott is named club president and chief executive officer.
- Aug. 24, 1989 Cincinnati hero Pete Rose is given a lifetime ban from baseball for conduct related to gambling. Terms of

All games are postponed due to terrorist acts in New York (World Trade Center), Washington D.C. (The Pentagon) and Somerset, Penn. MLB Commissioner Bud Selig issues the following statement: "In the interest of security and out of a sense of deep mourning for the national tragedy that has occurred today, all Major League Baseball games for today have been cancelled. I will continue to monitor the situation on a daily basis and make ongoing decisions accordingly. My deepest sympathy and prayers go out to the families and victims of this horrendous series of events."

History of the Reds Uniform

History of the Reds uniform, courtesy of Mark Okkonen.

The Reds began the 1900 season with the oldest tradition in professional baseball, dating back to 1869. Their uniforms were basically a continuation of the 1890s, white at home and dark, musty blue on the road. The caps were the standard close-fitting round style with a short bill. Red piping was used on the seams leading up to the red top button and around the base of the crown. A red "C" was also added to the front of the cap around 1900.

The home uniform in the first decade of the 1900s was always white and displayed either "CINCINNATI" or variations of a capital "C" on the left breast - a precursor of the standard emblem of future decades.

On the road, the city name "CINCINNATI" was continued on the chest in red capital letters on the gray or blue uniforms. By 1908 the standard block letters were replaced by a fancier style, and the cap was a solid red with white piping and no "C." This cap was also worn at home along with a solid red collar. In 1909 the darker blue road uniform returned, but instead of "CINCINNATI," a large fancy-style red "C" was positioned on the left breast, as well as a smaller "C" on the sleeves and on the cap - a sort of "reverse" image of the previous white home uniform.

After 1910 several notable new trends in uniform design had become fashionable - the standard shirt collar was replaced by a short stand-up "cadet" style and subsequently by a tapered collar extension or no collar at all. Stirrup-type outer stockings were used in place of the one-piece color stockings - certainly a practical improvement in terms of daily laundering requirements.

Pin-striped fabrics in various widths and color combinations became common. Team nicknames were being accepted as "official" by the clubs and began to appear on the uniform jerseys. The very first version of the now-famous team logo made its appearance in 1911; the name "REDS" inside an ornate, scalloped "wishbone-style" capital "C." Red striping was also introduced around the button lapel and along the edge of the "cadet" style collar. A smaller capital "C" was placed on the sleeve, and the home cap was solid red. By 1913, the "cadet" collar was modified, and the C-REDS logo was also included on the left breast of the darker road suits. This combination of red-on-blue has to be one of the homeliest outfits ever worn by a baseball team.

Within a few years, good taste must have prevailed because the road uniforms reverted to a more conventional gray version of the home whites. Those dark blue road uniforms never again appeared on a Red player. By the end of the decade, the Reds logo had been established as a standard design and remained basically unaltered through the entire decade of the 20s. About the only features that changed at all during this long run of uniform design were to be the alternate use of pin-striped fabrics, evolutionary modification to the collar shape and trim and the return to a dark solid cap in the late 20s.

The team's first World Championship in 1919 (tainted though it was by the infamous "Black Sox" scandal) must have convinced club management that they had a "winning" year. The uniforms for most Major League teams during the "roaring 20s" were, likewise, generally plain and conservative. Oddly enough, it took a stock market crash and the onset of a prolonged depression to trigger a new flurry of ideas and colorful innovations in baseball uniforms.

By 1930, the Reds, like most of the other clubs, were breaking out of the rut of repetitive, plain uniforms. Pinstripes were "out", and white or gray cap crowns with a solid red bill were "in." The name "CINCINNATI" was restored to the gray road jerseys in red capital letters with a thin navy outline piping.

By the mid-30s, combinations of blue and white stripes were added to the solid red of the stockings, and the piping trim in the uniform was embellished by multiple beads and combinations of red and navy blue. In 1935 "REDS" was added to the sleeves of the road jersey and marked one of the very few occasions when the full team name (city plus nickname) was displayed on any Major League uniform.

By 1936 the predominance of the color red on the uniform trimmings had given way to equal billing for navy blue. The cap bill, the undersweaters, the socks, and even the C-REDS logo incorporated navy. The overall appearance was brighter, in keeping with the multi-color trimmings of many of the other club uniforms. This inclusion of navy blue was to remain an integral part of the color scheme for the next 20 years.

Cincinnati introduced night baseball to the world in 1935. The following season, they experimented with a radically different uniform design referred to as the "Palm Beach" uniforms. All piping trim was removed and the C-REDS emblem was replaced by a REDS in script lettering on the left breast of the jersey. They wore this uniform only occasionally in 1936 and 1937 and, for some night games, they even included solid red trousers.

This orgy of new graphics and extra color trimmings peaked out by 1938. The "CINCINNATI" on the road grays was still done in fancy-style block letters, but the socks were no longer multi-striped and the piping trim was somewhat toned down. The white or gray cap crown was replaced by solid navy with a red bill and a red "wishbone C."

For the 1939 season, austerity made a dramatic comeback on the Reds uniforms. All piping was eliminated, the socks were a plain half-red, half-navy combination and "CINCINNATI" on the road grays was restored to plain block capital letters - all red with no outline trim.

The navy blue background and white trim were retained on the C-REDS emblem on the home whites and remained constant through the mid-50s.

Could the superstition of once again not wanting to alter a "winner" be the reason why this basic uniform motif remained unchanged for the next 16 years? A second and third pennant in 1939-40, plus a "bona fide" World Series Championship in '40, would lend credence to this supposition. This long run of stable, conservative uniforms climaxed in the early 50s. The navy blue on the socks and sweaters was gone and the combination red and navy cap was replaced by your basic solid navy cap. The pendulum of design was ready to wing back to something more adventurous.

The anti-communist hysteria of the McCarthy era contributed to what is, in retrospect, an embarrassingly silly decision on the part of the Cincinnati Baseball Club.

After nearly 80 years of being identified as the Reds or Red Stockings - a fact which had absolutely no political or international overtones, and is as purely and innocently American as hotdogs and Crackerjacks - it was determined that the name REDS was detrimental to the organization and to baseball.

To their credit, a thread of tradition was retained by compromising on a harmless corruption of the team nickname, henceforth, they were to be called the RED LEGS.

In cadence with this new image, the team uniforms for 1956 underwent the most drastic overhaul in nearly 20 years. Navy blue was abandoned entirely as red became the sole color of the uniform trim (another plus for the salvation of long tradition). The name REDS was no longer displayed on the home uniforms after 45 years.

The most novel feature (not a first - the Cubs were the originals in 1940) was the sleeveless vest jersey. The stockings were still red, but with narrow white stripes. The caps were solid red with a white "wishbone C" and even the belts were red. The undershirt sleeves were solid red (when not cut off at the shoulder a la Ted Kluszewski). The gray road uniforms were identical to the home whites except for the baseball head cartoon face ("Old Red") which replaced the wishbone C on the left breast. The sleeveless vest won approval from the players (the Pirates "followed suit" in '57) and remained a uniform feature until the mid-60s.

As if to further underscore the all-scarlet theme, all red stockings were restored and red pinstripes were added to the home whites the following year. The solid red cap was also replaced by a white or gray cap crown (to match the jersey) for 1957. A touch of navy blue reappeared in 1961 as piping rim on the vest sleeves holes and around the "C" on the cap. Also, as if to signify the end of the "Redlegs" era, a modified oval version of the C-REDS emblem returned to the home jersey front (with a navy blue background as in the last version.)

The city name "CINCINNATI" was also restored on the road gray uniform in arched red capital letters with a thin navy outline. The sleeveless vest era produced a fourth pennant (1961), but this time the uniform design was not destined for a long run.

By the mid-60s, a couple of future Cincinnati legends had arrived (Pete Rose and Johnny Bench) and the nucleus of the future Big Red Machine had its beginnings.

The sleeveless jersey was displaced by a conventional short-sleeved model, and navy blue once again was eliminated as a second color. The gray road uniform was basically a revival of the early 50s, except the cap was now solid red instead of navy, and a uniform number appeared on the jersey front.

The first years of the revival of the short-sleeved home jersey retained the red pinstripes, but by 1970, (Sparky Anderson's first pennant winner and the inaugural season of Riverfront Stadium) the home uniform was plain white.

For 1972, Cincinnati joined the rest of the majors in adopting the new double-knit fabric uniform with its revolutionary features. Lighter, cooler, more comfortable and easier to clean - it was the uniform of the future - and the future for Cincinnati baseball spelled glory and championships.

The famous C-REDS emblem was retained as was the all-red trim motif. But with the new built-in sash belt and pull-over jersey, buttons and belts were no longer needed. Red and white striping trim was added to the sleeve ends and collar as well as on the new sash belt.

In spring training of 1978, the Reds jolted the baseball world by stepping onto the field with all-green uniforms for an exhibition game on March 17 (St. Patrick's Day, of course). After a century of basically red-trimmed uniforms, this novelty version had the same curious visual shock value as Andy Warhol's non-red Coca-Cola art. It was all in fun, and the fans loved it. These hybrid uniforms were afterwards auctioned off for charity, and have since become prized collector's items.

The Reds continued their basic white uniform through most of the 1980s, although in 1986, added an optional solid red jersey with "CINCINNATI" spelled out. The Reds added stripes down both sides of the trousers in 1988, and this would be the look for the next several years, including the 1990 World Championship club.

In 1993 the club reintroduced pinstripes, belts and a sleeveless home vest. Both the home white, and road gray jersey featured red pinstripes on tops and trousers. The home sleeveless jersey featured the traditional Reds C-LOGO on the left breast, with the uniform number adjacent on the right breast. A solid red undershirt, both short sleeve and long, featured a solid white "wishbone C" logo on the upper-left portion of the sleeve.

The home cap in 1993 also underwent a distinct change. The white cap featured red pinstripes and a solid red bill with a solid red "wishbone C" logo. The road cap remained solid red with a white "wishbone C" logo.

The Reds would not make another major uniform change until the 1999 season. The addition of black to the uniform was the most distinctive change. Black was added as a drop-shadow to the traditional "C-LOGO", and was also featured on the bill of the home cap (solid red with a white wishbone C and black drop-shadow), and as the base color for the road cap (red bill with a white wishbone C and black drop-shadow).

The Reds also introduced the "Running Man" logo into the uniform. Both a solid red and solid black undershirt featured the "Running Man" on the upper portion of the left sleeve. Player names and uniform numbers featured solid red letters and numbers, with white and black drop-shadows.

The 2000 season saw the Reds replace the "Running Man" logo on the left sleeve of the undershirt with a new "Running Man" logo that incorporated the anniversary of the club's 10th and 25th World Series titles.

Fred Hutchinson

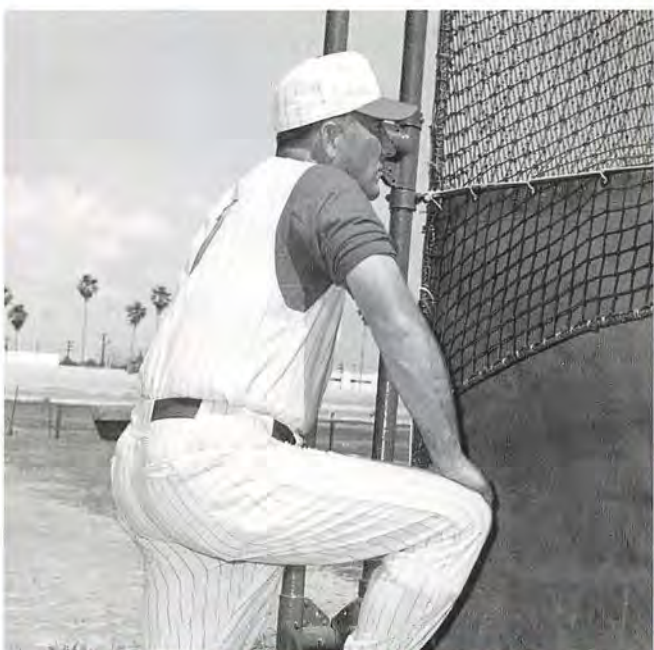

Born: Aug. 12, 1919 at Seattle, Wash.
Died: Nov. 12, 1964, Bradenton, Fla.
Number Retired: 1965

Fred Hutchinson was a popular and successful manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Hutch's 466 managerial victories and .543 winning percentage rank him among the best managers ever to wear a Cincinnati uniform. The Reds exceeded the 90-win mark in three of his six seasons at the helm, and in 1961 they took the National League pennant.

But the joy of a first-place finish was matched only three years later by the sadness of Hutch's illness and early death. The courage, class and determination that Fred exemplified all his life were all the more evident during his battle with cancer. Hutch stepped down as Reds manager in 1964, and died that November.

The following year, Hutch's uniform (No. 1) became the first one in Cincinnati Reds history to be retired.

Today, Fred Hutchinson's legacy lives on in the world-renowned Cancer Research Center that bears his name, and in The Hutch Award. It is given annually to a Major League ballplayer who "best exemplifies the character and fighting spirit of the late Fred Hutchinson...who overcomes any form of adversity." Past winners include Ray Knight, Ron Oester, Eric Davis, Bobby Tolan, Johnny Bench and Sean Casey.

Johnny Bench

Born: Dec. 7, 1947

Birthplace: Oklahoma City, Okla.

Number Retired: Aug. 11, 1984

Cincinnati's uniform No. 5 belongs to perhaps the greatest catcher to ever play in the Major Leagues. The standard by which all other catchers are measured, Johnny Bench ended his 17-year storied career in 1983 after earning two MVP Awards, 10 Gold Gloves and 14 trips to the All-Star Game. Bench was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 1989.

Bench began his career with a bang, earning Rookie-of-the-Year honors in 1968. Able to control a game on both sides of the plate, he ended his career with a .267 average and 389 homers (327 as a catcher, which at the time stood as a record for NL catchers).

On the Reds' all-time batting list, Bench ranks first in homers and RBI (1,376), second in runs (1,091), extra-base hits (794) and total bases (3,644), third in hits (2,048) and doubles (381).

Johnny appeared in 22 National League Championship Series games and 23 World Series games. Bench earned World Series MVP honors in 1976 when the Reds swept the NY Yankees, four games to none. He twice led the league in home runs (1970 with 45, and 1972 with 40), and three times in RBI (1970 with 148, 1972 with 125, and 1974 with 129).

Frank Robinson

Born: Aug. 31, 1935

Birthplace: Beaumont, Texas

Number Retired: May 22, 1998

Frank Robinson, a 12-time All-Star, was elected to the Reds Hall of Fame in 1978 and the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1982.

Robinson began his professional career in Cincinnati, and would spend 10 of his first 21 professional seasons in a Reds uniform. While playing for the Reds from 1956 to 1965, Robinson belted 30 or more homers in seven of his 10 seasons, including a rookie record of 38 while winning the National League's Rookie of the Year Award in 1956.

In 1961 Robinson was named the National League's Most Valuable Player after hitting .323 with 37 homers and 124 RBI, while helping guide the Reds to their first World Series appearance in 21 years.

Following the 1965 season, Robinson was traded to the Baltimore Orioles and went on to win the American League Most Valuable Player Award in 1966 after winning the Triple Crown with a .316 average, 49 homers and 122 RBI.

Robinson, who played for the Reds, Orioles, Dodgers, Angels and Indians, ranks among baseball's all-time leaders with 586 home runs (4th), 5,373 total bases (9th), 1,829 runs (11th), 2,808 games (15th), 1,812 RBI (14th), 528 doubles (24th) and 2,943 hits (25th).

Robinson's uniform No. 20 was officially retired in a pregame ceremony on May 22, 1998.

Joe Morgan

Born: Sept. 19, 1943

Birthplace: Bonham, Texas

Number Retired: June 6, 1998

Joe Morgan, a 10-time All-Star and five-time Gold Glove second baseman, was elected to the Reds Hall of Fame in 1987 and the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1990. A two-time MVP Award winner, Morgan spent eight seasons with the Reds from 1972-'79 during the glory days of the Big Red Machine.

He was named the NL's Most Valuable Player in 1975, when he guided the Reds to a World Series victory over the Boston Red Sox. Morgan batted .327 with 67 stolen bases that season. He turned the trick again in 1976, when he received NL MVP honors as the Reds roared to their second straight World Series Championship with a four-game sweep of the New York Yankees. Morgan batted .320 in 1975, with 60 stolen bases.

Morgan is the Reds all-time stolen base leader (406), and his 266 home runs as a second baseman rank second in baseball history. He finished his 22-year professional career with 268 homers, 1,133 RBI and 689 stolen bases for the Astros, Reds, Giants, Phillies and Athletics.

Morgan's uniform No. 8 was officially retired in a pregame ceremony June 6, 1998.

Ted KluszewskiBorn: Sept. 10, 1924 at Argo, Ill.Died: March 29, 1988Number Retired: July 18, 1998

Ted Kluszewski, a four-time All-Star, was elected to the Reds' Hall of Fame in 1962. Following an 11-year career with the Reds, he was noted as the greatest left-handed slugger and one of the best fielding first basemen in club history.

From 1947 to 1957, Big Klu hit 251 homers for the Reds, including 49 in 1954 to lead the National League. His 141 RBI that season also led the league, and both tallies are club records for left-handers.

Kluszewski also led the National League for five straight seasons in fielding from 1951-55.

He finished his 15-year, big-league career with a .298 batting average, 279 homers and 1,028 RBI, playing for the Reds, Pirates, White Sox and Angels.

Kluszewski, who also served the Reds as a coach from 1970-78, had his uniform No. 18 officially retired on July 18, 1998.

Tony Perez

Born: May 14, 1942

Birthplace: Camaguey, Cuba

Number Retired: May 27, 2000

Tony Perez, the heart and soul of Cincinnati's Big Red Machine World Series championship teams of 1975 and 1976, was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame on July 23, 2000. He was the third member of the Big Red Machine elected to the Hall, joining catcher Johnny Bench (1989) and second baseman Joe Morgan (1990). The popular first baseman was inducted into the Cincinnati Reds Hall of Fame in August 1998.

A seven-time All-Star and MVP of the 1967 All-Star Game, Tony appeared in five World Series and six League Championship Series. His 1,652 RBI are the most among players from Latin America and the 18th-highest total among all ML players.

Perez ranks among baseball's all-time leaders in RBI (18th), games (19th), at-bats (25th), doubles (33rd), home runs (140th), hits (47th) and runs scored (104th). He ranks among the Reds all-time leaders in RBI (2nd), home runs (3rd), total bases (3rd), games (4th), at-bats (4th), hits (4th), extra-base hits (4th) and doubles (5th).

He played 23 years from 1964-'86. Only 14 players played more seasons. From 1967-'76, he led all Major Leaguers with 1,028 RBI.

Reds in the Hall of Fame

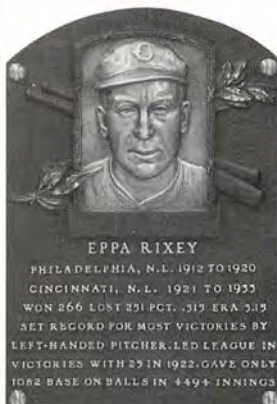

The idea for a National Baseball Hall of Fame developed in 1934, when Stephen C. Clark, a resident of Cooperstown, N.Y., purchased what is still believed to be the original baseball. After Clark had purchased the ball for $5, he conceived the idea of displaying it with similar baseball objects for the game's fans. The one-room exhibit in Cooperstown's Village Club drew tremendous public interest. National League President Ford C. Frick also embraced the endeavor and spearheaded the development of a full-fledged baseball museum. Frick, looking for a way to celebrate baseball's upcoming 100th anniversary, also suggested a Hall of Fame to shrine the game's immortals. The Baseball Writer's Association of America was enlisted to select the players who would be honored during the Hall's first class in 1936. The annual voting became a huge hit nationwide, and in 1939 the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum was officially opened. A total of 39 former Reds players, managers and executives have been inducted into the Hall since then. Of those, nine entered as representatives of the Cincinnati Reds.

Did You Know.....

More than 10,100 tons of structural steel was used in the construction of Great American Ball Park - the equivalent of 9.8 billion paperclips, or enough to make a paperclip chain that would circle the globe nearly eight times. The 10,100 tons of steel is also enough to build 81 Statues of Liberty.

Hank Aaron

*6/30/70 - Riverfront Stadium opens, as 51,050 fans attend to see the Reds host the Atlanta Braves. Atlanta wins, 8-2, as Hank Aaron hits the stadium's first home run.

*7/1/70 - The Reds post their first win in Riverfront Stadium's second game, downing the Atlanta Braves, 9-2. Tommy Helms becomes the first Red to homer at the new park.

*7/14/70 - Just two weeks after the stadium opened, Riverfront is the site for baseball's All-Star game. The National League scores a dramatic 5-4 victory in 12 innings as Pete Rose crashes into AL catcher Ray Fosse to score the winning run on Jim Hickman's RBI single. Rose was joined in the Mid-summer Classic by teammates Johnny Bench, Jim Merritt, Tony Perez and Wayne Simpson.

Rose crashes into Fosse.

*8/11/70 - Tony Perez becomes the first player to homer into the upper-level Red Seats at Riverfront with a blast into left field off the Mets Jim McAndrew.

Tony Perez

*6/3/71 - Chicago's Ken Holtzman pitches the first no-hitter at Riverfront Stadium, winning 1-0 over the Reds.

*6/23/71 - Philadelphia's Rick Wise no-hits the Reds for a 4-0 win. Wise also hits two homers in the game.

*10/11/72 - The Reds score two runs in the bottom of the 9th to beat the Pirates, 4-3, in the 5th and deciding game of the NLCS. Johnny Bench ties the game with a homer off Dave Giusti. George Foster scores the winning run on Bob Moose's wild pitch.

*4/4/74 - Hammerin' Hank Aaron ties Babe Ruth's all-time home run record with a 1st-inning, three-run homer off Jack Billingham on Opening Day 1974 for career home run No. 714.

*1975 - The Reds finish the season going 64-17 at Riverfront Stadium en route to their club record of 108 wins. It's the most victories recorded by the Reds at home in the modern era.

*5/5/78 - Pete Rose singles off Montreal's Steve Rogers for career hit No. 3,000.

*6/6/78 - Tom Seaver becomes the first Reds pitcher to throw a no-hitter at Riverfront, beating the Cardinals, 4-0.

Tom Seaver

*7/31/78 - Pete Rose extends his hitting streak to 44 consecutive games, a mark topped only by Joe DiMaggio's record of 56. Rose would have the streak halted the next night in Atlanta.

*4/18/81 - Tom Seaver records career strikeout No. 3,000, fanning Keith Hernandez of the St. Louis Cardinals.

*9/17/83 - Johnny Bench homers off Houston's Mike Madden on "Johnny Bench Night" at Riverfront Stadium. It was the 389th and final homer of his career.

Johnny Bench

*8/17/84 - Pete Rose debuts as Reds player/manager. Rose leads the Reds to a 6-4 win over the Cubs, going 2-4 with two RBI, including an RBI single in his first at-bat.

*9/11/85 - Pete Rose becomes baseball's all-time hits leader with a single to left-center field off San Diego's Eric Show for career hit No. 4,192.

*7/12/88 - The All-Star Game returns to Riverfront Stadium. The American League edges the National League, 2-1. Danny Jackson, Barry Larkin and Chris Sabo represent the Reds.

Tom Browning

*9/16/88 - Tom Browning becomes the first pitcher in Reds history to throw a perfect game when he retires all 27 Dodgers he faces for a 1-0 victory.

*6/2/89 - Eric Davis becomes the first Red since Frank Robinson in 1959 to hit for the cycle as he singles, doubles, triples and homers vs. the Padres.

*8/3/89 - The Reds score 14 runs on 16 hits in the bottom of the 1st inning in their 18-2 win over Houston.

*10/12/90 - The Reds edge the Pirates, 2-1, in the 6th and final game of the 1990 NLCS for their first NL pennant since 1976.

*10/90 - Billy Hatcher sets a World Series record with seven consecutive hits, going 3x3 in Game 1 (October 16, 1990) and 4x4 in Game 2 (October 17) vs. Oakland.

*10/6/95 - The Reds defeat the Dodgers and pitcher Hideo Nomo, 10-1, in Game 3 of the Division Series. The victory sends the Reds to the NLCS vs. the Braves.

*4/1/96 - Opening Day turns tragic as long-time NL umpire John McSherry collapses behind home plate just seven pitches into the game. McSherry is rushed to University Hospital, where he passed away due to a massive heart attack.

*9/1/96 - The Reds make it official when the club, in a pregame ceremony, unveils the retired uniform numbers of former catcher Johnny Bench and Manager Fred Hutchinson on the left-field wall of Riverfront Stadium. It marks the first time in the stadium's history that retired uniform numbers are displayed.

Cinergy Field Highlights

*9/9/96 - Riverfront Stadium is renamed Cinergy Field.

*9/20/96 - St. Louis Cardinals shortstop Ozzie Smith makes his final visit to Cincinnati and is honored in a pregame ceremony.

*9/22/96 - Barry Larkin becomes the first shortstop in ML history to join the prestigious 30-30 club (30 homers and 30 stolen bases in the same season), when he belts his 30th homer of the season in Game 1 of a doubleheader vs. the St. Louis Cardinals.

Barry Larkin

*3/97 - Cinergy Field takes on a "field-lift," as new artificial surface is put in place. It marks the first time the artificial turf has been replaced since prior to the start of the 1988 season.

*1998 - The Reds retire three uniforms, all to be placed on the left-field wall at Cinergy Field. Frank Robinson's uniform No. 20 (May 22), Joe Morgan's uniform No. 8 (June 6) and Ted Kluszewski's uniform No. 18 (July 18) join Fred Hutchinson and Johnny Bench as the only numbers retired in the club's history.

Tony Perez

*5/27/00 - The Reds retire Tony Perez's uniform No. 24 uniform.

*8/1/00 - Demolition of Cinergy Field begins on Tuesday, August 1, 2000, with the demolition of the east-side parking garage and a significant portion of left and center field, to make room for construction of the Reds' future home - Great American Ball Park.

*10/00 - Cinergy Field gets natural grass in October 2000 as the stadium undergoes face-lift in preparation for the construction of Great American Ball Park - the future home of the Reds.

*8/21/00 - Barry Larkin collects career hit No. 2000 off Philadelphia's Randy Wolf August 21, 2000. Larkin becomes the first shortstop in Major League Baseball history and only the 7th player ever to accumulate 2,000 hits, 170 homers and 350 stolen bases.

*8/9/01 - Ken Griffey Jr. becomes the youngest player ever to reach 450 career homers when he rips a two-run homer off San Francisco's Russ Ortiz. At 31 years, 261 days old, he breaks the record previously held by Hall of Famer Jimmie Foxx (31 years, 276 days).

*12/31/02 - Cinergy Field comes down in a cloud of dust at 8 a.m. More than 25,000 spectators flooded into downtown Cincinnati to witness the event. In just 37 seconds, Riverfront Stadium/Cinergy Field became a distant memory.

Crosley Field History

For 58 years Crosley Field stood as more than a ballpark in an industrial city that seemed anything but inviting. The colorful home to the Cincinnati Reds, which stood from 1912 to 1970, warmly welcomed

Reds fans to one of baseball's greatest cities.

Located in the run-down West End, Crosley Field stuck out like a refuge in a concrete jungle. Nestled between Western Avenue and Findlay Street, and surrounded by the smokestacks and factories that adorned the skyline, Crosley Field opened its arms to fans, offering simplicity and intimacy to its visitors.

"There it sat, in kind of a dilapidated neighborhood, like a jewel," Paul Sommerkamp, former Crosley public-address announcer, once said. "You'd walk up through the portals to the seats. The sight of that bright-green grass would hit you, and you'd think you'd walked into another world."

Older fans remember Crosley Field as a quirky ballpark that played home to some of the game's greatest players. Before Cinergy Field and the Big Red Machine, sluggers such as Ted Kluszewski, Vada Pinson, Ernie Lombardi, Frank McCormick, Gus Bell, Wally Post and Frank Robinson delighted fans in a park that hosted 4,534 professional baseball games.

Originally named Redland Park in 1912, it was renamed Crosley Field in 1934 after broadcasting magnate Powel Crosley took over control of the team. A year later, Crosley Field played host to the first night baseball game, which would prove to be a success for the team. In the seven night games during the 1935 season, the Reds averaged 18,000 fans per night game. The team averaged just 4,600 during day games.

Two years later Cincinnati was hit by the worst flood in city history, and the flood waters worked their way over the walls of Crosley Field, which eventually became submerged. This set the stage for what has become one of the most memorable images in Cincinnati Reds history. Pitchers Gene Schott and Lee Grissom rowed a boat down Western Avenue and over the right-field wall. The picture has long been associated with Cincinnati history.

It's said that Crosley Field was home to both the young and old. A 15-year-old Joe Nuxhall made his debut for the Reds at Crosley in 1944. Nine years later, a 47-year-old Satchel Paige became the oldest pitcher in an All-Star Game when he took the mound on July 14, 1953, at Crosley Field.

Despite all of the great moments that took place at Crosley Field, it was the ballpark itself that left a lasting impression on generations of Reds fans.

The Sun Deck was a colorful name for the right-field bleachers that intersected with the center-field wall. A hand-painted white line was used for a ground rule that stated, "Batted ball hitting concrete wall on fly to right of white line - home run." The line wasn't the only quirk, though. A small sign in left field challenged hitters to "Hit this sign and get a Siebler suit free." Post won 11 of them.

Perhaps no other ballpark underwent as many changes and renovations as Crosley Field endured. Its double-decked grandstand was extended from two-thirds of the way down both lines to the left- and right-field corners. Portable seats were installed, removed, re-installed and removed again in many areas. Home plate was relocated twice. A right-field screen went up and down several times, and a state-of-the-art scoreboard, with a 7'x10' long Longines clock, replaced the ground-level board in '57.

Buildings marked "Merchants Paper" and "Lackner Neon Signs" peaked above the center and right-center-field walls on Western Avenue. The outfield walls were adorned with advertisements for Coney Island, Shillito's department stores, Coca-Cola, Hudepohl Beer ("Get moody with Hudy"), Young & Bertke Sheet Metal Company and other area businesses.

Fans at Crosley Field could also taste and smell typical ballpark fare. Peanuts, popcorn, bratwurst, red hots, beer and lemonade were ballpark favorites at Crosley. Fans were also treated to a variety of on-field promotions that put them side-by-side with their favorite ballplayers. Those players entered the field from the clubhouse through the grandstands on the third-base side of the ballpark, which allowed fans to see their heroes right before their eyes.

Despite the bond between the city and the ballpark, Crosley Field was abandoned in 1970 for the new Riverfront Stadium. The memories were left behind, and two years later, Crosley Field was demolished. Quietly, the Reds' longest lasting home was reduced to rubble.

Crosley Field Highlights

*10/9/19 - Cincinnati claims its very first Worlds Series Championship, winning five games to three over the Chicago White Sox. On Sept. 24, 1920, the title is tarnished as several members of the White Sox are suspended for allegedly "throwing" the Series. Cincinnati insists the club would have won no matter what. Chicago's team is derisively nicknamed the "Black Sox."

Powel Crosley Jr.

*4/15/24 - The largest ever Opening Day Crowd at the Crosley Field location totaled 35,747 in a 6-5 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

*4/16/34 - Following the sale of the Reds by The Central Trust Company to Cincinnati businessman Powel Crosley Jr., Redland Field is rechristened "Crosley Field."

*5/24/35 - Larry McPhail and the Reds introduce night-time baseball to the Major Leagues, as the Reds defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 before 20,422 fans.

*7/31/35 - A wild crowd of at least 35,000 fans, many standing along the foul lines of Crosley Field, disrupt a Reds-Cardinals night game.

*1/27/37 - Crosley Field's playing surface is under 21 feet of water due to local creek flooding. Reds pitcher Lee Grissom and groundskeeper Matty Schwab are photographed in a rowboat crossing the playing surface. Remarkably, the ballpark is made game-ready in time for Opening Day in April.

*1938 - The Reds reduce the dimensions of the park by moving home plate 20 feet closer to the outfield fences. The new distances became 328 feet down the left field line, 375 to center field and 366 down the right-field line.

*6/11/38 - Johnny Vander Meer pitches the first of his consecutive no-hitters vs. Boston.

*7/6/38 - Crosley Field plays host to the sixth annual All-Star Game. Ernie Lombardi, Paul Derringer, Ival Goodman, Frank McCormick and Johnny Vander Meer represented the Reds on the National League squad.

Vander Meer tossed three scoreless innings as the NL's win 4-1.

*9/28/39 - Paul Derringer pitches a thrilling 5-3 victory over the second-place St. Louis Cardinals, thus helping the Reds clinch the pennant.

*10/8/39 - Temporarily dazed by a home-plate collision, Reds' catcher Ernie Lombardi watches helplessly, unable to retrieve the nearby baseball, as the Yankees' Joe DiMaggio circles the bases for a 10th-inning, World Series run. The Reds lose the Series to the Yankees, 4-0.

Ernie Lombardi

*4/23/40 - Crosley Field was the site of the first postponement in Major League history due to a flood. Flood water from the Millcreek backed up into the ballpark through drains, and although the river levels were far below the historic 1937 flood, once the flood stage reached 57 feet, the water began to pool on the field and two games with the Cardinals had to be rescheduled.

*10/8/40 - The Reds win the 7th game of the 1940 World Series, coming from behind to beat Detroit 2-1.

*7/6/49 - The Reds' Walker Cooper sets a club record by collecting 10 RBI in a game vs. the Chicago Cubs.

*7/14/53 - The second and final Major League All-Star Game is held at Crosley Field. A crowd of 30,846 watched as the National League defeated the American League 5-1. Gus Bell and Ted Kluszewski were the only Reds represented.

*A 58-foot high scoreboard is erected at Crosley Field just one week prior to Opening Day. It replaced Matty Schwab's original scoreboard which was built in 1912 and extensively remodeled in 1934. The new scoreboard included a clock and measured 65 feet wide.

*9/26/61 - Under Manager Fred Hutchinson, the Reds clinch their final pennant at Crosley Field.

*1966 - In the summer of 1966 Crosley Field plays host to its most famous non-baseball act as the Beatles storm into Cincinnati for a concert. Despite bad weather, more than 15,000 fans showed up for the show.

*9/1/67 - Reds partake in the longest game in club history, losing to the San Francisco Giants 1-0 in 21 innings.

*6/24/70 - The final of 4,453 regular-season National League games is played at Crosley Field. The Reds beat the San Francisco Giants, 5-4.

*4/72 - The demolition of Crosley Field begins. By the fall of that same year, the hallowed ballpark had disappeared.

One Perfect Night

On Sept. 16, 1988, left-handed pitcher Tom Browning tossed the only perfect game in Cincinnati Reds history, when he retired all 27 batters faced in a 1-0 Reds victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

It was only the 14th perfect game (9.0 innings or more) in Major League history, just the 3rd in modern National League history, and the first no-hitter by a Red since Tom Seaver blanked the Cardinals on June 16, 1978 (4-0).

Browning's perfect game capped off an incredible season in which he posted an 18-5 record, including a 16-2 mark after June 6.

Cincinnati
vs.
Los Angeles
Oct. 3-6, 1995
Reds 3 - Dodgers 0

Game 1 @ LA - Reds 7 - Dodgers 2: Starter Pete Schourek was outstanding, limiting LA to just five hits in 7.0 innings ...Reds took an early 4-0 lead in the 1st on a Hal Morris two-run double, and a two-run homer by Benito Santiago, in his first post-season at-bat ...Reds added three more runs in the 5th on a Santiago sac fly, and Jeff Branson's two-run double to take game one.

Game 2 @ LA - Reds 5 - Dodgers 4: Despite being out-hit 14-6, the Reds were able to pull out a close one in game two ...After allowing the Dodgers an early 1-0 lead, the Reds took the lead in the 4th inning, as Ron Gant reached on an error, then scored on a Reggie Sanders two-run homer ...With the game tied 2-2 in the 8th, the Reds got an RBI single from Barry Larkin to take a 3-2 lead, then held on in a wild 9th inning to take game two, 5-4.

Game 3 @ Cin - Reds 10 - Dodgers 1: The Reds exploded for 10 runs in game three, as they battered Dodger starting pitcher Hideo Nomo for five runs on seven hits in the first five innings ...The Reds iced the game in the 6th, when pinch-hitter Mark Lewis connected off Mark Guthrie for a grand slam, giving the Reds a 7-1 lead ...It was the first pinch-hit grand slam in National League playoff history ...Ron Gant and Bret Boone also homered, as the Reds pounded out 11 hits off six Dodger pitchers ...Starter David Wells earned the victory, after allowing just one unearned run on six hits in 6.1 innings.

Petite Schourek was impressive in Game 1, as he allowed just two runs in 7.0 innings, while helping the Reds to a 7-2 win. Schourek finished 1995 placing second to Atlanta's Greg Maddux in the NL Cy Young Award voting.

Mark Lewis' pinch-hit, grand slam in Game 3 of the 1995 Division Series iced the Reds' eventual 10-1 victory over the Dodgers, while sending the club into the National League Championship Series vs. the Atlanta Braves.

Pittsburgh

Oct. 7-11, 1972

Reds 3 - Pirates 2

Game 1 @ Pit. - Pirates 5 - Reds 1: Joe Morgan, the second batter to face Steve Blass, hit a solo homer in the 1st inning, but the Pirates came up with three in their half of the 1st, and coasted to a 5-1 win.

Game 2 @ Pit. - Reds 5 - Pirates 3: Pirate starter Bob Moose failed to retire a batter, as the Reds battered him for five straight hits to lead off the game, en route to a four-run 1st inning.

Game 3 @ Cin. - Pirates 3 - Reds 2: Manny Sanguillen homered for the first Pittsburgh run, then drove in the tie-breaking run in the 8th inning to give the Bucs a 3-2 win in Game 3.

Game 4 @ Cin. - Reds 7 - Pirates 1: Starter Ross Grimsley shut down the Pirates in a complete-game effort, as he allowed the Bucs just one run on two hits ...The Reds battered four Pirate pitchers for seven runs on 11 hits.

Game 5 @ Cin. - Reds 4 - Pirates 3: With the Bucs leading 3-2 heading into the bottom of the 9th inning, Johnny Bench belted a solo homer off Dave Giusti to tie the game at 3-3 ...Tony Perez and Denis Menke followed with singles, chasing Giusti from the game ...With Bob Moose on the mound, and George Foster at third (pinch-running for Perez), Moose uncorked a wild pitch, and Foster raced home with the winning run for a dramatic 4-3 victory in Game 5.

Cincinnati
vs.
New York
Oct. 6-10, 1973
Mets 3 - Reds 2

Game 1 @ Cin. - Reds 2 - Mets 1: Tom Seaver set a league playoff record by striking out 13 Reds, but after seven superb scoreless innings, he allowed a solo homer to Pete Rose in the 8th, and another solo blast to Johnny Bench in the 9th.

Game 2 @ Cin. - Mets 5 - Reds 0: Jon Matlack pitched a two-hitter and struck out nine batters, as the Reds were blanked for the first time in NLCS play.

Game 3 @ NY - Mets 9 - Reds 2: Rusty Staub homered in his first two times to the plate to lead Jerry Koosman to an easy 9-2 victory. The game was marred twice by bench-clearing brawls, triggered when Pete Rose slid into Bud Harrelson at second base in the 5th.

Game 4 @ NY - Reds 2 - Mets 1: Pete Rose hit a home run off Harry Parker in the 12th inning, to give the Reds a 2-1 victory, evening the series at 2-2. Tony Perez tied the game at 1-1 in the 7th with his first homer of the NLCS.

Game 5 @ NY - Mets 7 - Reds 2: Tom Seaver, a victim of non-support most of the regular season, was backed by a 13-hit attack as he out-pitched Cincinnati ace Jack Billingham. The Mets broke the game open with a four-run 5th inning en route to their second pennant.

Oct. 4-12, 1990

Reds 4 - Pirates 2

Game 1 @ Cin. - Pirates 4 - Reds 3: Eric Davis misplayed an Andy Van Slyke 7th-inning fly ball, which turned into a game-winning double, as the Pirates rallied from a 3-0 deficit ...Sid Bream belted a two-run homer to tie the game in the 4th ...The Reds attempted a comeback in the 9th, putting runners on first and third with nobody out, but were unable to score.

Game 2 @ Cin. - Reds 2 - Pirates 1: Paul O'Neill drove in both Reds' runs with a single and double, while Tom Browning, Rob Dibble, and Randy Myers combined on a six-hitter to even the series.

Game 3 @ Pit. - Reds 6 - Pirates 3: Mariano Duncan drove in four runs, three of which came on a 5th-inning homer, to put the Reds in the lead to stay ...Billy Hatcher gave the Reds an early 2-0 lead in the 2nd inning with a two-run homer, as the Reds took a 2-1 lead in the series.

Game 4 @ Pit. - Reds 5 - Pirates 3: Chris Sabo blasted a two-run homer in the 7th inning to break a 2-2 tie, as the Reds took a commanding 3-1 series lead ...Eric Davis made the defensive play of the game, throwing out Bobby Bonilla at third base in the 8th inning, as he tried to stretch a double into a triple.

Game 5 @ Pit. - Pirates 3 - Reds 2: Doug Drabek kept the Pirates' hopes alive with a strong performance before Bob Patterson bailed him out of a 9th-inning jam ...Reds scored a run in the 1st, but the Bucs answered with two in their half of the inning and never trailed again.

Game 6 @ Cin. - Reds 2 - Pirates 1: The Reds nailed down their first pennant since 1976 on the strength of a combined one-hitter by Danny Jackson, Norm Charlton and Randy Myers ...The Reds broke a 1-1 tie in the 7th inning, as pinch-hitter Luis Quinones singled home Ron Oester.

vs.
Atlanta
Oct. 10-14, 1995
Braves 4 - Reds 0

Game 1 @ Cin. - Braves 2 - Reds 1 (11): With the Reds holding a slim 1-0 lead heading into the top of the 9th, the Braves managed a late-inning rally, and knotted the game on a fielder's choice by David Justice ...Mike Devereaux got the game-winner in the 11th, driving home Fred McGriff with a single to center field ...The Reds were victimized by five Atlanta double plays.

Game 2 @ Cin. - Braves 6 - Reds 2 (10): The Braves jumped out to an early 1-0 lead in the 1st inning on an RBI single by Chipper Jones ...Down 2-0, the Reds rallied in the 5th, scoring two runs on an RBI single by pinch-hitter Lenny Harris, and a steal of home by Jeff Branson (first steal of home in NLCS history) ...The game remained tied until the 10th, when the Braves erupted for four runs off Mark Portugal to earn a 6-2 victory.

Game 3 @ Atl. - Braves 5 - Reds 2: The Reds were unable to figure out Atlanta's starter Greg Maddux, as he pitched 8.0 innings allowing just one run while scattering seven hits ...The game remained scoreless into the 6th, when the Braves' Charlie O'Brien blasted a three-run homer off David Wells ...The Braves added two more runs in the 7th en route to a 5-2 win.

Game 4 @ Atl. - Braves 6 - Reds 0: Four Braves' pitchers combined to shut out the Reds as Atlanta starter Steve Avery pitched 6.0 innings of two-hit ball to earn the win ...The Braves iced the game with a five-run 7th inning, earning the four-game sweep.

1919 Series Rocked By Scandal

In the end, the rumors would be true. Following the 1919 "Black Sox Scandal," two members of the Chicago White Sox made tearful confessions to a Cook County grand jury that they had indeed been involved in a scheme to throw the 1919 World Series. That day, Eddie Cicotte and Shoeless Joe Jackson told the story of accepting a large amount of cash, presumably supplied by known gambler Arnold Rothstein, that would be split by eight members of the Sox.

Pitcher Cicotte, outfielder Jackson, third baseman Buck Weaver, center fielder Oscar (Happy) Felsch, first baseman Arnold (Chick) Gandil, utility infielder Fred McMullin, shortstop

Charles (Swede) Risberg and pitcher Claude (Lefty) Williams had conspired with gamblers to throw the Series, and thus entered the history books as the infamous "Black Sox."

None of the players were convicted in court, but all eight were banned from the game for life by the first commissioner of baseball, continued next page former Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, who was hired to clean up America's growing favorite pastime.

The supposed involvement of certain players was something of a mystery in its own right. Weaver, who had known about the conspiracy from the beginning, refused to take part and batted .324 in the Series. He was banned for not exposing his teammates.

Jackson, who admitted taking $5,000, batted .375 with a homer and six RBI.

But, there were those who were as guilty as sin.

Risberg committed four errors and batted .080, but did not receive a cent. Gandil - the organizer of the scam - on the other hand, walked away with $30,000 and immediately announced his retirement. Cicotte lost two of his three starts and earned a $10,000 payday. He later told the grand jury it was not worth the effort.

Cincinnati
vs.
New York
Oct. 4-8, 1939
Yankees 4 - Reds 0

Game 1 @ NY - Yankees 2 - Reds 1: With the game knotted at 1-1 in the bottom of the 9th inning, the Yankees' Charlie Keller hit a one-out triple, and eventually scored the game-winner on a Bill Dickey single. Red Ruffing held the Reds to just four hits, as he earned the complete-game victory.

Game 2 @ NY - Yankees 4 - Reds 0: Monte Pearson tossed a no-hitter through 7.1 innings before allowing a single to catcher Ernie Lombardi. Babe Dahlgren doubled and homered, as the Yanks took a 2-0 advantage in the series.

Game 3 @ Cin. - Yankees 7 - Reds 3: Charlie Keller spearheaded the Yankee attack, as he struck for two homers and four RBI to help New York take a commanding 3-0 lead in the series. The Reds collected 10 hits on the day (all singles), but managed only three hits after the 3rd inning.

Game 4 @ Cin. - Yankees 7 - Reds 4 (10): The Yankees earned the World Series crown with a dramatic three-run 10th inning. With the Reds holding a 4-2 lead in the 9th, the Yankees rallied for two runs on a Reds' error and an infield hit to tie the game. In the 10th, catcher Lombardi was stunned by a home-plate collision, and lay helplessly as DiMaggio rounded the bases to score on a mere single. During that inning, the Reds' defense fell apart, as they committed three errors and watched the Yankees walk away as World Series Champions.

In one of the more freakish plays of the 1939 World Series, Reds catcher Emie Lombardi was involved in a home-plate collision in the 10th inning of Game 4. As he laid dazed at home plate, Joe DiMaggio scampered home all the way from first base to give the Yankees the lead for good.

vs.

Detroit

Oct. 2-8, 1940

Reds 4 - Tigers 3

Game 1 @ Cin. - Tigers 7 - Reds 2: The Tigers erupted for five runs in the 2nd inning, chasing Reds' ace Paul Derringer from the game ...Bobo Newsome went the distance, allowing the Reds just two runs on eight hits ...The victory by the Tigers was the A.L.'s 10th consecutive in the Series.

Game 2 @ Cin. - Reds 5 - Tigers 3: Bucky Walters allowed the Tigers just three runs on three hits as the Reds evened the Series at 1-1 ...Jimmy Ripple got the game-winning hit with a 3rd inning, two-run homer ...Reds coach-turned-catcher Jimmy Wilson (age 40) ripped two hits.

Game 3 @ Det. - Tigers 7 - Reds 4: With the game knotted at 1-1, Rudy York and Pinky Higgins struck for two-run homers in the 7th, giving Detroit a 5-1 lead.

Game 4 @ Det. - Reds 5 - Tigers 2: Paul Derringer earned the complete game victory after surrendering just two runs on five hits, as the Reds got two hits each from Bill Werber, Frank McCormick, Ival Goodman and Mike McCormick.

Game 5 @ Det. - Tigers 8 - Reds 0: The Reds were held to no runs on three hits by Bobo Newsome as the Tigers coasted to an 8-0 victory ...Hank Greenberg struck for a three-run homer.

Game 6 @ Cin. - Reds 4 - Tigers 0: After being shut out in game five, the Reds returned the favor in Game 6, blanking the Tigers 4-0 ...Bucky Walters went the distance, surrendering just five hits, and helped his own cause by homering ...The Reds chased Tigers' starter Schoolboy Rowe in the 1st inning, scoring two runs on four hits.

Game 7 @ Cin. - Reds 2 - Tigers 1: In a close-fought contest, the Reds clinched the World Series title by scoring two late runs ...Trailing 1-0 in the 7th, Frank McCormick and Jimmy Ripple hit back-to-back doubles, and Billy Myers added a sac fly to give the Reds their first World Series title since 1919.

vs.

New York

Oct. 4-9, 1961

Yankees 4 - Reds 1

Game 1 @ NY - Yankees 2 - Reds 0: Elston Howard and Bill Skowron each belted solo homers powering Whitey Ford to his record 8th World Series victory.

Game 2 @ NY - Reds 6 - Yankees 2: The Reds broke open a 2-2 tie in the 4th when Elio Chacon used some heads-up baserunning to score the go-ahead run. Joey Jay allowed the Yanks just two runs on four hits, as the Reds evened the series at 1-1.

Game 3 @ Cin. - Yankees 3 - Reds 2: Johnny Blanchard delivered a clutch pinch-hit homer in the 8th to tie the game at 2-2. Roger Maris then won the game with a homer in the 9th. Bob Purkey suffered the loss for the Reds despite allowing just three runs on six hits.

Game 4 @ Cin. - Yankees 7 - Reds 0: Whitey Ford combined with Jim Coates to blank the Reds on five hits. Ford left the contest in the 6th inning, but not before he extended his World Series scoreless streak to 32 innings, eclipsing Babe Ruth's record of 29.2 innings.

Game 5 @ Cin. - Yankees 13 - Reds 5: With Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra out of the lineup with injuries, the Yankees resorted to the bench and erupted for six runs in the first two innings. Hector Lopez drove in five runs, as the Yankees pounded out 15 hits off eight Reds' pitchers.

Baltimore
Oct. 10-15, 1970
Orioles 4 - Reds 1

Game 1 @ Cin. - Orioles 4 - Reds 3: Boog Powell hit a two-run homer and Ellie Hendricks and Brooks Robinson added solo shots, as the Orioles overcame an early 3-0 lead to earn a win in Game 1 ...Jim Palmer pitched 8.2 innings, allowing just three runs on five hits.

Game 2 @ Cin. - Orioles 6 - Reds 5: Reds again got out to an early 3-0 lead, but could not hold on, as the Orioles used a five-run, 5th inning to take Game 2, 6-5 ...Boog Powell blasted his second homer of the series and Ellie Hendricks added a two-run double.

Game 3 @ Bal. - Orioles 9 - Reds 3: Dave McNally went the distance for the O's and helped his own cause with a grand slam in the 6th giving Baltimore the victory and a commanding 3-0 lead in the Series ...Brooks Robinson had two great defensive plays to rob the Reds.

Game 4 @ Bal. - Reds 6 - Orioles 5: Lee May's clutch three-run homer in the 8th inning sent the Reds to their only victory of the Series, while snapping an Orioles 17-game winning streak ...Clay Carroll picked up the victory in relief.

Game 5 @ Bal. - Orioles 9 - Reds 3: The Orioles overcame a three-run deficit for the third time in the Series, and coasted to a 9-3 win and a World Series title ...Frank Robinson and Merv Rettenmund each homered and drove in two runs, and pitcher Mike Cuellar allowed only two hits after the 1st inning.

Oakland

Oct. 14-22, 1972

A's 4 - Reds 3

Game 1 @ Cin. - A's 3 - Reds 2: Gene Tenace made World Series history by becoming the first player to hit home runs in his first two Series at-bats ...Tenace drove in all three A's runs, filling the power void created by an injury to slugger Reggie Jackson.

Game 2 @ Cin. - A's 2 - Reds 1: Joe Rudi was the hero for the A's in Game 2, as he belted a solo homer and made a game-saving catch in left field ...Cattfish Hunter tossed 8.2 innings, allowing just one run on six hits, as the game was again played in front of a record setting crowd - 53,224.

Game 3 @ Oak. - Reds 1 - A's 0: The Reds got the game's only run in the 7th inning, when Cesar Geronimo singled home Tony Perez ...Jack Billingham pitched 8.0 shutout innings, and the Reds cut the A's series lead in half.

Game 4 @ Oak. - A's 3 - Reds 2: In the fourth consecutive one-run nail biter, the A's rallied for two runs in the 9th inning on four straight singles - three by pinch-hitters - to take a commanding 3-1 lead in the Series ...Don Gullett pitched 7.0 innings for the Reds, allowing just one run on five hits.

Game 5 @ Oak. - Reds 5 - A's 4: Pete Rose started the scoring with a first-pitch homer in the 1st, then ended the scoring with an RBI single in the 9th ...Leading 5-4 in the bottom of the 9th, Joe Morgan secured the win by throwing out Blue Moon Odom at the plate as the potential tying run.

Game 6 @ Cin. - Reds 8 - A's 1: The Reds were able to end their seven-game home losing streak in World Series play, with an 8-1 pounding of the A's ...Bobby Tolan and Cesar Geronimo each drove in two runs, and the Reds used a five-run 7th inning to force a Game 7.

Game 7 @ Cin. - A's 3 - Reds 2: The A's earned their first World Series title since 1930 with a 3-2 victory in Game 7...Gene Tenace was the hero, collecting two hits and two RBI ...Six of the seven games were decided by a one-run margin.

Cincinnati
vs.
BostonOct. 10-22, 1975
Reds 4 - Red Sox 3

Game 1 @ Bos. - Red Sox 6 - Reds 0: Luis Tiant tossed a five-hitter, singled and scored to lead the Red Sox to a 6-0. The game remained scoreless until the 7th when the Red Sox pushed across all six runs to ice the game.

Game 2 @ Bos. - Reds 3 - Red Sox 2: With the Reds trailing 2-1 in the 9th, Johnny Bench doubled, Dave Concepcion singled home Bench, and Ken Griffey doubled home Concepcion to give the Reds a come-from-behind, 3-2 win.

Game 3 @ Cin. - Reds 6 - Red Sox 5: A record six home runs were hit in Game 3, but the deciding blow was a bunt on which batter Ed Armbrister and catcher Carlton Fisk collided in the 10th inning...Trailing 5-1, the Red Sox scratched back, and eventually tied the game on a 9th-inning homer by Dwight Evans.

Game 4 @ Cin. - Red Sox 5 - Reds 4: Luis Tiant went the distance for the Red Sox as they used a five-run 4th inning and held on for the win...Tiant made 163 pitches, allowing four runs on nine hits.

Game 5 @ Cin. - Reds 6 - Red Sox 2: After suffering through an 0x15 slump, Tony Perez broke loose in Game 5, driving in four runs with two homers to lead the Reds to a 6-2 victory...Don Gullett got the win by pitching 8.2 innings of five-hit, two-run ball, giving the Reds a 3-2 Series lead.

Game 6 @ Bos. - Red Sox 7 - Reds 6: After the Sox tied the score in the 8th on pinch-hitter Bernie Carbo's three-run homer, Carlton Fisk belted a dramatic home run off the foul pole in the 12th...Dwight Evans saved the game for the Red Sox with his grab and double-play throw in the 11th...Considered one of the most dramatic games ever in World Series history, it kept the Red Sox alive and forced a Game 7.

Game 7 @ Bos. - Reds 4 - Red Sox 3: The Reds wrapped up the '75 Series after overcoming a 3-0 deficit...Joe Morgan was the hero as his 9th-inning single with two outs gave the Reds their first World Series title since 1940.

New York

Oct. 16-21, 1976

Reds 4 - Yankees 0

Game 1 @ Cin. - Reds 5 - Yankees 1: The Yankees returned to the World Series after a 12-year absence, but ran into a Reds' buzzsaw in Game 1 ...Joe Morgan homered in the 1st inning, and Tony Perez led the Cincinnati attack with three hits ...Don Gullett allowed the Yankees just one run on five hits in 7.1 innings pitched.

Game 2 @ Cin. - Reds 4 - Yankees 3: The Reds claimed Game 2 by breaking a 3-3 tie with two out in the 9th when Fred Stanley threw Ken Griffey's grounder into the dugout for a two base error ...Griffey then scored the game-winner on Tony Perez's single.

Game 3 @ NY - Reds 6 - Yankees 2: Dan Driessen cracked three hits, including a homer, and Pat Zachry and Will McEnaney scattered eight hits for the win ...The Reds jumped out to an early 3-0 lead in the 2nd inning, and never looked back.

Game 4 @ NY - Reds 7 - Yankees 2: Johnny Bench drove in five runs with a pair of homers as the Reds completed a four-game sweep of the Yankees to earn their second straight World Series crown ...Bench ended the series with a .533 average, and the Reds went a perfect 7-0 in the post-season.

Oakland
Oct. 16-20, 1990
Reds 4 - A's 0

Game 1 @ Cin. - Reds 7 - A's 0: The Reds scored four runs in the first three innings off Dave Stewart to coast to a 7-0 victory. Eric Davis opened the scoring with a two-run homer and Jose Rijo and two relievers kept the mighty A's off the scoreboard.

Game 2 @ Cin. - Reds 5 - A's 4 (10): Joe Oliver ripped an RBI single in the 10th off closer Dennis Eckersley to give the Reds a 5-4 win and a 2-0 lead in the Series. The Reds erased a 4-2 deficit, and Billy Hatcher ripped a World Series record 7th consecutive hit.

Game 3 @ Oak. - Reds 8 - A's 3: Chris Sabo belted two homers, including a two-run blast in a seven-run 3rd inning to lead the Reds past the A's in Game 3. For the second straight game, the Reds collected 14 hits off Oakland pitching. Chris Sabo set a record with 10 chances at third base.

Game 4 @ Oak. - Reds 2 - A's 1: Series MVP Jose Rijo outpitched Dave Stewart for the second time in the Series as the Reds earned a four-game sweep. Trailing 1-0 in the 8th inning, the Reds pushed two runs across the plate on a groundout by Glenn Braggs and sac fly by Hal Morris. Rijo allowed the A's one run in the 1st inning then retired 20 straight batters.

Dave Miley - Manager, AAA Louisville

Dave Miley enters his 14th season managing in the Reds organization and his fourth season at Louisville. Among Miley's accomplishments in 2002 was his 1,000th career win, which came in a 5-0 victory on 5/19 at Ottawa. Miley, who now owns a career managerial record of 1,053-794 (.570), also had the opportunity to manage the International League in the 2002 Triple-A All-Star Game. Miley enjoyed his best season as a skipper in 2001, when he guided the Bats to their first International League championship. His club set franchise records that season with 84 wins and a .583 winning percentage. Dave Miley has spent his entire 22-year pro career in the Reds organization. After seven seasons as a minor-league catcher, he has spent the last 15 years as a coach, instructor or manager, including a stint on the Reds' Major League coaching staff in 1993. In 1998, Miley was named the International League's best managerial prospect. He has twice won Manager of the Year honors (1997 at Triple-A Indianapolis and 1995 at Chattanooga, when he was also named Double-A Manager of the Year by Baseball America). Dave, 41, resides in Tampa, FL, with his wife, Andrea. He is the father of two children, Cody (12) and Courtney (8).

Mack Jenkins - Pitching Coach, AAA Louisville

Mack Jenkins enters his 14th season as a pitching coach in the Reds organization and his second season at Louisville. Prior to his promotion to Louisville, Jenkins served six seasons as the pitching coach at Double-A Chattanooga. He has also coached at Rookie Billings (1990-91), Class-A Cedar Rapids (1992) and Class-A Charleston (1993-95). Jenkins, who was signed by Cincinnati as a non-drafted free agent in 1986, went on to pitch in the Reds' system until 1988. Mack, 38, and his wife, Delight, reside in Sarasota, FL with their two children, Corinne (9) and Payton (6).

Adrian "Smokey" Garrett - Hitting Coach, AAA Louisville

Adrian Garrett enters his first season in the Reds organization. The 20-year coaching veteran last worked in professional baseball as the hitting coordinator for the Florida Marlins from 1999-01. Garrett also worked for the Marlins as a coach at Triple-A Edmonton (1993-94) and Triple-A Charlotte (1995-98). Garrett began his coaching career as a manager in the Chicago White Sox' system from 1982-84. He also served as the White Sox' minor-league hitting instructor in 1985. The former outfielder/catcher then spent six seasons as a coach in the Kansas City Royals' system (1987-92), including one season (1987) as a coach at Triple-A Omaha and five seasons (1988-92) on the Major League coaching staff. Garrett played 19 years of professional baseball (1961-79), including parts of eight seasons in the majors with Atlanta, Chicago-NL, Oakland and California. He finished his playing career in Japan with the Hiroshima Toyo Carp from 1977-79. Adrian, 60, and his wife, Linda, reside in Manchaca, TX. They have two children, Angela (32) and Jason (29).

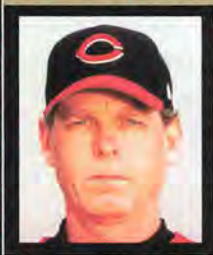

Phillip Wellman - Manager, AA Chattanooga

Phillip Wellman enters his eighth season in the Reds' minor-league system and his seventh season as a manager with the Reds. Wellman owns a career managerial record of 528-580 (.476) over 10 seasons, including 419-419 (.500) with Cincinnati. His only season in the organization spent not as a manager came in 2000, when he served as third-base coach and hitting coach at Triple-A Louisville. In addition to Chattanooga (1999, 2001-current), Wellman has managed Class-A Winston Salem (1996) and Class-A Burlington (1997-98). Before joining the Reds, he spent four seasons as a manager (1992-95), three with co-op clubs. He was also a hitting instructor in the Braves' chain for four years (1988-91). Drafted by Atlanta as an outfielder in 1984, Wellman played four minor-league seasons. Phillip, 41, resides in Spring Branch, TX with his wife, Montee, and two children, Britnee (14) and Brett (11).

Bill Maloney - Pitching Coach, AA Chattanooga

Bill Maloney enters his third season in the Reds organization and his first season at Chattanooga. Moloney spent 2002 at Class-A Stockton, where his pitching staff led the California League with a 3.20 ERA and 12 shutouts. Moloney joined the Reds in 2001 as the pitching coach at Class-A Dayton, where his staff ranked third in the Midwest League with a 3.68 ERA. Before joining the Reds, Moloney spent 21 years in the Boston Red Sox' system, serving as an assistant to the Major League staff in his final four seasons. Prior to that role, he spent two seasons (1995-96) as the pitching coach at Class-A Michigan. In addition to pitching in the Red Sox' minor-league system from 1979-84, Moloney was the home batting practice pitcher from 1984-90 and then full-time traveling batting practice pitcher from 1991-94. Bill, 47, resides in Lowell, MA. He has two children, Patrick (15) and Kevin (11).

Alonzo Powell - Hitting Coach, AA Chattanooga

Alonzo Powell enters his second season as the hitting coach for Chattanooga. Prior to joining the Reds organization, Powell enjoyed a 19-year professional career. Originally signed as a non-drafted free agent by San Francisco in 1983, the former outfielder also spent time in the Montreal, Minnesota, Seattle, Toronto, New York-AL and Colorado systems, making brief stints in the majors with the Expos in 1987 and with the Mariners in 1991. Powell saw his greatest success in Japan, where he played for the Chunichi Dragons from 1992-97 and the Hanshin Tigers in 1998. While playing in the Japanese League, Powell became the first American player to win three straight batting championships (1994-96). He was also a five-time All-Star and two-time winner of the Gold Glove. Alonzo, 39, resides in Indianapolis, IN, with his wife, Selena, and their three children, Cameron (14), Brooklyn (10) and Dalton (4).

Greg Grall - Coach, AA Chattanooga

Greg Grall enters his 10th season in the Reds organization and his ninth season at Chattanooga. Grall has spent all but one year of his coaching career with the Lookouts. His only year away from Chattanooga came during the 2000 season, when he coached at Class-A Clinton. From 1994-99, Grall served as an assistant coach and bullpen catcher at Chattanooga. He also played briefly with the Lookouts as a catcher/DH in 1997. Greg, 38, resides in Chattanooga, TN, with his wife, Peggy, and daughter, Cayce Jo (5).

Jayhawk Owens - Manager, A Potomac

Jayhawk Owens enters his second season in the Reds organization and his first season at Potomac. In 2002, as a first-year manager, Owens guided Class-A Stockton to the California League championship. The club's 89-51 record was the best of any Reds affiliate last season. Owens came to the Reds from the Houston Astros organization, where he spent two seasons as the hitting coach at Class-A Michigan and then Class-A Lexington. Originally selected by Boston in the 25th round of the June 1987 draft (did not sign) and then by Minnesota in the second round of the June 1990 draft, the former catcher played 10 professional seasons, including 130 games in the Major Leagues, all with Colorado from 1993-96. He ended his playing career as a member of the Reds organization from 1998-99. Owens, 34, is a native of Cincinnati and a 1987 graduate of Glen Este High School. He and his wife, Jennifer, reside in Anderson, OH with their two children, Walker Jayhawk (5) and Grace Marie (3).

Larry Pierson - Pitching Coach, A Potomac

Larry Pierson enters his first season in the Reds organization and his ninth season overall as a minor-league pitching coach. Pierson joins the Reds after eight seasons coaching in the Boston Red Sox organization. He began his coaching career in 1995 as the pitching coach with the Rookie Gulf Coast League Red Sox. Pierson also held the same positions at Class-A Lowell (1997), Class-A Michigan (1998), Class-A Augusta (1999) and Class-A Sarasota (2000-02). The former right-handed pitcher played four seasons (1987-90) in the St. Louis Cardinals' minor-league system. Larry, 38, and his wife, Kathy, reside in Cape Coral, FL.

Jamie Dismuke - Hitting Coach, A Potomac

Jamie Dismuke enters his fourth season as a coach in the Reds organization and his first season at Potomac. Dismuke, who was the hitting coach at Class-A Stockton in 2002, began his coaching career as a player/coach at Double-A Chattanooga in 1999. He joined the Lookouts' coaching staff full-time in 2000. Originally selected by Cincinnati in the 14th round of the June 1989 draft, the former first baseman went on to play nine minor-league seasons, including eight with the Reds. He also played one season (1998) in Italy. Jamie, 33, resides with his wife, Tammy, in Chattanooga, TN.

Donnie Scott - Manager, A Dayton

Donnie Scott enters his third season as the manager at Dayton. Scott has led the Dragons to the Midwest League playoffs in each of his first two seasons with the club, posting an overall record of 155-124 (.556). In addition to his two seasons at Dayton, Scott managed five seasons at Rookie Billings (1992-95, '97), where he won four Pioneer League championships and was named the league's Manager of the Year in 1993. He also managed the Rookie Gulf Coast League Reds in 1999. Along with his managerial experience, Scott has served the organization as minor-league field coordinator (1996, 1998-99) and camp coordinator (2000). Scott, a former catcher, spent parts of four seasons in the majors with Texas, Seattle and the Reds. Donnie, 41, and his wife, Debbie, reside in Pinellas Park, FL, with their two children, David (18) and Dana (15).

Jaime Garcia - Pitching Coach, A Dayton

Jaime Garcia returns to the coaching ranks after spending the last two seasons as the Latin America pitching instructor for the Kansas City Royals. Prior to that role, Garcia served the Royals as pitching coach at Class-A Charleston. Garcia has also held various coaching positions in the Chicago White Sox' (1988-96), Milwaukee Brewers' (1997) and Texas Rangers' (1998-99) minor-league systems. Jaime, 52, resides in Sarasota, FL with his wife, Julianne, and children, Jacquelyn, Jaime Nicole and Matthew.

Billy White - Hitting Coach, A Dayton

Billy White enters his first season with the Reds organization. White joins the Reds after spending nine seasons in the Colorado Rockies' minor-league system, including three years as a player (1994-96), one year as a manager (2000) and five years as a coach (1997-99, 2001-02). White spent the last two seasons as a coach at Class-A Asheville, where he also coached from 1997-99. His experience as a manager came in 2000 at Class-A Portland. Originally selected by Chicago-NL in the June 1989 draft, the former infielder went on to play eight professional seasons. White is a 1991 graduate of The University of Kentucky, where he earned a bachelor's degree in marketing. Billy, 34, resides in Asheville, NC, with his wife, Julie, and their son Charlie (1).

Rick Burleson - Manager, Rookie Billings

Rick Burleson enters his third season at Billings and his seventh season as a minor-league manager. Burleson has guided the Mustangs to the playoffs in each of his first two seasons with the club, winning the Pioneer League championship in 2001. The former big-league shortstop owns an impressive career record of 381-331 (.535), guiding his teams to the playoffs in five out of his six years as a manager. Prior to joining the Reds, Burleson managed Double-A San Antonio in the Los Angeles organization. In 1999, his first season with the Dodgers, he led Class-A San Bernardino to the California League championship. Burleson has also managed in the Seattle organization, where he led Class-A Lancaster to the playoffs in each of his two seasons (1997-98). Prior to his managerial career, Burleson served as a Major League hitting coach (1992) and third-base coach (1993) for Boston and as a roving minor-league baserunning instructor (1994) and Major League third-base coach (1995-96) for California. In addition, Burleson has served as a roving minor-league infield instructor (1989), scout (1990) and Major League batting coach (1991) with Oakland. A four-time All-Star, Burleson enjoyed a 13-year playing career with Boston, California and Baltimore. Rick, 51, resides in LaHabra, CA, with his wife Karen. They have four children: Tyler, Chad, Kyle and Lauren.

Ed Hodge - Pitching Coach, Rookie Billings

Ed Hodge enters his second season as the pitching coach at Billings. Last season, his first in the professional coaching ranks, Hodge guided a pitching staff that led the Pioneer League with a 3.72 ERA. Prior to joining the Reds, Hodge spent nine years as a college coach. He served as the pitching coach at Milligan College (TN) from 1993-96 and as the head coach at Mars Hill College (NC) from 1997-01. The former left-handed pitcher was drafted by Minnesota in the fifth round of the June 1979 draft. He went on to pitch nine professional seasons, reaching the majors with the Twins in 1984. Ed, 44, resides in Johnson City, TN with his wife, Anna, and their daughter Samantha (14). From 1990-97, he served Johnson City as a police officer/firefighter.

Jay Sorg - Hitting Coach, Rookie Billings

Jay Sorg enters his third season as the hitting coach at Billings. Prior to the beginning of the Pioneer League season, Sorg serves as minor-league camp coordinator for spring training and as a coach at Triple-A Louisville, roles he has had since 2001. Sorg also served as camp coordinator for the fall instructional league in 2001. Prior to his current position, Sorg managed Class-A Clinton in 2000, where he led the Lumberkings to a 71-69 record and qualified for the Midwest League playoffs as the youngest manager in professional baseball. Sorg, who joined the Reds' minor-league staff in 1999 as a coach at Class-A Rockford, also played five years (1994-98) in the minors for Cincinnati. The former first baseman was selected by the Reds in the 15th round of the June 1994 draft. Jay, 29, resides in Louisville, KY, with his wife, Shelly, and their three children, Ty (4) and Kyle (3) and Casey (1).

Edgar Caceres - Manager, Rookie Gulf Coast League Reds

Edgar Caceres enters his third season as the manager of the Gulf Coast League Reds. In each of his two seasons, Caceres has guided the club to a .500 or better record. Prior to his appointment, the Reds had posted seasons of 23-37 in 1999 and 14-41 in 2000. In 2001, his first season as a professional manager, Caceres led the Reds to a 36-22 record, missing the playoffs by only half a game. The Reds' .621 winning percentage that season was the highest among all of the organization's minor-league affiliates. Caceres joined the Reds after serving as a coach at Class-A Charlotte (Rangers) in 2000. The former infielder enjoyed a 15-year professional playing career, reaching the majors briefly with Kansas City in 1995, when he batted .239 with 1 HR and 17 RBI in 55 games. He began his playing career in the Los Angeles organization and also played in the Montreal, Chicago-AL, Milwaukee and Anaheim systems. Caceres played his final two seasons (1998-99) in Korea. Edgar, 38, a native of Barquisimeto, Venezuela, resides in Sarasota, FL with his wife, Susan, and their two children, Christian (8) and Maxwell (5).

Jeff Gray - Pitching Coach, Rookie Gulf Coast League Reds

Jeff Gray enters his fifth season as the pitching coach of the Gulf Coast League Reds. Prior to joining the Reds organization, Gray worked in the Boston Red Sox' system for five years, coaching the Rookie Gulf Coast League Red Sox in 1994 and Class-A Sarasota from 1995-98. Originally signed by Philadelphia as a free agent in 1984, Gray played 10 professional seasons, including Major League stints with the Reds in 1988 and with Boston in 1990 and '91. He enjoyed his finest season in 1991 as he posted a 2.34 ERA in 60 games for the Red Sox before having his career cut short after suffering a stroke in the clubhouse at Fenway Park in July. Gray retired in the spring of 1994 after falling just short in his comeback attempt. Jeff, 39, resides in Tampa, FL. He has two children, Haley (9) and Reed (7).

Bobby Williams - Hitting Coach, Rookie Gulf Coast League Reds

Bobby Williams enters his fourth season in the Reds organization and his second season with the GCL Reds. Along with his responsibilities as a coach, Williams will share minor-league camp coordinator duties with Jay Sorg for spring training. He will also serve as camp coordinator, a role he began in 2002, for the fall instructional league following the season. At 25 years old, Williams is the youngest coach in the Reds' minor-league system. He joined the organization in 2000 as a coach at Rookie Billings and then went on to coach at Class-A Mudville in 2001. Williams, who was selected by Baltimore in the June 1995 draft (did not sign), graduated from Rollins College in 1999. He went on to Georgia Southern University, where he earned his master's degree in sports management. Bobby is the son of Orlando Magic Senior Executive/VP Pat Williams. He resides in Orlando, FL.

Marco Davalillo - Hitting Coach, Rookie Gulf Coast League Reds

Marco Davalillo enters his first season as a coach with the GCL Reds. Davalillo joins the Gulf Coast staff after spending the last four years managing the Reds' Venezuelan Summer League team. He has also spent time in the Venezuelan Winter League, where he currently coaches for Oriente (1996-present) and previously coached for Caracas (1991-95). From 1995-98, Davalillo was a part-time scout for the Anaheim Angels. He also served as infield coordinator for the Angels' Dominican Instructional League during that period. Davalillo is the son of Pompeyo "Yoyo" Davalillo, who played briefly for the Washington Senators (1953) and managed in the Venezuelan and Mexican Leagues for 25 years. Marco, 35, lives in Venezuela with his wife, Maria, and their daughter, Marymar Gabriela (10).

Coordinators/Instructors

Freddie Benavides - Infield Coordinator

Freddie Benavides enters his fifth year in the Reds' minor-league system and his third year as a coordinator. Benavides, who managed Class-A Dayton in its inaugural season prior to being named to his current position, guided the Dragons to a 70-67 mark and qualified for the Midwest League playoffs in 2000. The former infielder began his managerial career in 1999 at Class-A Clinton, where he went 68-69 overall, but won the Midwest League's Western Division in the first half of the season with a 41-27 mark. Originally selected by Cincinnati in the second round of the June 1987 draft, Benavides went on to play four Major League seasons with the Reds, Colorado and Montreal. Benavides, 36, and his wife, Violeta, reside in Laredo, TX, with their three children, Krizia (10), Alec (5) and Sienna (5).

Sammy Ellis - Pitching Coordinator

Sammy Ellis enters his fourth season as pitching coordinator. Ellis, who first served as pitching coordinator with the Reds in 1999, returned to the organization in 2001 after spending one year as the Major League pitching coach with the Baltimore Orioles. The former right-handed hurler is in his 27th season as a coach or instructor in professional baseball. In addition to Baltimore, Ellis has served as a Major League pitching coach with New York-AL (1982-84, '86), Chicago-AL (1989-91), Seattle (1993-94) and Boston (1996). He also enjoyed seven seasons in the majors as a player, including five with Cincinnati (also California and Chicago-AL). Sammy, 62, and his wife, Lynn, reside in Dade City, FL. They have a daughter, Tammy, and a son, Boe.

Mark Farnsworth - Medical Coordinator

Mark Farnsworth enters his fifth season as the head minor-league trainer and medical coordinator. Farnsworth, who is in his 25th season of professional baseball, has also worked in the Philadelphia (1979-80) and Kansas City (1981-98) minor-league systems. In addition to hiring and supervising all minor-league trainers, Farnsworth coordinates spring-training physicals and evaluations and works with players on rehabilitation programs. The veteran trainer earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from The University of Missouri in 1977. He earned his master's degree in sports medicine from The University of Arizona in 1978. Mark, 48, resides in Fort Myers, FL with his wife Jane. They have two children, Joseph (24) and Stacey (19).

Matt Krause - Strength/Conditioning Coordinator

Matt Krause enters his first season in the Reds organization. Prior to joining the Reds, Krause spent three years with the Pittsburgh Pirates, where he served as the strength coach at Class-A Hickory in 2000 before he was promoted to minor-league strength and conditioning coordinator in 2001. From 1997-00, Krause was the assistant strength and conditioning coach at The University of Central Florida. He also worked as an intern with the Chicago Cubs' Class-A affiliate at Daytona in 1999 and as a volunteer intern with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers during their training camp in 1998. Krause earned his bachelor's degree in exercise and sports science from East Carolina University in 1997 and went on to earn his master's degree in physical education and wellness from Central Florida in 1999. He is a former member of the United States Marine Corps. Matt, 29, and his wife, LuzMaria, reside in Bradenton, FL.

Rod McCray - Outfield/Baserunning Coordinator

Rod McCray enters his fourth season in the Reds organization and his third season as a coordinator. McCray, who joined the Reds' minor-league staff in 2000 as an outfield instructor, began his professional coaching career in 1994 as an outfield/hitting coach for independent Lethbridge of the Pioneer League. He then went on to scout for San Diego in 1996 before returning to the coaching ranks in 1997 at Class-A West Palm Beach in the Montreal system. McCray also coached at Class-A Lansing in the Kansas City system in 1998. Originally selected by San Diego in 1984, the former outfielder played 10 professional seasons, including Major League stints with Chicago-AL (1990-91) and New York-NL (1992). Rod, 39, resides in Detroit, MI. He has one daughter, Loreal (8).

Leon Roberts - Hitting Coordinator

Leon Roberts enters his third season as hitting coordinator. Roberts joined the Reds after two seasons (1999-00) as the Major League hitting coach of the Tampa Bay Devil Rays. Prior to his position with Tampa Bay, Roberts spent 11 years coaching or managing at the minor-league level. From 1996-99, he served Atlanta as a roving minor-league hitting coordinator. Roberts owns a career managerial record of 414-425 (.493) with the Detroit (1985-88) and Atlanta (1992-95) organizations. The former outfielder played 11 seasons in the majors with six teams from 1974-84 (Detroit, Houston, Seattle, Texas, Toronto and Kansas City). Leon, 52, resides in Arlington, TX. He has two children, Sabrina (25) and J.D. (21).

Mike Easler - Hitting Instructor

Mike Easler enters his second full season in the Reds organization after being named to his current position in August 2001. Easler, who had been the Major League hitting coach for the St. Louis Cardinals prior to joining the Reds, has coached or managed at the professional or amateur level every year since 1990. Known as the "Hit Man" during his playing days, Easler batted .293 during a 14-year career with Houston (1973-75), California (1976), Pittsburgh (1977-83), Boston (1984-85), New York-AL (1986-87) and Philadelphia (1987). A native of Cleveland, Easler, 52, attended Cleveland State University and is a licensed Baptist minister. He and his wife, Brenda, reside in San Antonio, TX. They have three daughters, Misty (30), Shandi (26) and Khyla (22).

Jim Hickman - Hitting Instructor

Jim Hickman, 65, enters his 16th season as a minor-league hitting instructor with the Reds. Hickman, a former outfielder and first baseman, played 13 Major League seasons from 1962-74, making stops in New York-NL, Los Angeles, Chicago-NL and St. Louis. Hickman is well known for ripping the RBI-single in the 1970 All-Star Game that sent Pete Rose into his famous game-ending collision at home plate with catcher Ray Fosse. He also enjoyed a three-homer game for the Mets in 1965. Jim and his wife, Nita, have four sons: Jim Jr., Bill, Joe, and Mike.

2002 Minor League Player of the Year

INF/OF - Brandon Larson - Louisville

Infielder/Outfielder Brandon Larson was the recipient of the Sheldon "Chief" Bender Award as the Reds' top minor-league performer in 2002.

Despite spending just over half a season at Triple-A Louisville, Larson led the Bats and ranked third in the International League with 25 homers. He batted .340 with 69 RBI in 80 games and was selected to play in the Triple-A All-Star Game.

Larson, the Reds' top pick (14th overall) in the June 1997 draft, was promoted to Cincinnati on 7/11, but was limited to 23 games due to injury (broken right big toe; broken left hand). He batted .275 with 4 HR and 13 RBI for the Reds.

Discontinued following 1986 season.

The Reds made infielder Bernie Carbo their very first draft choice back in 1965. Carbo would go on to enjoy a solid Major League career, which included being named the National League's Rookie of the Year by the Sporting News in 1970.

History of the Draft

The game of baseball was at a crossroads in 1964. The game's wealthier teams were buying up amateur talent at such a staggering pace that the competitive balance of the game was in jeopardy.

The more clubs spent foolishly on raw, unproven amateur talent, the less there became a priority to assist a sagging player-development system. Once rich and self-sustaining, baseball's minor-league clubs had dwindled from 460 teams in 1949, to just 121 clubs by 1964.

By overspending on amateur talent and underspending to develop that talent, baseball was cutting its own throat.

That's why the 1964 season ushered in a new way for clubs to seek out talent. Some of the game's highest-ranking officials instituted a much-debated and much-awaited amateur draft system.

The purpose of the draft would be to stop the upward spiral of excessive bonuses paid to amateurs and to more evenly distribute the available talent to Major League clubs.

Baseball's "free agent" draft would function in a manner similar to that of the National Football League and National Basketball League drafts.

All eligible talent was placed in a pool with every team making a selection. When a team picked a player, it gained exclusive rights to negotiate with that player. In 1965, the Oakland Athletics made Rick Monday the game's first drafted player.

When the draft was first introduced, clubs selected three times a year (January 15, June 1, and September 1), and were only allowed to draft permanent residents of the United States.

The entire January draft and second phase of the June draft were discontinued following the 1986 season, when all previously drafted players were included with newly eligible players in the June draft.

2002 Minor League Recaps

LOUISVILLE

Louisville Bats - AAA

The Louisville Bats, who won the International League title in 2001, just missed the playoffs in 2002 despite a solid 79-65 record, which was good for second place in the West Division (Toledo, 1st place, 81-63).

Dave Miley completed his 13th season managing in the Reds organization, his third season at Louisville. Among Miley's accomplishments in 2002 was his 1,000th career win as a manager, which came in a 5-0 victory on 5/19 at Ottawa (Expos).

Miley, who now owns a career managerial record of 1,053-794 (.570), also had the opportunity to manage the International League in the 2002 Triple-A All-Star Game. The I.L. fell to the Pacific Coast League, 5-0, in the contest held on 7/10 at Oklahoma City's Southwestern Bell Bricktown Park.

The Bats' top player in 2002 was OF Raul Gonzalez, who was named MVP of the International League after batting .333 with 13 HR and 69 RBI in 114 games. His .416 on-base percentage led the league. Gonzalez, who was traded to the New York Mets in August as part of the deal that brought LHP Shawn Estes to the Reds, finished second in the I.L. batting race (.333) and tied for second in runs scored (91).

INF/OF Kevin Witt also enjoyed an outstanding season for Louisville as he batted .263 with 24 HR and a league-leading 107 RBI. His RBI total was the most in a single season by any player in the history of the Louisville franchise. The previous record of 101 RBI was held by Jim Adduci in 1983.

Perhaps the most impressive performance came from 3b Brandon Larson, who batted .340 with 25 HR and 69 RBI. Larson finished third in the International League in home runs despite playing in only 80 games.

The Bats' pitching staff was led by RHP Jose Acevedo and RHP Jared Fernandez.

Acevedo, who went 12-7 with a 3.20 ERA in 23 starts, ranked fourth in the International League with 128 strikeouts. He finished the season by going 7-2 with a 2.49 ERA over his last 13 starts.

Fernandez was valuable both as a starter and as a reliever. The knuckleballer went 12-5 with a 3.93 ERA in 26 games (18 starts).

Chattanooga Lookouts - AA

At 60-80, the Lookouts struggled primarily due to a poor second half of the season. The Lookouts went 37-33 in the first half of the season, finishing in third place in the West Division of the Southern League, 4.0 games behind first-place Birmingham (White Sox). The second half of the season was another story as Chattanooga went 23-47, finishing in last place, 18.0 games behind first-place West Tenn (Cubs).

OF Bobby Darula won the Southern League batting title with a .325 average and led the league with a .413 on-base percentage. His play with Chattanooga earned him a promotion to Louisville, where he played at the Triple-A level for the first time in his seven-year professional career.

3b Donny Leon was the Lookouts' top power threat in 2002 as he led the team with 19 homers and 49 extra-base hits, both tied for third in the Southern League. Leon, who led the league with a .500 slugging percentage, also saw some action at Triple-A Louisville last season.

INF Tom Nevers was the Lookouts' most consistent player all season as he batted .313 with 13 HR and a team-leading 77 RBI in 126 games. Nevers finished tied for third in the Southern League batting race and second in RBI.

Leading Chattanooga on the mound was RHP Dave Gil, who went 10-4 with a 3.66 ERA in 18 starts before earning a promotion to Louisville. Gil was the only Lookouts pitcher to post 10 wins in 2002.

The Ports, led by first-year manager Jayhawk Owens, were the only Reds affiliate to bring home a championship in 2002.

Stockton finished the regular season with an overall record of 89-51, tops among all Reds farm clubs. At 49-21, the Ports finished in first place in the North Division of the California League for the first half of the season, 8.0 games ahead of second-place Bakersfield (Devil Rays). They followed with a 40-30 mark in the second half of the season to finish in second place, 4.0 games behind first-place Modesto (A's).

Owens' team breezed through the playoffs starting with a 3-game sweep of Modesto in the first round. The Ports then beat Lake Elsinore (Padres), 3 games to 1, to win the California League championship. It was the franchise's first championship since 1992 and 11th championship overall.

The Ports were led all season by the bat of OF Stephen Smitherman, who batted .313 with 19 HR, 99 RBI and 17 stolen bases in 128 games. Smitherman ranked among the California League leaders in RBI (2nd), doubles (T2nd, 36), batting average (T3rd), hits (T4th, 151) and extra-base hits (5th, 56). He saved his best effort for the playoffs as he batted .522 (12-for-23) with 6 doubles and 2 RBI and was named MVP of the championship series.

Pitching was the Ports' strong point in 2002 as they posted a league-leading 3.20 ERA and tossed a league-high 12 shutouts. Stockton pitchers also allowed the fewest hits in the California League (1,108) and the fewest homers (71).

LHP John Koronka was the Ports' top pitcher early in the year as he went 11-0 with a 3.07 ERA in 12 starts before earning a promotion to Chattanooga. RHP Ryan Mottl was the Ports' top pitcher overall as he went 13-6 with a 3.50 ERA in 27 starts. His 13 victories and 180.0 innings pitched tied for the California League lead.

Like Stephen Smitherman, Mottl also saved his best performance for the playoffs as he went 2-0 with a 0.64 ERA in 2 starts during the postseason.

Dayton Dragons - A

Manager Donnie Scott and the Dragons enjoyed another successful season as they posted an overall record of 73-67 and qualified for the Midwest League playoffs, where they lost in the opening round to West Michigan (Tigers), 2 games to none.

At 32-38, the Dragons finished the first half of the season in fifth place, 10.0 games behind first-place Michigan (Astros). The team rebounded in the second half as they went 41-29 to finish in second place, 1.0 game behind West Michigan.

Leading the offense was OF/1b Chris Williamson, who ranked third in the Midwest League in homers (22) and fifth in slugging percentage (.495). Williamson shared the team lead in RBI (73) with 3b Edwin Encarnacion, who also enjoyed a solid season. Encarnacion batted .282 with 17 HR, 73 RBI and 25 stolen bases in 136 games.

The pitching staff was led by RHP Bobby Basham, RHP Andy Boutwell and RHP Nate Cotton.

Basham, who went 6-4 with a 1.64 ERA in 13 starts, tossed 3 consecutive shutouts for the Dragons, a feat not accomplished in the Midwest League since Appleton's Bruce Tanner did it in 1984. Basham produced the shutouts in wins on 6/23 vs. South Bend (D'Backs), 6/28 at Fort Wayne (Padres) and 7/3 vs. Clinton (Expos).

Boutwell was valuable to the Dragons both as a starter and as a reliever. He went 6-0 with a 1.46 ERA in 16 games (11 starts). Boutwell led the Midwest League in strikeouts (98) and ranked second in ERA (1.46) prior to his promotion to Stockton in late June.

Cotton led the Midwest League with 34 saves and was tied for fourth with 53 appearances, all in relief. Cotton posted a 1.96 ERA and struck out 65 batters in 64.1 innings.

A year after winning the Pioneer League championship, the Mustangs once again qualified for the playoffs by virtue of their first-place finish in the second half of the season. Overall, they finished 38-37.

Unlike 2001, manager Rick Burleson and the Mustangs were ousted in the first round of the playoffs last season as they were swept, 2 games to none, by Great Falls (Dodgers).

Billings was a team that featured strong pitching in 2002 as they posted a 3.72 ERA, which tied Great Falls for the Pioneer League lead.

The ace of the staff was LHP Cleris Severino, who went 7-1 with a league-best 0.96 ERA in 10 starts.

Also contributing on the mound was RHP Chris Gruler, the Reds' top pick in the 2002 First-Year Player Draft. Gruler, who was selected third overall in the draft, posted a 1.08 ERA in 4 starts for Billings.

The Mustangs' offense was led by 2b William Bergolla, who ranked third in the Pioneer League with a .352 batting average. Bergolla led the team in hits (74) and tied for the team lead in stolen bases (16).

OF Mike Bassett (.301, 8, 44), 1b Jason Vavao (.306, 8, 38) and 3b Richard Correll (.286, 5, 41) all enjoyed fine seasons for Billings.

Gulf Coast League Reds - Rookie

With a 30-30 mark in 2002, second-year manager Edgar Caceres has now guided the Reds to a .500 or better season in two consecutive years. Prior to Caceres' appointment to manager, the Reds had posted seasons of 23-37 in 1999 and 14-41 in 2000.

This year's squad led the Gulf Coast League in home runs (32) and ranked third in batting (.270).

1b Travis Wong, drafted in the 48th round of the 2002 First-Year Player Draft, enjoyed an outstanding season as he led the Gulf Coast League in homers (10) and ranked among the leaders in RBI (2nd, 45), slugging percentage (3rd, .539) and batting (9th, .317).

Also producing fine seasons for the Reds was OF Chris Denorfia (.340 BA) and INF Damaso Espino (.332 BA), who ranked third and sixth, respectively, in the Gulf Coast League batting race.

RHP Rafael German was the Reds' top pitcher in 2002 as he went 6-2 with a 2.04 ERA in 10 starts.

Contact Information

You may contact the Cincinnati Reds media relations office at (513) 765-7800. You may contact the Reds media relations office in the press box at (513) 765-7090.

Media Credentials

2003 Cincinnati Reds media credentials will be issued only to accredited media members. Reds season credentials will be issued to those media outlets that will cover the Reds on a daily basis only. To request media credentials, please contact Larry Herms in the Reds media relations office at (513) 765-7092. The Reds require a 24-hour notice for all daily credential requests. Credential requests should be sent via fax to (513) 765-7180 or by mail (Cincinnati Reds Media Relations, 100 Main Street, Cincinnati, OH 45202) on company letterhead from the sports director or producer. All weekend credential requests must be made by 3 p.m. on the Thursday prior. Under no circumstances are media credentials to be transferred from person to person without the expressed written permission and approval of the Cincinnati Reds' media relations office. Violation of this policy may result in informing the Major League office of the violation, dismissal of the media member from Great American Ball Park, and confiscation of the violator's media credential for the remainder of the 2003 season.

Media Credential Pickup

Upon approval of credential request, media members may pick up credentials at the Crosley Terrace entrance of Great American Ball Park. Crosley Terrace is located at the ballpark's main entrance on the corner of Second and Main streets.

Press Box

The Reds press box is located on Level 3 of Great American Ball Park. The press box is open three-and-one-half hours prior to game time. The press dining room, located on the press box level, is open two hours prior to game time. A buffet dinner is available to credentialed media members at a cost of $6.50.

Clubhouse Access

Only properly credentialed media members may gain access to the clubhouse. Both the Reds and visiting team clubhouses are located on Field Level of Great American Ball Park. The Reds dugout is located on the first-base side, and may be accessed via the playing field only. Media members are not permitted to access the dugout or clubhouse via the dugout tunnel. Media members are not permitted in the training room, players' lounge or equipment area in the Reds clubhouse. The clubhouse is open to properly credentialed media members three-and-one-half hours prior to the start of the game and closes 45 minutes prior to game time. Following the game, the clubhouse will open approximately 10 minutes after the final out.

Dark Rooms

Dark rooms for media outlets affiliated with The Associated Press are available on the Field Level concourse near the visiting clubhouse. Contact Al Behrman at (513) 241-2386.

Media Parking

The media relations department has available a very limited number of individual game-day parking passes. Contact the Reds media relations department at (513) 765-7800. For information on monthly parking, contact Central Parking at (513) 946-8100.

C Media Guides, Game Notes and Statistics

Reds media guides can be obtained from the Reds media relations staff in the press box. Reds game notes and statistics will be available in the main press box prior to the start of the game.

C Media Interviews

Reds uniformed personnel will be available for interviews prior to on-field stretching and following batting practice. Interview requests during batting practice must be set up through the Reds media relations department.

C Use of Photography

Media outlets needing use of Reds' current or historical photographs may contact Michael Ringering in the Reds communications department at (513) 765-7020. Accredited media members may use Reds photographs for non-endorsement projects only. All photographs and/or materials loaned by the Cincinnati Reds must be returned in good condition within 30 days. Media outlets not returning photographs and/or materials within 30 days will be subject to a $50 fee per item, and will be subject to a $250 fee per item for any photographs and/or materials damaged or lost.

C Still Camera Positions

Positions for photographers are located on the home plate and outfield sides of each dugout, a position shared with television cameras. With the exception of game broadcast cameras, still photographers have priority over videographers. Still photographers for The Associated Press, The Cincinnati Enquirer, The Cincinnati Post, Dayton Daily News and The Columbus Dispatch have priority.

C Reds on the Web

The official Web site of the Cincinnati Reds is located at www.cincinnatireds.com. The Reds Web site is updated daily with player news, statistical information and injury reports.

C Autograph Policy

Under no circumstances are credentialed media members permitted to seek autographs on the field of play or in the REDS or VISITING clubhouses. Violation of this policy may result in informing the Major League office of the violation, dismissal of the media member from Great American Ball Park, and confiscation of the violator's media credential for the remainder of the 2003 season.

C Cameras in the Clubhouse

Videographers are permitted in the Reds clubhouse following the game only. Videographers must be accompanied by a reporter. Still photographers are not permitted clubhouse access at any time. For special requests, contact the Reds media relations department.

C Roving Cameras

Television stations are prohibited from using a "roving" camera inside Great American Ball Park without the expressed permission of the Cincinnati Reds media relations department. At no time are camera crews allowed into the seating areas of Great American Ball Park. Interviews in a roving situation must be conducted at the right-field porch area.

Reds on the Airwaves

Radio

Marty Brennaman and Joe Nuxhall return for their 30th season together on the Reds Radio Network. The Reds Radio Network is one of the largest in professional sports, with 53 affiliates in five states. The flagship station is WLW (AM 700) in Cincinnati. All regular-season games are aired on WLW.

Television

For the next two seasons, Fox Sports Net will hold the exclusive local cable and telecast rights for Cincinnati Reds baseball. Fox Sports Net will cablecast 100 games in 2003.

George Grande and Chris Welsh will team up for their 11th season together in 2003 as play-by-play and color analysts for Reds television broadcasts. Their 11 years together mark the longest stretch for a television duo in Reds history.

Reds On the Radio

Marty Brennaman

Reds radio announcer Marty Brennaman received the Ford C. Frick Award on July 23, 2000, in ceremonies at the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y. The award is presented each year by the Hall of Fame to a broadcaster "for major contributions to the game of baseball."

Brennaman, Red Barber (WSAI, 1934-38) and Russ Hodges (WFBE, 1932) are the only Reds announcers ever to receive the Hall of Fame's prestigious broadcasting award.

The 2003 season will be Brennaman's 39th as a broadcaster. He joined the Reds radio team in 1974 and for the past 29 seasons has shared the 700 WLW Radio booth with Reds Hall of Fame pitcher Joe Nuxhall. In 1989 he shared the Reds' television booth with son, Thom, who currently serves as a broadcaster for the Arizona Diamondbacks and for Fox's national baseball network.

Brennaman has been named Ohio Sportscaster of the Year 12 times, most recently in 1998. He won the Virginia Sportscaster of the Year Award four times while broadcasting basketball games for the American Basketball Association's Virginia Squires, baseball games for the New York Mets' Class-AAA affiliate in Norfolk and football games for both Virginia Tech and William and Mary.

He also has broadcast games during the NCAA's men's basketball tournament, including 15 regional tournaments and 11 Final Fours.

Brennaman and his wife, Sherri, live in Cincinnati. In addition to son Thom they have two daughters, Dawn and Ashley.

Joe Nuxhall

Reds radio announcer Joe Nuxhall in 2003 is celebrating his 52nd season with the Reds, his 59th in the organization and his 37th in the broadcast booth. He began his broadcasting career with the Reds in 1967 and is teaming with Marty Brennaman for their 30th season together on the Reds Radio Network.

Nuxhall is scheduled to work all 162 games this season and 60 regular-season games in 2004. He will retire following the 2004 campaign, during which he will celebrate the 60th anniversary of his first season in the organization.

The Reds Hall of Fame left-hander pitched in the Major Leagues for 16 years (1944, 1952-66), including all or parts of 15 seasons with the Reds, and compiled a 135-117 record and 3.90 ERA in 526 appearances and 287 starts at Cincinnati, Kansas City and Los Angeles. This season he celebrated his 51st Opening Day in the Queen City.

At 15 years old on June 10, 1944, Nuxhall became the youngest player ever to appear in a Major League game, a record that still stands. On Aug. 11, 1959, vs the Milwaukee

Braves he became the first Reds pitcher ever to strike out four batters in an inning, tying a Major League record, and he still ranks among the organization's all-time leaders with 484 games (third), 2,169 innings pitched (fifth) and 1,289 strikeouts (third).

Nuxhall and his wife, Donzetta, live in Fairfield.

Reds on Television

George Grande

George Grande, a 35-year veteran of the broadcasting business, has been the play-by-play voice on Reds TV since 1993. A native of New Haven, Conn., George has covered Major League Baseball since 1965. George also anchored the first-ever ESPN SportsCenter telecast on Sept. 7, 1979.

Chris Welsh

Chris Welsh enters his 11th season as Reds TV analyst, after having spent five years pitching in the Major Leagues for the Padres, Expos, Rangers and Reds. Chris compiled a 21-31 record. He is a graduate of Cincinnati's St. Xavier High School and earned a bachelor's degree from the University of South Florida. In addition to his television work, Chris also teaches pitching in the offseason, is the featured speaker at several national baseball forums and writes and publishes baseball articles.

2003 Reds Pregame Crew

Dan Hoard

Dan Hoard is in his fourth season as a host on Fox Sports Net's pregame show, Real Reds. After graduating from Syracuse University in 1985, he served as the play-by-play announcer for the school's basketball, football and lacrosse teams and as the play-by-play announcer for the Syracuse Chiefs, the Toronto Blue Jays' Class-AAA affiliate. Hoard worked at WTVH-TV and WSYR-TV in Syracuse before taking a position at WXIX-TV 19 in Cincinnati, one of the nation's highest-rated Fox affiliates. He currently serves as co-host of Channel 19's popular 30-minute "Sportswrap" show, broadcast on Saturday and Sunday nights, and is the play-by-play announcer on 700 WLW Radio for the University of Cincinnati's football and men's basketball teams. He has also substituted on Reds radio broadcasts, and in 2001 he filled in on New York Mets broadcasts on WFAN Radio. Dan has won Emmy Awards in all three possible categories: anchoring, reporting and play-by-play.

Jeff Piccoro

Jeff Piccoro enters his fifth season as a host for Fox Sports Net's pregame show, Real Reds. He has been with Fox Sports Net for six years. Piccoro, who played football at the University of Kentucky from 1980-'84, serves as the color analyst for Wildcats football games. He also is the pregame and post-game host for Cincinnati Bengals broadcasts on 700 WLW

Radio.

Mark Goldsmith

Mark Goldsmith has directed Reds broadcasts on television since 1996, first on SportsChannel Ohio and currently on Fox Sports Net. He also directs television broadcasts for the NHL's Columbus Blue Jackets. In 1973 the Coral Gables, Fla. native joined WTCG, now TBS, and four years later began his producing and directing career. He has produced, directed or produced/directed Major League Baseball games locally for the Braves, Reds, Yankees, Dodgers, Angels and Rockies, along with nationally-televised games on ESPN. Goldsmith also has been involved in the production or direction of games involving the NBA's Atlanta Hawks, New Jersey Nets and Los Angeles Clippers and the NHL's Atlanta Flames. He has directed or produced a variety of sports in addition to baseball, basketball and hockey, including automobile and motorcycle racing, soccer, horseracing, tennis, gymnastics, volleyball, polo and water polo. Goldsmith and his wife, Laura, live in Mason with children Ethan, Sam, Woody and Regina.

Dave Armbruster

Dave Armbruster enters his 13th season as producer/engineer for the Reds on Radio. He is the network coordinator responsible for more than 50 stations on the Reds Radio Network, which includes outlets in five states and broadcasts that can be heard in 38 states on flagship station 700 WLW. A Cincinnati native, Armbruster has been with 700 WLW for 22 years. He also oversees the Bengals Radio Network, as well as the radio broadcasts for the University of Cincinnati Bearcats and Xavier University Musketeers.

Another Addition to the Hall of Fame

Reds Veteran Beat Writer Hal McCoy Earns 2002 J.G. Taylor Spink Award

By Hal McCoy
Dayton Daily News

At the risk of sounding self-serving and at the insistence of sports editor Frank Corsoe, permit me to grab 16 inches of valuable newspaper space as I try to plant my feet on Mother Earth five days after election into the baseball Hall of Fame.

It is head-spinning stuff for a poor kid from the wrong side of the tracks in Akron, a kid whose formative years were spent with few luxuries because his father was serving in the Philippines during World War II.

It was dad who injected the love of baseball into my veins, playing catch with me in what passed for a backyard with an outhouse privy serving as the backstop for my wild left-handed throws.

I'm overwhelmed by the award, but more overwhelmed by the more than 800 e-mails I received the first week, by the non-stop beckoning of the telephone and the cards and letters.

Hours after the announcement, my cell phone rang and a voice said, "Hal, do you know who this is?" I said,

"Of course I recognize your voice, Junior." It was Ken Griffey Jr. and he said, "I'm not calling to talk about baseball or me, I just wanted to offer my congratulations."

Even more gratifying are the hundreds of messages from people I don't know, people who know me as their baseball messenger. One woman's message hit home when she wrote, "I invite you into my house every morning and you never let me down." And another who said, "I have my morning coffee with you every morning during the baseball season."

When I sit down at my laptop, it is the readers I have in mind. What would they want to know? I've tried to inform them, entertain them and tell them the truth to the best of my capacities. Thanks to our website, www.daytondailynews.com, I heard from readers all over the globe: Australia, Alaska, Germany, Japan. How neat is that?

Some agree with what I write, some disagree. And that's fantastic. As long as they read, that's what means the most. I try to answer every e-mail. If the reader thinks enough to sit down and message me, I think enough of them and their opinions to answer. Some are regulars, some are one-timers. They all mean everything to me.

The Dayton Daily News is not in a major market, but it is a major newspaper, a major player. For 30 years, everybody at the newspaper has been supportive. When some major newspapers don't cover a major-league baseball team full-time, don't permit their baseball writer to spend a full six weeks in spring training, the Dayton Daily News is there for its readers and for that reason it has a great reputation across the land.

People often ask how I've survived 30 years: the intensive and extensive travel, the time away from home, the oppressive deadlines, the bland press box food. Three reasons - I love baseball, I love to write and I love to travel. . . and I get paid doggone well for doing something that is a labor of love.

As a scared-stiff rookie writer back in 1973, a legend became my mentor and my friend. Earl Lawson, a Hall of Famer, took me aside and said, "Kid, follow me and listen." I did just that, the best thing I ever did. I learned everything I know about covering baseball from a legend.

Without Earl Lawson, who knows where I'd be. I wouldn't be on my way to the Hall of Fame, I know that. For that, I am forever grateful for Lawson's lessons, but most importantly, his great friendship.

Enough. Just one last sentence. I can never thank all the readers who have been so supportive. You are what we are all about.

Major League Baseball Rules of Interest

Calculating the "Magic Number": Determine the number of games to be played by the team in the lead. Add one to that number. Subtract from that figure the number of games ahead in the loss column from the closest opponent.

Determining Earned Run Average: Multiply earned runs by nine, then divide total by innings pitched.

Determining Batting Average: Divide total hits by total at-bats.

Determine Slugging Percentage: Divide the total bases of all safe hits by the total number of at-bats.

Determining On-Base Percentage: Divide hits + walks + hit-by-pitch, by at-bats + walks + hit-by-pitch + sac flies.

Determining Fielding Percentage: Divide the total putouts and assists by the total of putouts, assists and errors.

The Winning Pitcher: The starting pitcher will be credited with the win only if the pitcher has pitched at least five complete innings and his team not only is in the lead when he is replaced, but remains in the lead the remainder of the game. EXCEPTION: The "must-pitch-five-complete-innings" rule in respect to the starting pitcher shall be in effect for all games of six or more innings. In a five-inning game, credit the starting pitcher with a game won only if he has pitched at least four complete innings and his team not only is in the lead when he is replaced, but remains in the lead the remainder of the game. When the starting pitcher does not meet the preceding criteria and more than one relief pitcher is used, the victory shall be awarded on the following basis:

- (1) When, during the tenure of the starting pitcher, the winning team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game, credit the victory to the relief pitcher judged by the official scorer to have been the most effective.
- (2) Whenever the score is tied, the game becomes a new contest insofar as the winning and losing pitcher is concerned.
- (3) Once the opposing team assumes the lead, all pitchers who have pitched up to that point are excluded from being credited with the victory except the current pitcher.
- (4) The winning relief pitcher shall be the one who is the pitcher of record when his team assumes the lead and maintains it to the finish of the game. EXCEPTION: Do not credit a victory to a relief pitcher who is ineffective in a brief appearance, when a succeeding relief pitcher pitches effectively in helping his team maintain the lead. In such cases, credit the succeeding relief pitcher with the victory.

Earning a Save: Credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all of the following conditions;

- (1) He is the pitcher that finished the game won by his team.
- (2) He is not the winning pitcher.
- (3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
 - a. He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
 - b. He enters the game, regardless of the count, with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run either already on base or is one of the first two batters he faces), or
 - c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

Assists: An assist shall be credited to each fielder who throws or deflects a batted or thrown ball in such a way that a putout results, or would have resulted except for a subsequent error by a fielder. Only one assist and no more shall be credited to each fielder who throws or deflects the ball in a run-down play which results in a putout, or would have resulted in a putout, except for a subsequent error.

Consecutive Game Hitting Streak: A consecutive game hitting streak shall not be terminated if the player's plate appearance(s) results in a base on balls, hit batter, defensive interference or sac bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sac fly and no hit. Consecutive game hitting streaks do not carry over from season to season.

Consecutive Game Playing Streak: A consecutive game playing streak shall be extended if the player plays one-half inning on defense or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from the game by an umpire before he can comply with the requirement of this rule, the streak shall continue.

Suspended Games: All performance in the completion of a suspended game shall be considered as occurring on the original date of the game.

Rain Delays: Once a game has been temporarily delayed by rain, NL umpires have been instructed to wait at least one hour and 15 minutes before calling the game. According to rule 3.10 C, an umpire shall not call the game until at least 30 minutes after he has suspended play.

National League Curfew: There is no curfew in the National League. The game is in the hands of the umpires once it has started.

Major League Year: 172 days of service time constitutes a full year in the Major Leagues.

Rookie Status at the Major League Level: To be considered a rookie, a player must not have more than 130 at-bats, or 50 innings-pitched in the Major Leagues during a previous season or seasons, nor more than 45 days on a Major League roster during the Major League 25-player limit (excluding time in the military).

Waiver Regulations: From 30 days after the start of the season, players are available for claiming off waivers in reverse order of standings, at the time waivers expire. Otherwise, players are available for claiming off waivers in reverse order of standings at the close of the preceding season. With respect to trades, no waivers are necessary from 5 p.m. (ET) the day after the scheduled end of the regular season through July 31. Waivers are necessary from August 1 through the day after the scheduled end of the regular season.

AC Joint (Acromioclavicular joint): Joint of the shoulder where acromion process of the scapula and the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shoulder separations occur at this point.

Abduct: Movement of any extremity away from the midline of the body. This action is achieved by an abductor muscle.

Abrasion: Any injury which rubs off the surface of the skin.

Abscess: An infection which produces pus; can be the result of a blister, callus, penetrating wound or laceration.

Adhesion: Abnormal adherence of collagen fibers to surrounding structures during immobilization following trauma or as a complication of surgery which restricts normal elasticity of the structures involved.

Aerobic: Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen inspired and is required for sustained periods of vigorous exercise with a continually high pulse rate.

Anabolic Steroids: Steroids that promote tissue growth by creating protein in an attempt to enhance muscle growth. The main anabolic steroid is testosterone (male sex hormones).

Anaerobic: Exercise without the use of oxygen as an energy source; short bursts of vigorous exercise.

Anaphylactic Shock: Shock that is caused by an allergic reaction.

Anterior Compartment Syndrome: Condition in which swelling within the anterior compartment of the lower leg jeopardizes the viability of muscles, nerves and arteries that serve the foot. In severe cases, emergency surgery is necessary to relieve the swelling and pressure.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL): A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint. A complete tear of the ACL necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Anterior Talofibular Ligament: A ligament of the ankle that connects the fibula (lateral ankle bone) to the talus. This ligament is often times subject to sprain.

Anti-Inflammatory: Any agent which prevents inflammation, such as aspirin or ibuprofen.

Arteriogram: A film demonstrating arteries after injection of dye.

Arthrogram: X-ray technique for joints using air and/or dye injected into the affected area; useful in diagnosing meniscus tears of the knee and rotator cuff tears of the shoulder.

Arthroscope: An instrument used to visualize the interior of a joint cavity.

Arthroscopy: A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by means for viewing through an arthroscope. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of any damage or confirm a diagnosis.

Aspiration: The withdrawal of fluid from a body cavity by means of a suction or siphonage apparatus, such as a syringe.

Asymptomatic: Without symptoms.

Atrophy: To shrivel or shrink from disuse, as in muscular atrophy.

Avascular Necrosis: Death of a part due to lack of circulation.

Avascularity: When controlling bleeding.

Avulsion: The tearing away, forcibly, of a part or structure.

Axilla: The armpit.

Bennett's Fracture: A fracture and dislocation of the base of the first metacarpal, the thumb.

Blowout Fracture: A fracture of the cavity containing the eyeball and its associated muscles that can be a result of a direct blow to the eye or cheek.

Bone Scan: An imaging procedure in which a radioactive-labelled substance is injected into the body to determine the status of a bone injury. If the radioactive substance is taken up by the bone at the injury site, the injury will show as a "hot spot" on the scan image. The bone scan is particularly useful in the diagnosis of stress fractures.

Brachial Plexus: Network of nerves originating from the cervical vertebrae and running down to the shoulder, arm, hand and fingers.

Bruise: A discoloration of the skin due to an extravasation of blood into the underlying tissues.

Bursa: A fluid-filled sac that is located in areas where friction is likely to occur, then minimized the friction; for example between a tendon and bone.

C.P.R.: Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation; artificial establishment of circulation of blood and movement of air into the lungs in a pulseless, non-breathing person.

Diagram of the Hand

Calcaneofibular Ligament: The ligament that connects the fibula to the calcaneus.

Calf: Large muscle located at the back of the shin that includes the gastrocnemius and the soleus muscles and is connected to the heel by the Achilles tendon.

Capsule: An enclosing structure which surrounds the joint and contains ligaments which stabilize that joint.

Cartilage: Smooth, slippery substance preventing two ends of bones from rubbing together and grating.

CAT Scan: A computer created cross sectional view of the anatomical part being investigated from X-ray data.

Cellulitis: Inflammation of cellular or connective tissue.

Cervical Vertebrae: Group of seven vertebrae located in the neck.

Charley Horse: A contusion or bruise to any muscle resulting in intermuscular bleeding. No other injury should be called a charley horse.

Chondral Fracture: Fracture to the chondral (cartilaginous) surfaces of bone.

Chondromalacia: Roughening of the articular cartilage. Best known for the roughening of the underside of the patella, which can occur in any patellofemoral injury.

Clavicle: The collar bone.

Coccyx: The "tail bone"; a group of four vertebrae that are fused together, located at the terminal end of the spine.

Colles' Fracture: A fracture of the distal end of the radius with the lower end being displaced backward.

Computed Tomography (CT): Method of visualizing the body's soft tissues. Using X-rays with the beam passing repeatedly through the body part, the CT scans while a computer calculates tissue absorption at each point scanned.

Concentric Muscle Contraction: A shortening of the muscle as it develops tension and contracts to move a resistance.

Concussion: Jarring injury of the brain resulting in dysfunction. It can be graded as mild, moderate or severe, depending on loss of consciousness, amnesia and loss of equilibrium.

Congenital: Existing before birth; to be born with.

Conjunctivitis: Inflammation of the membrane lining the eyelids and covering the eyeball.

Connective Tissue Theory: Microscopic tissue trauma, thought to be brought on by explosive or ballistic movements.

Contractures: Abnormal, usually permanent contraction of a muscle due to atrophy of muscle fibers, extensive scar tissue over a joint, or other factors.

Contusion: An injury to a muscle and tissues caused by a blow from a blunt object.

Cortical Steroids: Used to suppress joint inflammation.

Costochondral: Cartilage that separates the bones within the rib cage.

CPM: Constant passive motion devices used in the early stage of knee rehabilitation.

Cranium: Framework of the head consisting of eight cranial bones, 14 bones of the face and the teeth.

Cryokinetics: Treatment with cold and movement.

Cryotherapy: A treatment with the use of cold.

Cyst: Abnormal sac containing liquid or semi-solid matter.

Degenerative Joint Disease: Changes in joint surfaces as a result of trauma.

Dehydration: Loss of body water.

Deltoid Ligament: Ligament that connects the tibia to bones of the medial aspect of the foot and is primarily responsible for stability of the ankle on the medial side. Is sprained less frequently than other ankle ligaments.

Deltoid Muscle: Muscle at top of the arm, just below the shoulder, responsible for shoulder motions to the front, side and back.

Disc, Intervertebral: A flat, rounded plate between each vertebrae of the spine. The disc consists of a thick, fiber ring which surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It functions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.

Dislocation: Complete displacement of joint surfaces.

Distal: Term referencing one anatomical term away from another; for example, the hand is distal to the elbow.

Dorsiflexion: Ankle motion such that the foot and toes are moved away from the ground in an upward fashion.

Dorsum: The back; the back surface of any part.

Dysfunction: Unable to function normally as a body organ or system.

Eccentric Muscle Contraction: An overall lengthening of the muscle as it develops tension and contracts to control motion performed by an outside force; oftentimes referred to a "negative" contraction in weight training.

Eccymosis: Bleeding into the surface tissue below the skin, resulting in a "black and blue" effect.

Ectomy: Suffix connoting surgical removal of the affected part.

Edema: Accumulation of fluid in organs and tissues of the body; swelling.

Efferent: Away from, pushing toward the center.

Effusion: Accumulation of fluid, or the knee itself, in various spaces in the body. Commonly, the knee has an effusion after an injury.

- Electrical Galvanic Stimulation (EGS): An electrical therapeutic modality that sends a current to the body at selected voltages and frequencies in order to stimulate pain receptors, disperse edema, or neutralize muscle spasms among other functional applications.
- Electromyogram (EMG): Test to determine nerve function.
- Epicondylitis: Inflammation in the elbow due to overuse.
- Ethyl Chloride: "Cold spray," a chemical coolant sprayed onto an injury site to produce a local, mild anesthesia.
- Etiology: Study of the cause of injury and disease.
- Eversion: Action of the ankle turning outward.
- Extension: Action of straightening of a joint as achieved by an extensor muscle.
- External Rotation: Lateral movement of a joint or extremity to the outside.
- Extrinsic: From without.
- Femur: Thigh bone; longest bone in the body.
- Fibula: Smaller of the two bones in the lower leg; runs from knee to the ankle along the outside of the lower leg.
- Flexibility: The ability of muscle to relax and yield to stretch forces.
- Flexibility Exercise: Exercise performed by a player to passively or actively elongate soft tissue without the assistance of an athletic trainer.
- Flexion: Motion of bending a joint as achieved by a flexor muscle.
- Fracture: Breach in continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick, incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress or transverse.
- Glenohumeral: The shoulder girdle; consists of the glenoid capsule, head of the humerus and labrum.
- Glenoid: Cavity of the scapula into which the head of the humerus fits to form the shoulder girdle.
- Glenoid Labrum: A rim of fibrocartilaginous tissue attached around the margin of the glenoid fossa.
- Glycogen: Form in which foods are stored in the body as energy.
- Grade One Injury: A mild injury in which ligament, tendon or other musculoskeletal tissue may have been stretched or contused, but not torn or otherwise disrupted.
- Grade Two Injury: A moderate injury when musculoskeletal tissue has been partially, but not totally torn which causes appreciable limitation in function of the injured tissue.
- Grade Three Injury: A severe injury in which tissue has been significant, and in some cases, totally, torn or otherwise disrupted causing a virtual total loss of function.
- Groin: Junction of the thigh and abdomen; location of muscles that rotate, flex and adduct the hip.
- Hammer Toe: Condition when the first digit of a toe is at a different angle than the remaining digits of the same toe.
- Hamstring: Category of muscle that runs from the buttocks to the knee along the back of the thigh. It functions to flex the knee and is oftentimes injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of muscle flexibility.
- Heat Cramps: Painful muscle spasms of the arms or legs caused by excessive body heat and depletion of fluids and electrolytes.
- Heat Exhaustion: Mild form of shock due to dehydration because of excessive sweating when exposed to heat and humidity.
- Heat Stroke: Condition of rapidly rising internal body temperature that overwhelms the body's mechanisms for release of heat resulting in death if not cared for.
- Heel Cup: Orthotic device that is inserted into the shoe and worn under the heel to give support to the Achilles tendon and help absorb impacts at the heel.
- Hemarthrosis: Accumulation of blood within a joint as a result of an acute injury.
- Hematoma: Tumor-like mass produced by an accumulation of coagulated blood in a cavity.
- Hip Pointer: Contusion to the iliac crest.
- Humerus: Bone of the upper arm that runs from the shoulder to the elbow.
- Hydrotherapy: Treatment using water.
- Hyperextension: Extreme extension of a limb or body part.
- Iliac Crest: Lateral edge of the hip; generally the site of a hip pointer.
- Induced Erythrocythemia: "Blood doping."
- Inferior: Anatomically beneath, lower or toward the bottom.
- Inflammation: The body's natural response to injury in which the injury site might display various degrees of pain, swelling, heat, redness and/or loss of function.
- Innervation: The distribution/supply of nerve fibers/ impulses to a part of the body.
- Internal Rotation: Rotation of a joint or extremity medially to the inside.
- Interosseus Membrane: Uniting membrane between the tibia and fibula that forms a collagenous fibrous tissue. It has two functions; to serve as an origin for many of the muscles of the lower leg, and to transmit stress from the tibia to the fibula.
- Intrinsic: Inherent or inside.
- Iontophoresis: The use of constant direct current to drive heavy metal ions into and through the skin.
- Isokinetic Exercise: Form of active resistive exercise in which the speed of limb movement is controlled by a pre-set limiting machine, such as Cybex or Biodex.
- Isometric Contraction: Muscular contraction in which tension is developed but no mechanical work is done.
- Isotonic Contraction: A concentric or eccentric muscular contraction that results in movement of a joint or body part, as in lifting a weight.
- "Itis": Suffix connoting inflammation.

Joint Mobilization: Passive traction and/or gliding movements applied to joint surfaces that maintain or restore the joint play normally allowed by the capsul, so that the normal roll-slide joint mechanisms can occur as the player moves.

Labrum (Labrum Glenoidale): The cartilage of the glenoid cavity in the shoulder. A lip-edged or lip-like structure.

Lateral: To the outside of the body.

Lateral Collateral Ligament (LCL): Ligament of the knee along the lateral aspect that connects the femur to the fibula. It provides lateral stability to the joint.

Lesion: Wound, injury or tumor.

Ligament: Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone or bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.

Lumbar Vertebrae: Five vertebrae of the lower back that articulate with the sacrum to form the lumbosacral joint.

Lumbosacral: Region of low back comprised of lumbar and sacral spine.

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI): Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react to this pulse and through this process a computer display and permanent film establish a visual image. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc and meniscus injuries.

Manipulation: A passive movement using physiological or accessory motion which may be applied with a thrust or when the player is under anesthesia.

Maximal Aerobic Power (MAX VO 2): The maximal volume of oxygen consumed per unit of time.

Medial: To the inside of the body.

Medial Collateral Ligament: Ligament of knee along the medial aspect that connects the femur to the joint.

Menisectomy: An intra-articular surgical procedure for the knee by which all or part of the damaged meniscus is removed.

Meniscus: Crescent-shaped cartilage, usually pertaining to the knee joint; also known as "cartilage." there are two menisci in the knee, medial and lateral. These work to absorb weight within the knee and provide stability.

Metacarpals: Five long bones of the hand, running from the wrist to the fingers.

Metatarsals: Five long bones of the foot, running from the ankle to the toes.

Morbidity: An illness or abnormal condition or quality.

Morton's Neuroma: Involves the nerves and is usually the result of a trauma to the foot, causing inflammation and sharp pain, usually between the third and fourth toes.

Morton's Toe: A hereditary condition in which the second toe is longer than the first toe. This can cause mechanical imbalances which produce pain with weight bearing.

Myositis: Inflammation of a muscle.

Myositis Ossificans Traumatica: A benign ossification, usually following severe trauma to a large muscle mass.

Necrotic: Relating to death of a portion of tissue.

Neoprene: Lightweight rubber used in joint and muscle sleeves designed to provide support and/or insulation to the area.

Neuritis: Inflammation of a nerve.

Olecranon Process: Bony projection of the ulna at the tip of the elbow.

Orthotic: Any device applied to or around the body in the care of physical impairment or disability, commonly used to control foot mechanics.

Osteochondritis Dessicans: A piece of bone and/or cartilage loosened from its attachment after trauma and a cause of a lesion.

Osteomyelitis: An inflammatory disease of bone caused by infection with streptococcus or staphylococcus.

Parasthesia: Sensation of numbness or tingling, indication of nerve irritation.

Patella: The kneecap. The patella functions to protect the distal end of the femur as well as increase the mechanical advantage and force generating capacities of the quadriceps muscle group.

Patella Tendinitis: Inflammation of the patellar ligament.

Patellofemoral Joint: Articulation of the kneecap and femur.

Pectorals: Chest muscles beneath breast that lead up to the shoulder.

Phalanx: Any bone of the fingers or toes; plural is phalanges.

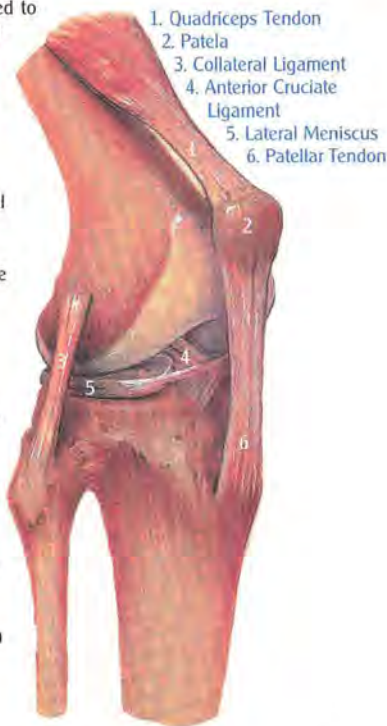

Phlebitis: Inflammation of a vein.

Phonophoresis: Technique of driving whole molecules of medication with ultrasound.

Plantar: Pertaining to the sole of the foot.

Plantarflexion: Ankle motion such that the toes are pointed toward the ground.

Plica: Fold of tissue in the joint capsule and a common result of knee injury.

Pneumothorax: Collection of air or gas in the pleural space causing lungs to collapse.

Posterior: At the back part, or rear of the body.

Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL): A primary stabilizing ligament of the knee that provides significant stability and prevents displacement of the tibia backward within the knee joint. A complete tear of this ligament necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Progressive Resistance Exercise (PRE): An approach to exercise whereby the load or resistance to the muscle is applied by some mechanical means and is quantitatively and progressively increased over time.

Pronation: In the foot, it is a combination of motions resulting in a position such that the foot is abducted and everted. Foot pronation can be a by-product of an arch problem, leg length discrepancy, or chronically bad running mechanics; can be compromised with the use of an orthotic.

Proprioceptive Neuromuscular Facilitation (PNF): An approach to therapeutic exercise based on the principles of functional human anatomy and neurophysiology.

Proximal: Near the source, nearest any point being described.

Q-Angle: Normal angle of quadriceps relative to the patella. The normal angle for males is 10 degrees.

Quadriceps Muscles: A group of four muscles of the front thigh that run from the hip and form a common tendon at the patella; they are responsible for knee extension.

Radiography: Taking of X-rays.

Radius: Forearm bone on the thumb side.

Reconstruction: Surgical rebuilding of a joint using natural, artificial or transplanted materials.

Referred Pain: Pain felt in an undamaged area of body away from the actual injury.

Resect: To cut off, or cut out a portion of a structure or organ.

Retraction: The moving of tissue to expose a part or structure of the body.

Rotator Cuff: Comprised of four muscles in the shoulder area that can be irritated by overuse. The muscles are the supraspinatus (most commonly injured), infraspinatus, teres minor and subscapularis.

SC Joint: Sternoclavicular joint; articulation of the collarbone with the sternum.

Sacroiliac: Junction of the sacrum with the hip bone.

Sacrum: Group of five fused vertebrae located just below the lumbar vertebrae of the lower back.

Scapula: Shoulder blade.

Sciatica: Irritation of the sciatic nerve resulting in pain or tingling running down the inside of the leg.

Sciatic Nerve: Major nerve that carries impulses for muscular action and sensations between the low back and thigh and lower leg; it is the longest nerve in the body.

Shin Splint: A catch-all syndrome describing pain in the shin that is not a fracture or tumor and cannot be defined otherwise.

Soft Corn: A corn, softened by moisture found beneath the toes rather than on the upper surface of the toe.

Sorbothane: An energy absorbing polyurethane utilized in some foot orthotics to absorb shock forces of the foot.

Spasm Theory: Muscle soreness induced by exercise; result of reduced muscle blood flow, which results in pain.

Spinous Process: A small projection off the posterior portion of each vertebrae that functions as an attachment site for muscles or ligaments of the spine.

Spleen: Large, solid organ responsible for the normal production and destruction of blood cells.

Spondylitis: Inflammation of one or more vertebrae.

Spondylolisthes: Forward displacement of one vertebra over another below it due to a developmental defect in the vertebrae.

Spondylosis: Abnormal vertebral fixation or immobility.

Sprain: Injury resulting from the stretch or twist of the joint which causes various degrees of stretch or tear of a ligament or other soft tissue at the joint.

Sternum: The breast bone.

Steroids: Any one of a large number of hormone-like substances.

Strain: Injury resulting from a pull or torsion to the muscle or tendon that causes various degrees of stretch or tear to the muscle or tendon tissue.

Stress Fracture: A hair-line type of break in a bone caused by overuse.

Stress X-Ray: A continual X-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed to its maximum in order to determine joint stability. This is a test utilized in some ankle injuries.

Stretching: Any therapeutic maneuver designed to elongate shortened soft tissue structures and thereby increase flexibility.

Subluxation: Partial dislocation of a joint. The term usually implies that the joint can return to its normal position without formal reduction.

Superior: In anatomy, the upper of two parts; toward the top or above.

Supination: Movement of the forearm into a palm-up position.

Synchronous: Moving or operating together at the same rate.

Synovial Fluid: Lubricating fluid for joints and tendons, produced in synovium, or the inner lining of a joint.

Synovitis: Inflammation of the synovial lining of a joint.

Talus: The ankle bone that articulates with the tibia and fibula to form the ankle joint.

Target Heart Rate: A pre-determined pulse to be obtained during exercise when circulation is working at full, efficient capacities.

Tarsals: Group of six bones of the foot consisting of the calcaneal, talus, cuboid and three cuneiform bones.

Temporomandibular Joint (TMJ): The articulation of the jawbone and skull; considered by some to be vital in resolving many of the injuries throughout the body.

Tendinitis: Inflammation of the tendon and/or the sheath, caused by chronic overuse or sudden injury.

Tendon: Tissue that connects muscle to bone.

Tennis Elbow: General term for lateral elbow strain.

Thermotherapy: Use of heat to treat a disease or disorder.

Thoracic: Group of twelve vertebrae located in the thorax and articulated with the 12 ribs.

Thoracic Outlet Compression Syndrome: A neurovascular disorder of the upper extremity common in overhead throwing.

Tibia: Larger of the two bones of lower leg and the weight-bearing bone of the shin.

Tomograph: A special type of X-ray apparatus that demonstrates an organ or tissue at a particular depth.

Trachea: The windpipe.

Transverse Process: Small lateral projection off the right and left side of each vertebra that functions as an attachment site for muscles and ligaments of the spine.

Trapezius: Flat, triangular muscle covering the posterior surface of the neck and shoulder.

Triangular Cartilage: A connective tissue characterized by its nonvascularity and firm consistency; located on the little finger side of the wrist.

Triceps: Muscle of the back of the upper arm, primarily responsible for extending the elbow.

Ulna: Forearm bone that runs from the tip of the elbow to the little finger side of the wrist.

Ulnar Nerve: Nerve in the elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing.

Ultrasonography: Process by which the reflection of high-frequency sound waves is used to develop an image of a structure.

Valgus: Angulation outward and away from the midline of the body.

Varus: Angulation inward and toward the midline of the body.

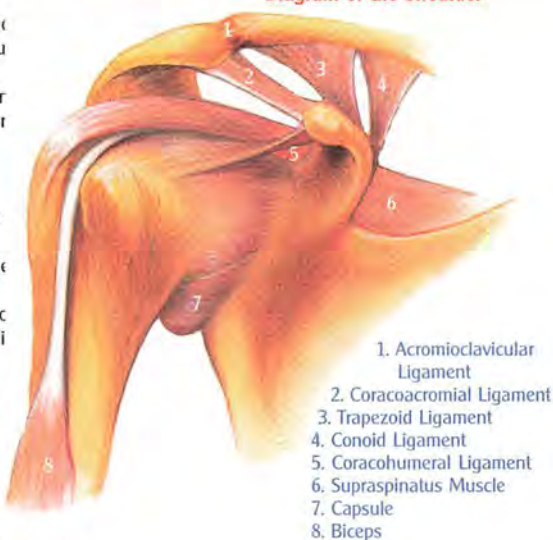

Vasoconstriction: Decrease of local blood flow.

Vasodilation: Increase of local blood flow.

"Wind Knocked Out": Syndrome describing a contraction of the abdominal nerve trunk, the solar plexus, as a result of an abdominal contusion.

Zygoma: The cheekbone.

57th ANNUAL HALL OF FAME GAME

Tampa Bay Devil Rays vs. Philadelphia Phillies

Monday, June 16 at 2 p.m. ET, Doubleday Field

HAL MCCOY EARNS J.G. TAYLOR SPINK AWARD

Dayton Daily News writer Hal McCoy has been named the 2002 J.G. Taylor Spink Award winner, presented annually by the BBWAA for meritorious contributions to baseball writing. McCoy has covered the Reds for 32 years, the longest tenure of any current beat writer on one team. He will be honored during Hall of Fame Weekend Induction Ceremonies. McCoy becomes the sixth Reds writer to receive the honor, joining Ritter Collett (1991); Earl Lawson (1985); Si Burick (1982); James Isaminger (1974) and Hugh Fullerton (1964).

REDS IN THE HALL OF FAME

A total of 35 former players, managers and executives in the Hall of Fame spent some or part of their professional careers in Cincinnati Reds uniforms. Ten of those 35 spent a majority of their careers with the Reds (Johnny Bench, Warren Giles, Ernie Lombardi, Bill McKechnie, Bid McPhee, Joe Morgan, Tony Pérez, Frank Robinson, Eppa Rixey and Edd Roush).

NOTABLE REDS ARTIFACTS AT THE HALL

- Baseball signed by the 1975 World Championship team.
- Baseball from Hall of Famer Tom Seaver's no-hitter on June 16, 1978.
- Autographed ball from the game of September 27, 1980 (Reds vs. Giants at Candlestick Park) in which Bench tied Bill Dickey's catcher's record of playing in 100 or more games for 13 consecutive seasons.
- Bat used by Joe Morgan to break the record for home runs by a second baseman with #256 on June 24, 1984.
- Cap & sun glasses worn by Edd Roush during 1931 with the Reds.
- More than 20 artifacts representing the career of all-time hits leader Pete Rose.
- Bat and baseball from home run hit by Mark Lewis, who hit the Reds ninth long-ball in a game vs. Philadelphia on September 4, 1999, setting an NL record.
- Ken Griffey Jr.'s batting helmet when he became the youngest ever to reach 400 career home runs on April 10, 2000.
- Baseball hit for a RBI-groundout by Dmitri Young that produced a run in the 182nd consecutive game for Cincinnati, setting a Major League record, April 24, 2001

HALL OF FAME ROAD TRIP

Cooperstown comes to Cincinnati in 2004 when Baseball As America opens at the Cincinnati Museum Center on August 18. The exhibit marks the first time that national treasures from the Hall of Fame and Museum will visit Cincinnati. The exhibit will run in Cincinnati from August 18-November 9. Baseball As America is a four-year, 10-city tour that will visit 10 world class museums until 2005. The national tour is sponsored by Ernst & Young. It opened in NYC in 2002.

Just like the Hall of Fame experience in Cooperstown, Baseball As America is a national celebration of America's romance with baseball. It represents the richness of baseball as the American pastime and celebrates enduring American values - freedom, patriotism, opportunity and ingenuity. Visit the tour Web site, baseballasamerica.org, for complete details.

A LOOK AHEAD TO 2004

Ballots for the 2004 Hall of Fame/BBWAA election will be distributed in early December with results from the voting scheduled to be announced in early January 2004. The Veterans Committee will not vote again until 2005. A partial list of first-year candidates for election include: Joe Carter, Dennis Eckersley, Paul Molitor and Dennis Martinez.

THE INSIDE NEWS FROM COOPERSTOWN

If you have an interest in receiving Around The Horn, the monthly media newsletter of the Hall of Fame, please send an e-mail to info@baseballhalloffame.org. Indicate if you would like it sent by e-mail or fax. If you would like to receive interesting stories and timely news items direct from the Hall of Fame and get the inside track on the latest happenings in Cooperstown, sign up for Inside Pitch. There's no cost to receive our weekly electronic newsletter in your e-mail box at home or work and it's easy to enroll: Just log on to baseballhalloffame.org.

The Hall of Fame is pleased to provide assistance in baseball research and members of the media are encouraged to utilize this valuable baseball resource when ever necessary, by calling the Public Relations department at (607) 547-0215, or the Library Reference desk at (607) 547-0330.

Spring Training Information

Ed Smith Stadium, considered one of the finest Spring Training facilities in all of Major League Baseball, is the winter home of the Cincinnati Reds.

Ed Smith Stadium and the surrounding complex is owned by the city of Sarasota, Fla., and offers a wide variety of available space. The complex consists of four Major League training fields, a practice infield and covered batting tunnels.

The stadium itself has a seating capacity of 7,500, and surrounding parking areas can accommodate 2,000 cars. Ed Smith Stadium has 6,500 armchair seats and 1,000 bleacher seats.

The Reds moved their Spring Training and Florida Instructional League operations to Sarasota in 1998 from Plant City, Fla., where the club had trained since 1987.
